60 Killed, 33 Hurt In Rail Mishap

Car Jammed With Shoppers Plunges 100 Feet In Italy

CATANZARO, Italy (AP)—Sixty persons were killed today when a railway car jammed with Christmas shoppers and workers snapped loose from the end of a train and plunged 100 feet into a river bed, police reported.

At least 33 persons were injured, many seriously.

Police originally had said 34 died and thought all bodies had been removed. Then they cut behind twisted steel and found eight more bodies. This led them to continue their grim work, fearing even more victims may be found.

The last car of a three-coach train broke loose on a trestle and crashed into rocks at the foot of a river embankment.

The train was jammed with travelers heading to Catanzaro—in Calabria in the toe of the Italian boot—for work, school and last-minute Christmas shopping.

More than 80 persons were in the death car.

It came loose as the train was crossing a bridge on the River Fiumarella just outside Catanzaro.

The first two cars—one a self-propelled diesel passenger car that was pulling the others—continued across the bridge.

The third had barely touched the bridge when it went off the tracks and plunged to the rocky river bed.

The train was traveling from Soveria-Mannelli to Catanzaro, a distance of 25 miles.

Soldiers joined police and firemen in the hours-long rescue operations in a steady rain.

Hospitals in this town of 27,907 in southern Italy sent out calls for blood donors. Doctors and nurses who had started vacations were called back to reinforce the holiday medical staffs. Catanzaro is in the La Sila foothills overlooking the Gulf of Squillance.

Villagers bound for last-minute Christmas shopping sprees in Catanzaro were packed in the diesel-powered train.

It rounded a curve and roared across the small river Fiumarella between here and Soveria-Mannelli. Two cars got across but the third twisted loose, toppled over the side of the bridge and carried victims to their deaths.

Georgetown Home Razed

Wife Treated For Shock After Blaze

The rural home of a Georgetown couple was destroyed by fire about 7:30 a. m. today.

The blaze leveled the five-room home of Mr. and Mrs. William Winters of Georgetwon R. D. 1, located on Gas Valley Rd. off Route 168. Mrs. Winters, who was alone at the time, was taken to a physician for treatment for shock.

Her husband had left shortly before for work at the Koppers Co. plant at Kobuta. He had fired the coal furnace and it is believed that it became overheated, causing the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weitner, neighbors, heard Mrs. Winters screaming for aid. She was outside the home at the time but it was filled with smoke and burning rapidly.

The entire story and a half frame home was in flames when firemen from the Shippingport and Hookstown volunteer departments arrived. Nothing was saved.

Mrs. Winters said she awoke and smelled smoke, then discovered the fire.

Nothing was left standing but the foundation. Firemen still were at the scene of the smouldering ruins at 9:30. The loss was not estimated.

Commissioners Cut Courthouse Budget By 15%

LISBON — A 15 per cent slash in all operating funds for Columbiana County government departments — from Common Pleas Court to the agriculture extension office — has been ordered by county commissioners to help meet a sharply reduced budget for 1962.

Commissioners Walter Hunston, Galen Greenisen and Frank Wilson, at a meeting with press representatives Friday afternoon, said the cuts in department funds were required because the $1,040,000 general fund appropriation set for next year is down $89,327 from the present budget.

The commissioners said they have been working on plans for fund appropriations since the Nov. 7 general election defeat of two county levies — one an eight-tenths of a mill measure for county operations and another for seven-tenths of a mill for the County Home. Both are to be resubmitted on the May primary ballot.

At the meeting yesterday, commissioners said they decided they were not in a position to determine what services or operating funds should be trimmed for one department more than another, so the flat 15 per cent reduction was ordered.

Office holders had requested funds totaling $260,195 over the anticipated revenue, commissioners said.

The cut for the Common Pleas Court came as a surprise to some quarters, previously court allotments have been largely granted as requested.

Commissioners said the heads of each departments will have to determine what services and operating cutbacks will be made under their reduced funds.

Commissioners claim they are working with 1935 appropriations and they have no reserve as they have had in the past and the carryover is small, so the overall cut was necessary to balance the 1962 budget.

Records show that one reason for this condition is that in 1960 some $180,000 was spent over what was received and in 1961 expenditures were approximately $100,000 more than revenues, so the cut is necessary since there is only a $10,000 carryover.

A breakdown showing the 1962 amount and 1961 and 1954 figures follows:

County commissioners — $43,386, $47,635, $31,884; county auditor — $63,427, $73,118, $68,569; county treasurer — $41,577, $44,800, $35,251; prosecuting attorney — $26,161, $29,294, $15,499; county courts — $36,474, $41,184 (none in 1954); Court of Appeals, $600, $600, $900; Common Pleas Court — $74,260, $84,969, $51,895; Juvenile Court — $19,372, $22,240, $12,860.

Probate court — $45,840, $51,422, $35,069; clerk of courts —

Deaths Mount In Collisions On Highways

106 Fatalities Reported In Early Hours Of Holiday

Traffic	106
Fires	8

Total	120

By The Associated Press

The death toll from highways mishaps edged steadily upward today in the opening hours of the three-day Christmas holiday weekend.

In the first few hours of the period, which began at 6 p.m. local time Friday night, more than 70 persons have died in traffic mishaps.

The first victim of the holiday weekend was Mrs. Cora Marcotte, 31, of Littleton, N.H., who died in a two car crash while in route to Rhode Island to spend Christmas with relatives. Her husband and daughter were injured.

The National Safety Council estimates almost all of the 76-million motor vehicles in the United States will be used for travel at some time during the long weekend. The blizzards in the Midwest and Northern Plains may reduce the figure somewhat.

The record toll for a three-day Christmas weekend is 609, set in 1955. The record for any holiday period was the four-day Christmas period in 1956 when 706 persons died in highway mishaps.

The council estimated that 500 Americans might die in traffic accidents during the tally period that ends at midnight Monday.

Penn-Lincoln Crash Kills 2 Motorists

PITTSBURGH — Two motorists were killed instantly Friday midnight in a violent head - on collision on the Penn-Lincoln Parkway West in Greentree.

Killed in the collision were Elmer Fox, 35, of Coraopolis and William Cammarata, 38, of Bloomfield.

Pennsylvania State Police said Mr. Fox's westbound car went off the roadway, struck guardrails and then careened across the divider.

U.S., British To Take Lead In Berlin Bid

Envoy In Moscow Due Orders After 'Big 2' Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—In about one week, orders will go to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow to take the lead in a new U.S.-British effort to promote East-West negotiations on Berlin.

Some months hence, the United States may announce, with Britain's backing, the resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

These were highlights emerging from the two-day Bermuda meeting between President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that ended Friday.

While Macmillan returned to London with his top aides, Kennedy went to Palm Beach, Fla. Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed for Washington to work on the agreed diplomatic moves.

Kennedy and Macmillan were reported to be pleased with the results of their fourth meeting, a relaxed get-together at Bermuda's Government House. Both were said to have found much to concur in and little to disagree over.

Kennedy was described as convinced the United States could take positive steps toward easing East-West tensions without disrupting the Atlantic alliance.

Macmillan was portrayed as hopeful that progress toward a peaceful solution of the Berlin situation would soon be made.

A 600-word communique from authoritative sources at the conclusion of the talks underscored the following points.

Kennedy and Macmillan agreed that the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn Thompson, will act first in approaching Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko "to ascertain whether a reasonable basis for negotiation can be found." Thompson is slated to get his instructions late next week or early the following week.

Britain's ambassador to Russia, Frank Roberts, will follow Thompson in "whatever part might be found helpful."

Auto Injures Chester Child

Boy Runs Into Path Of City Driver's Car

A 12-year-old Chester area boy is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car in Chester Friday afternoon at 2:58.

Police Chief Harold Davis said Barry Watson of Chester R. D. 1 was hit by a car driven by Charles E. Howell, 50, of 725 Avondale St., after alighting from a car driven by his father, William Watson, on Carolina Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts.

The father had halted in the line of traffic. The boy got out and ran around the front of his father's car and started across the street. He darted into the path of the Howell car, witnesses told police.

The youth suffered contusions of the abdomen and shock.

Howell told police he was traveling about 25 to 30 miles - an-hour. Davis said skid marks indicated he was not traveling very fast.

10 Deaths Reported In Snowstorm

Travelers, School Children Stranded In Mid-Continent

By The Associated Press

A snowstorm swept across the Midwest today, stranding hundreds of school children and Christmas holiday travelers.

It swirled eastward, rearing drifts and raising fears for what the snowplows may uncover when they reach trapped vehicles.

At least 10 deaths were reported.

"We figure there are more than 200 persons stranded within a 20-mile radius of Maryville (Mo.)," said Sheriff James Tucker. "I don't know what we'll find when the snowplows get through."

Drifts up to seven feet high blocked roads in northwestern Missouri. Hundreds of motorists and school children jammed into farm houses and service stations or huddled in stalled automobiles in that area.

The snow ranged up to 10 inches in Iowa and 12 in Illinois as blinding snow whipped eastward from the plains region into the Great Lakes area and the Ohio Valley.

"There are 50 people in the home of a man named Lightfoot about three miles north of Maryville," Sheriff Tucker reported.

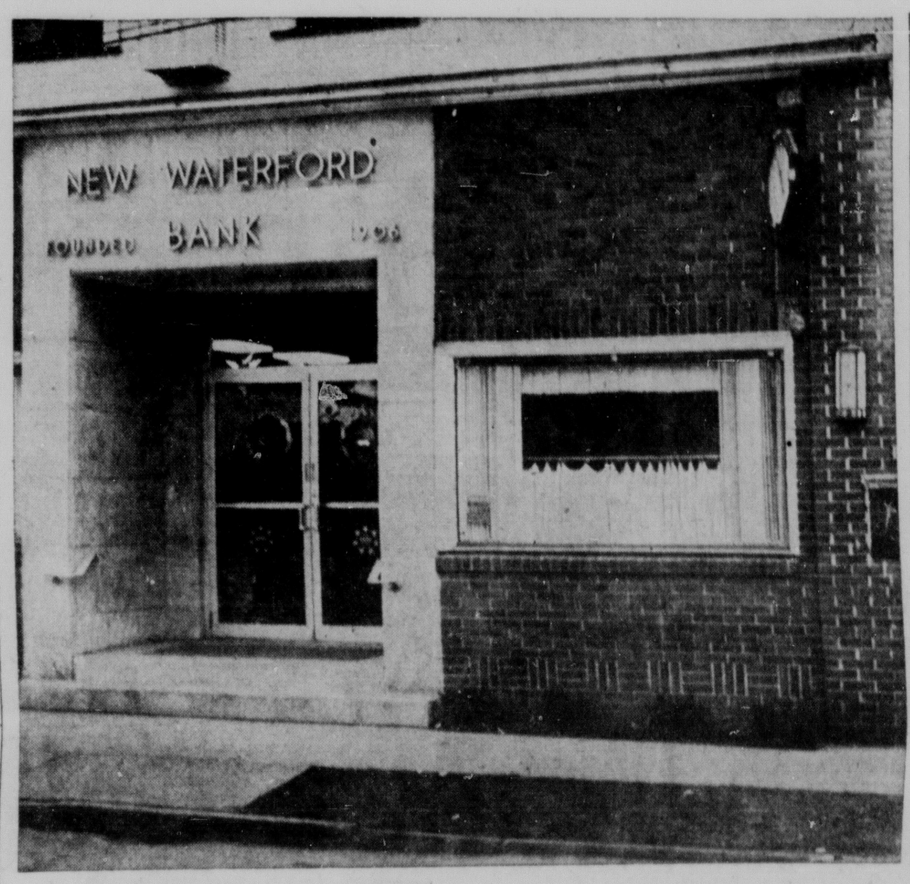
"There are 75 at a service station two miles north of town."

Twenty-five youngsters were marooned in the Quitman, Mo., school. About 50 pupils spent the night with residents of Grant City, Mo.

Two snowplows and a road grader bucked drifts in an effort to reach an expectant mother near Pickering, Mo.

Across the border a blizzard dumped more than 10 inches of snow in central and southern Iowa in what rated as the worst storm in 11 years.

Dozens of farm houses rang with the voices of hundreds of school kids who found shelter with strangers.



AN ARMED HOLDUP of the 55-year-old New Waterford Bank at New Waterford disrupted the quiet, holiday atmosphere of the small Columbiana County village Friday night. Two masked gunmen entered through the front of the bank, shown here, and escaped with $25,000 in cash. The holdup was the second in seven years for the bank. Four gunmen got $16,500 in 1954 but were later apprehended by police in Youngstown. Officials believe the holdup last night at 7:29 was by two professionals."

9 Of Staff Forced To Lie On Floor

Robbers Described As 'Professionals' Make Clean Escape

A widespread search by agents of the FBI and area law enforcement agencies was under way today for two men who apparently made a clean getaway after robbing the New Waterford Bank at New Waterford of $25,000 Friday night at 7:29.

Wearing hooded sweaters which had been reversed to partly cover their faces, the two forced nine of 11 employes and seven customers in the bank to lie on the floor. One was carrying a sawed-off shotgun and the other a .45-caliber automatic.

Bank officials immediately notified the FBI and then phoned the Columbiana County sheriff's office at Lisbon. The sheriff logged the call at 7:38 p. m.

The bank was preparing to close for the night when the two walked in. Charles E. Koch, manager, said one of the men "told us 'not to sound any alarm or there would be some shooting'."

Employes of the 55-year-old bank followed closely the orders barked by the professional - type bandits who "very calmly and smoothly" lifted the day's receipts from the cash drawers of the tellers.

The tellers said the bandits rifled three unlocked cash drawers and obtained the keys for two others. Finding two drawers locked, one said, "Allright, whose drawer is this?" and ordered the particular teller to hand over the key.

The two entered the bank just at closing time, and said: "This is a bank holdup. Everybody get down on the floor and don't look up."

One man brandishing a pistol then jumped over the counter and began lifting currency from the drawers. As they took the money, they calmly kept ordering those in the bank to remain on the floor.

Tellers who were confronted by the gunmen included Miss Marge Ruppert, Mrs. Shirley Custer, Les McConville, Miss Mary Louise Grappo, in addition to Charles Brooks, loan manager, and Mrs. Betty Robb, assistant cashier.

Robert Kaiser of Columbiana, who was dressed as Santa Claus and sitting in a chair in the lobby, watched the holdup in progress until he was seen by the bandits and ordered to keep out of their way.

Miss Mary Parker, another bank employe, ducked under her desk when she saw the bandits enter the door. Once she looked up and was ordered to "keep your head down."

Miss Barbara Streng, one of three bookkeepers, happened to be

Spirit Of Season Rises

Troubled World Waits Christmas

By JAMES D. BOWMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The spirit of Christmas rose over a troubled world today despite anxiety and apprehension that cast shadows over far points of the globe.

There was a gaiety and sadness, humor and frustration — but an overtone of faith in mankind and hopes for peace were evident with the approach of the day of observance of the birth of Christ.

The first snow of the season fell on Berlin bringing prospects for the city's first White Christmas in 20 years.

Along the Communist wall, 800 lighted Christmas trees glittered through the falling snowflakes and muted the starkness of the brick and wire barrier. The trees —sent from all over western Europe—irked one leader of the Red East German regime who complained, "They serve the cold war."

West Berliners showered the 11,000 U.S., British and French garrisons with Christmas dinner invitations, the Americans high in demand.

President Kennedy, who returned to Palm Beach, Fla., Friday from Bermuda talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, will send Christmas greetings to West Berliners and other European citizens in a European television broadcast Christmas night.

Festival Of Nativity

Services For Christmas Will Begin Sunday Night

Christmas Eve services, ushering in the festival of the Nativity of Christ, will be conducted in numerous churches in the East Liverpool district Sunday night.

In many sanctuaries, decorated with colored lights, poinsettias and pines, the rite of Holy Communion will be celebrated.

"Silent Night," "Adeste Fidelis," and "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" and other traditional Christmas carols will be sung by choirs and choruses.

A number of churches will begin the celebration tomorrow morning with a variety of special presentations, recapturing the aura of expectancy of that first Christmas.

Catholics of the district will begin the observance with a Solemn High Mass at midnight featuring special Christmas music.

Christmas Eve will also find many churches, especially groups of young people, spreading Christmas cheer with caroling at the homes of shut-ins.

At the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Holy Communion and candelighting service will be held Christmas Eve at 8 and will feature the Cantata Choir singing the gradual and offertory. A soprano solo will be presented by Mrs. Ann Stewart Kerr.

The Christmas message will be given by the Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister.

Election Cost Charge-Back Aids County

$26,601 Assessed For Subdivisions Due General Fund

The general fund of the hard-pressed county treasury will receive a year-end "windfall" of $26,601 in the apportionment of costs of the Nov. 7 general election certified by the Election Board to County Auditor Kenneth Bell to be withheld from the next tax settlement due the cities, villages, townships and school districts.

The charge-backs against future tax receipts are made after each election, in effect "billing" the local subdivisions for the major portion of the voting costs.

The expenses already have been paid out of the 1961 appropriation allowed the Election Board and the amounts withheld from taxes will go into the county's general fund, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained.

The overall expense of the general election was $32,386. With the county assuming $5,784 — including the cost of poll books — it left the $26,601 to be charged against the subdivisions.

Cities and villages will pay $7,364, townships will be charged $6,968 and school districts will be charged $12,268. The portion assumed by the county includes $3,194 for ballots on state amendments, $2,286 for ballots on countywide levies and $303.28 for legal advertising of the special issues.

The charges assessed against the subdivisions include the cost of compensation of precinct judges and clerks; rental of polling places, ballot printing and miscellaneous expenses.

The total amount charged against East Liverpool and East Liverpool School District is $6,530.14. The charge-back against

Car Jammed With Shoppers Plunges 100 Feet In Italy

CATANZARO, Italy (AP)—Sixty persons were killed today when a railway car jammed with Christmas shoppers and workers snapped loose from the end of a train and plunged 100 feet into a river bed, police reported.

At least 33 persons were injured, many seriously.

Police originally had said 34 died and thought all bodies had been removed. Then they cut behind twisted steel and found eight more bodies. This led them to continue their grim work, fearing even more victims may be found.

All Offices Slashed

Commissioners Cut Courthouse Budget By 15%

LISBON — A 15 per cent slash in all operating funds for Columbiana County government departments — from Common Pleas Court to the agriculture extension office — has been ordered by county commissioners to help meet a sharply reduced budget for 1962.

Commissioners Walter Hunston, Galen Greenisen and Frank Wilson, at a meeting with press representatives Friday afternoon, said the cuts in department funds were required because the $1,040,000 general fund appropriation set for next year is down $89,327 from the present budget.

The commissioners said they have been working on plans for fund appropriations since the Nov. 7 general election defeat of two county levies — one an eight-tenths of a mill measure for county operations and another for seven-tenths of a mill for the County Home. Both are to be resubmitted on the May primary ballot.

At the meeting yesterday, commissioners said they decided they were not in a position to determine what services or operating funds should be trimmed for one department more than another, so the flat 15 per cent reduction was ordered.

Office holders had requested funds totaling $260,195 over the anticipated revenue, commissioners said.

The cut for the Common Pleas Court came as a surprise to some quarters, previously court allotments have been largely granted as requested.

Commissioners said the heads of each departments will have to determine what services and operating cutbacks will be made under their reduced funds.

Commissioners claim they are working with 1935 appropriations and they have no reserve as they have had in the past and the carryover is small, so the overall cut was necessary to balance the 1962 budget.

Records show that one reason for this condition is that in 1960 some $180,000 was spent over what was received and in 1961 expenditures were approximately $100,000 more than revenues, so the cut is necessary since there is only a $10,000 carryover.

A breakdown showing the 1962 amount and 1961 and 1954 figures follows:

County commissioners — $43,386, $47,635, $31,884; county auditor — $63,427, $73,118, $68,569; county treasurer — $41,577, $44,800, $35,251; prosecuting attorney — $26,161, $29,294, $15,499; county courts — $36,474, $41,184 (none in 1954); Court of Appeals, $600, $600, $900; Common Pleas Court — $74,260, $84,969, $51,895; Juvenile Court — $19,372, $22,240, $12,860.

The death toll from highways mishaps edged steadily upward today in the opening hours of the three-day Christmas holiday weekend.

In the first few hours of the period, which began at 6 p.m. local time Friday night, more than 70 persons have died in traffic mishaps.

The first victim of the holiday weekend was Mrs. Cora Marcotte, 31, of Littleton, N.H., who died in a two car crash while in route to Rhode Island to spend Christmas with relatives. Her husband and daughter were injured.

The National Safety Council estimates almost all of the 76-million motor vehicles in the United States will be used for travel at some time during the long weekend. The blizzards in the Midwest and Northern Plains may reduce the figure somewhat.

The record toll for a three-day Christmas weekend is 609, set in 1955. The record for any holiday period was the four-day Christmas period in 1956 when 706 persons died in highway mishaps.

The council estimated that 500 Americans might die in traffic accidents during the tally period that ends at midnight Monday.

Auto Injures Chester Child

Boy Runs Into Path Of City Driver's Car

A 12-year-old Chester area boy is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car in Chester Friday afternoon at 2:58.

Police Chief Harold Davis said Barry Watson of Chester R. D. 1 was hit by a car driven by Charles E. Howell, 50, of 725 Avondale St., after alighting from a car driven by his father, William Watson, on Carolina Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts.

The father had halted in the line of traffic. The boy got out and ran around the front of his father's car and started across the street. He darted into the path of the Howell car, witnesses told police.

The youth suffered contusions of the abdomen and shock.

Howell told police he was traveling about 25 to 30 miles - an-hour. Davis said skid marks indicated he was not traveling very fast.

10 Deaths Reported In Snowstorm

Travelers, School Children Stranded In Mid-Continent

By The Associated Press

A snowstorm swept across the Midwest today, stranding hundreds of school children and Christmas holiday travelers.

It swirled eastward, rearing drifts and raising fears for what the snowplows may uncover when they reach trapped vehicles.

At least 10 deaths were reported.

"We figure there are more than 200 persons stranded within a 20-mile radius of Maryville (Mo.)," said Sheriff James Tucker. "I don't know what we'll find when the snowplows get through."

Drifts up to seven feet high blocked roads in northwestern Missouri. Hundreds of motorists and school children jammed into farm houses and service stations or huddled in stalled automobiles in that area.

The snow ranged up to 10 inches in Iowa and 12 in Illinois as blinding snow whipped eastward from the plains region into the Great Lakes area and the Ohio Valley.

"There are 50 people in the home of a man named Lightfoot about three miles north of Maryville," Sheriff Tucker reported.

"There are 75 at a service station two miles north of town."

Twenty-five youngsters were marooned in the Quitman, Mo., school. About 50 pupils spent the night with residents of Grant City, Mo.

Two snowplows and a road grader bucked drifts in an effort to reach an expectant mother near Pickering, Mo.

Across the border a blizzard dumped more than 10 inches of snow in central and southern Iowa in what rated as the worst storm in 11 years.

Dozens of farm houses rang with the voices of hundreds of school kids who found shelter with strangers.

AN ARMED HOLDUP of the 55-year-old New Waterford Bank at New Waterford disrupted the quiet, holiday atmosphere of the small Columbiana County village Friday night. Two masked gunmen entered through the front of the bank, shown here, and escaped with $25,000 in cash. The holdup was the second in seven years for the bank. Four gunmen got $16,500 in 1954 but were later apprehended by police in Youngstown. Officials believe the holdup last night at 7:29 was by two professionals."

9 Of Staff Forced To Lie On Floor

Robbers Described As 'Professionals' Make Clean Escape

A widespread search by agents of the FBI and area law enforcement agencies was under way today for two men who apparently made a clean getaway after robbing the New Waterford Bank at New Waterford of $25,000 Friday night at 7:29.

Wearing hooded sweaters which had been reversed to partly cover their faces, the two forced nine of 11 employes and seven customers in the bank to lie on the floor. One was carrying a sawed-off shotgun and the other a .45-caliber automatic.

Bank officials immediately notified the FBI and then phoned the Columbiana County sheriff's office at Lisbon. The sheriff logged the call at 7:38 p. m.

The bank was preparing to close for the night when the two walked in. Charles E. Koch, manager, said one of the men "told us 'not to sound any alarm or there would be some shooting'."

Employes of the 55-year-old bank followed closely the orders barked by the professional - type bandits who "very calmly and smoothly" lifted the day's receipts from the cash drawers of the tellers.

The tellers said the bandits rifled three unlocked cash drawers and obtained the keys for two others. Finding two drawers locked, one said, "Allright, whose drawer is this?" and ordered the particular teller to hand over the key.

The two entered the bank just at closing time, and said: "This is a bank holdup. Everybody get down on the floor and don't look up."

One man brandishing a pistol then jumped over the counter and began lifting currency from the drawers. As they took the money, they calmly kept ordering those in the bank to remain on the floor.

Tellers who were confronted by the gunmen included Miss Marge Ruppert, Mrs. Shirley Custer, Les McConville, Miss Mary Louise Grappo, in addition to Charles Brooks, loan manager, and Mrs. Betty Robb, assistant cashier.

Robert Kaiser of Columbiana, who was dressed as Santa Claus and sitting in a chair in the lobby, watched the holdup in progress until he was seen by the bandits and ordered to keep out of their way.

Miss Mary Parker, another bank employe, ducked under her desk when she saw the bandits enter the door. Once she looked up and was ordered to "keep your head down."

Miss Barbara Streng, one of three bookkeepers, happened to be

Spirit Of Season Rises

Troubled World Waits Christmas

By JAMES D. BOWMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The spirit of Christmas rose over a troubled world today despite anxiety and apprehension that cast shadows over far points of the globe.

There was a gaiety and sadness, humor and frustration — but an overtone of faith in mankind and hopes for peace were evident with the approach of the day of observance of the birth of Christ.

The first snow of the season fell on Berlin bringing prospects for the city's first White Christmas in 20 years.

Along the Communist wall, 800 lighted Christmas trees glittered through the falling snowflakes and muted the starkness of the brick and wire barrier. The trees —sent from all over western Europe—irked one leader of the Red East German regime who complained, "They serve the cold war."

West Berliners showered the 11,000 U.S., British and French garrisons with Christmas dinner invitations, the Americans high in demand.

President Kennedy, who returned to Palm Beach, Fla., Friday from Bermuda talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, will send Christmas greetings to West Berliners and other European citizens in a European television broadcast Christmas night.

Elsewhere about the world, many cast aside everyday routine

Festival Of Nativity

Services For Christmas Will Begin Sunday Night

Christmas Eve services, ushering in the festival of the Nativity of Christ, will be conducted in numerous churches in the East Liverpool district Sunday night.

In many sanctuaries, decorated with colored lights, poinsettias and pines, the rite of Holy Communion will be celebrated.

"Silent Night," "Adeste Fidelis," and "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" and other traditional Christmas carols will be sung by choirs and choruses.

A number of churches will begin the celebration tomorrow morning with a variety of special presentations, recapturing the aura of expectancy of that first Christmas.

Catholics of the district will begin the observance with a Solemn High Mass at midnight featuring special Christmas music.

Christmas Eve will also find many churches, especially groups of young people, spreading Christmas cheer with caroling at the homes of shut-ins.

At the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Holy Communion and candelighting service will be held Christmas Eve at 8 and will feature the Cantata Choir singing the gradual and offertory. A soprano solo will be presented by Mrs. Ann Stewart Kerr.

The Christmas message will be given by the Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister.

$26,601 Assessed For Subdivisions Due General Fund

The general fund of the hard-pressed county treasury will receive a year-end "windfall" of $26,601 in the apportionment of costs of the Nov. 7 general election certified by the Election Board to County Auditor Kenneth Bell to be withheld from the next tax settlement due the cities, villages, townships and school districts.

The charge-backs against future tax receipts are made after each election, in effect "billing" the local subdivisions for the major portion of the voting costs.

The expenses already have been paid out of the 1961 appropriation allowed the Election Board and the amounts withheld from taxes will go into the county's general fund, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained.

The overall expense of the general election was $32,386. With the county assuming $5,784 — including the cost of poll books — it left the $26,601 to be charged against the subdivisions.

Cities and villages will pay $7,364, townships will be charged $6,968 and school districts will be charged $12,268. The portion assumed by the county includes $3,194 for ballots on state amendments, $2,286 for ballots on countywide levies and $303.28 for legal advertising of the special issues.

The charges assessed against the subdivisions include the cost of compensation of precinct judges and clerks; rental of polling places, ballot printing and miscellaneous expenses.

The total amount charged against East Liverpool and East Liverpool School District is $6,530.14. The charge-back against

The Christmas Story...

On that night many years ago, as white stars glittered and angels' voices rang out triumphantly to proclaim his coming, there was born unto mankind, a Saviour. Humble shepherds, gathered in the fields tending their flocks, heard the message and came in haste to visit the babe lying in a manger, and they were filled with joy.

Far to the East, the Wise Men saw the great Star of Bethlehem and they followed it to where the Young Child was, bringing rare and precious gifts in their adoration.

Across the ages, the ever-wonderful story of the birth of Christ inspires mankind with a feeling of new hope. Today, in the spirit of the Holy Season, it is for us to rededicate ourselves to His teachings and humbly pray that the ideal of brotherhood will light the way to a lasting peace in this troubled world.

Let us rejoice in the true meaning of Christmas with sincere reverence and harken to the words of the angel, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

EAST PALESTINE — Edward C. Garside, 299 E. Taggart St., retired mail carrier, died at 4:15 a. m. today at Salem City Hospital, where he had been admitted Friday night. He was 71.

Mr. Garside was born Jan. 25, 1890, in Salineville, to John and Jennie Spence Garside. He resided here 65 years. He served as a mail carrier for the East Palestine Post Office for 35 years, retiring in 1948. Mr. Garside also was a director of the East Palestine Savings & Loan Association, a director of the East Palestine Cemetery Association and a first aid instructor for the Columbiana County Red Cross.

He was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, the Masonic Lodge and the Odd Fellows. He was married Dec. 5, 1914, to the former Christina Spalding, who survives at home.

Other survivors include a son, Kenneth Garside of Mt. Lebanon; three sisters, Mrs. Verne Ward of Petersburg, Mrs. Marie Henderson of Ashtabula and Mrs. Pearl Schafer of Akron; a brother, Harry Garside of East Palestine, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Oliver Funeral Home by the Rev. Chalmers Goshorn. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening.

Mrs. J. O. Bell

Mrs. Lulu Bell of Bedford, wife of J. O. Bell, died Friday morning at a rest home in Cleveland following a long illness. Her husband is also a patient at the rest home.

A native of West Virginia, she and her husband lived many years in Wellsville and left about five years ago to reside in Bedford. She was a member of the Wellsville First Christian Church, its Loyal Women's Class and the Women's Missionary Society and was a charter member of the Ladies Aid Society.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a son, Lester Bell of Memphis, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. Stacey Hill of Cleveland and Mrs. Fay Chapman of Cincinnati, and several nephews and nieces.

Services will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Johnson Funeral Home in Bedford with burial there.

Clarence Martin

Clarence R. Martin, 68, of Negley, a retired glassworker, died this morning at 4 at City Hospital, following a long illness. He had been in the hospital for three days.

He resided with a nephew, Elmer Martin.

He was born in Mannington, W. Va., Feb. 28, 1893, to Jacob Martin and Mary Garrett Martin. He resided in Negley for 10 years and was a member of the Church of God in Dunbar, W. Va.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Chessie Sturgeon of Mannington, and two brothers, James Martin of Dunbar and Riley Martin of Wellston, Ohio. His wife, Mrs. Thelma Westfall Martin, died in 1956.

Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Van Dyke Funeral Home in East Palestine by the Rev. Walter Eddy, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Struthers. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery in East Palestine.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. English Lampkin

Services for Mrs. English Lampkin, 78, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, who died Friday morning in the Rochester General Hospital, will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland by the Rev. Eugene Robinson, pastor of the Methodist Church in Minerva. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

She was born Dec. 23, 1882, in Chatham, Va., and resided on a farm in Ohio Township since 1922. She was a member of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Masontown, Pa.

She is survived by a son, Harvey Lampkin of Smiths Ferry; six daughters, Mrs. Isabelle Jordan of Masontown, Mrs. Callie Euill of Wellsville, Mrs. Lucy Blackburn of Cleveland, Mrs. Ellen Walsh of Louisiana, Mrs. Addie Lincoln of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Bertha Jarrett of Smiths Ferry, and 21 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Her husband, Grief Lampkin, died in 1952.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Sunday.

Ralph Duncan

Services for Ralph H. Duncan of 7th Ave., LaCroft, who died Thursday at City Hospital, will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Frank Moon

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Della Moon, 708 Park Ave., died at 9 a. m. today at Salem Central Clinic, where she had been a patient since Dec. 11. She was 70.

Mrs. Moon was born Nov. 24, 1892, at New Castle, to Adam and Rebecca Schoaff Ketler. She was a member of the New Waterford Methodist Church. She was married March 4, 1914, to Frank Moon, who survives at home.

Dog Too Badly Hurt For It To Survive

Because of severe injuries apparently suffered when hit by a car on Pennsylvania Ave. near Wedgewood St., a Basset hound was put to sleep Friday night after the ownership was traced to an East End man.

The 2-year-old hound was found early Friday by Dog Warden Robert Croyle, who took him to a veterinarian and then succeeded in tracing the ownership to Mike Mikita of Ruth St.

Mikita conferred with the veterinarian and learned the hound suffered head and spinal injuries. It apparently had been paralyzed, Croyle said.

Using an Allegheny County dog tag on the animal's collar, Croyle traced the ownership to J. L. Zagrapan of Breckinridge, Pa. Contacting the Breckenridge man, the dog warden learned he had given the hound to Mikita.

Police Locate Entry Method For Burglary

Continuing an investigation of an attempted safe burglary at the Interstate Motor Freight System garage on Pennsylvania Ave., police learned Friday afternoon that the intruders entered the big building via a window in a washroom on the north side, Capt. Robert H. Pyle said.

Since no sign of forcible entry was found in the initial investigation Friday morning, police suspected the would-be safe-crackers had hidden in the building before it closed Thursday midnight and then attacked the walk-in type safe.

The broken window was discovered later in a restroom which sits in an offset in the extreme north end of the building, the captain said. The intruders pried off board nailed over the outside and then broke a pane of glass about 24-x-18 inches, he said.

The amateurish burglars attempted to open the safe by using the company's own acetylene torch and by battering at the combination dial and the door handle with a hammer. They also tried unsuccessfully to pry open the door with a crowbar.

Knowing little about the use of the acetylene equipment, the burglars used a welding tip instead of a burning tip on the torch, the captain said. The flame heated and burned the metal door of the safe, but did not cut through as would have been the case with the proper tip, he explained.

East End Man Held On 2 Counts

An East End man apparently will spend Christmas in jail unless he can post bond on two charges filed by police after he rammed his fist through the window of a Broadway tavern and then had to be subdued by officers.

Marvin Lafferty, 54, of 2129 Hazel Alley is being held in city jail on charges of intoxication and resisting arrest after being taken into custody at the Roma Cafe, 223 Broadway, at 2:05 a.m. today, police said.

Tony Tangredi, cafe operator, said Lafferty rammed his fist through a 24-by-60-inch window in the front door after being arrested for intoxication.

Lafferty was taken to City Hospital by police where he was treated for an abrasion of the right eyebrow and lacerations of two fingers on his hand.

5 Drown, 50 Missing As Launch Capsizes

MANILA (AP)—A motor launch with more than 100 persons aboard capsized in a Mindanao Island Bay today and the Philippine News Service said at least 5 persons drowned and 50 were missing.

Survivors said the vessel, the 20-ton "Baby Anita," overturned after being swamped by huge waves in Panguil Bay. About 25 of the passengers were believed to be children.

Authorities launched an extensive air and sea rescue operation.

Forget Most Of Your Troubles

Let there be no talk of Christmas being celebrated this year in a time of unusual trouble. Trouble, yes. Unusual trouble, no.

Men should forget most of their troubles at Christmas, especially those they have taken on their shoulders as voluntary burdens.

The first Christmas was a time of trouble, and things have not changed. Human being still can be summoned to pay taxes. Travelers still can beg for a place to rest. Mary was not the first woman to bear a child unattended in a lonely place and certainly was not the last.

THE PREACHING of Jesus and the wisdom that underlay his words were to show men how to endure trouble. It ill behooves Christians to take unusual credit for bearing their troubles bravely.

There are no unprecedented troubles.

Anyone going through the endless list of troubles that have existed at Christmas time must be convinced before he has gone beyond a century that men have been endlessly brave to put up with so much anguish. But if he has understood the legacy of Jesus Christ to mankind, he can see it was an inspired formula for bearing trouble.

THERE IS nothing unusual about the breadth, depth, variety or the intensity of trouble this Christmas.

Peace on earth is what it always has been — a wish, not a condition.

There will be peace on earth only when there is peace in men's minds.

There can be no peace in men's minds until they understand the philosophy of Jesus.

Few who are familiar with the words of the Great Teacher have shown real understanding of the surpassing love that prompted his teaching. This is still a world bristling with hate.

It has grown neither worse nor better in the instant of time the Christian era represents in the span of the earth's existence.

NO ONE can claim special credit for sustaining courage under any extraordinary hardship in 1961. No one whose senses are balanced can justify a deeper than usual solemnity when looking forward to 1962.

It is the same earth and the same people.

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed . . . And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city."

The same earth and the same people . . .

Men still hate and love one another. They bear both false and true witness. They must be forgiven for doing what they don't know they do as well as for doing what they do with malicious intent.

THERE IS need for wisdom that can see things whole.

There is need for tolerance, for hope, for faith, for charity, as there has been all through years past.

These are the rewards of Christian faith for those who want to share them.

There is trouble but no unusual trouble, only the kind of trouble that the Man of Galilee taught his followers to deal with as part of the routine of Christian living.

The Power Of Faith

by Howard Brodie

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Nehru Never Will Be The Same

India's Prime Minister Nehru never will be the same after his strong-arm routing of Portugese colonialism. The man of peace — the great neutralist — acted out of character.

His character has been lined out for him by others. His personal acts were something else. In them he was capable of being utterly harsh and ruthless, as he was in his handling of the trouble with Pakistan.

He was capable of being coldly realistic, as he was in his timing of the showdown on Portugese colonialism to make the maximum impact on voters before the February election. India wanted Portugal to be routed. Diplomatic relations had been ruptured by the quarrel five years ago.

Nehru was the hard-bitten statesman who could exploit his reputation as a neutralist by playing off the United States against the Soviet Union and vice versa. He was the urbane visitor who could drop in on Peiping, Cairo, Moscow, London, Washington and Tokyo and feel at home in each place.

It would be helpful for other would-be heads of government to know how a man confronted with so many chances to shatter his public image as an ascetic walking in the footsteps of Mohandas H. Gandhi managed to preserve the image while being something else entirely.

But he did, and when he finally shattered the illusion the disenchantment was as great as it was when Anthony Eden, Briton's "thinking machine" who had been prepared for a lifetime to supply the right answer when the right button was pushed, spewed out the wrong answer about Suez.

The shock of seeing the always poised and polished protege of Winston Churchill puffing and blowing like Col. Blimp was so incongrous Eden never since has been taken seriously. Yet in fact Anthony Eden was as much in character leading a military attack to the liking of his Conservative backers as he ever had been as a bright understudy who had learned his lessons so well he couldn't act like Col. Blimp.

Prime Minister Nehru's neutralism is a dead talking point; he killed it.

From this time on, he will be talked to as a practicalist, which is how he should have been talked to all along.

All The Cards On The Table

Sometimes the net effect of free speech is like the net effect of the individual who tells too much that's too personal.

It would be better left unsaid.

The U.S. Army's "Why Me?" pamphlet, issued to offset complaints by reservists and national guardsmen called to active duty, comes to grips with this uncomfortable problem.

It explains that hostile behavior by the Sino-Soviet bloc made it necessary for the United States to demonstrate its determination to resist aggression against any part of the free world.

It explains that the idea was to prevent war, not to fight one. It tells how the call-up of U.S. reservists and guardsmen stiffened the backbones of our allies.

It makes clear the Army didn't have time to recruit a new force; that this was a chance to get back something on money spent on a standby military force.

It points out who is exempt and why. It points out who is subject to duty and why. The overall impact of the pamphlet is like the overall impact of a parent's explanation to a child of the necessity of brushing its teeth.

No explanation was owed. No explanation should have been necessary.

At a time when everything is worried about for its possible effect on the great struggle with the dark forces of Communism, bitter complaints about standby military duty should be given second thought.

What the people on the other side of the struggle can do with evidence of sagging morale in called-up fighting men shouldn't happen to Yankee Doodle. And when they get their copies of the Army pamphlet issued to undo the damage, they will be tempted to wonder what they're waiting for. Does the U.S. Army have to explain itself to its own people?

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

This Christmas calls for some good wishes to American leaders in special need of cheerful earfuls. For instance, for President Kennedy:

Best wishes to you, JFK . . .
And may your Christmas tree display
No light to flash a call to you
To delve into a crisis new.

May this your one big summons be:
"To playroom and the nursery!"—
All summit sessions on the skids,
Except the one called by the kids.

For Secretary Rusk:
This Christmas wish will be the best:
A little peace, a little rest,
Without a huddle anywhere
And not a single fresh war scare;
A card upon your door to say
"I'm not available today";
Perhaps your burdens you can curb
By these three words, "DO NOT DISTURB."

For Adlai Stevenson:
Merry Christmas, sir, to you . . .
Not a Zorin within view!
Not an earphone on your head . . .
One day quietly in bed!

On the Waldorf roof a patter,
And these words that rally matter:
"Throw all U.N. thoughts away . . .
Relax, kid, it's Christmas day."

For Secretary McNamara:
Santa Claus is asking you
"Will you see that I get through?
Twixt departure and arrival,
How are chances for survival?"

For Secretary Goldberg:
Joys and woes are each man's fate;
In your case you can arbitrate,
Keep well, alert and on your mettle . . .
There's nothing that you cannot settle.

Miracle Of Christmas Continues

By John N. Adams

Since the birth of Christ, roughly 1961 years ago, Christmas (Christ's Mass) has had some remarkable ups and downs.

For centuries there was disagreement over the true date and at various times and in various countries, Christmas positively was illegal — wiped off the calendar — forbidden by secular and civil laws.

The commercialization of Christmas — deplored as one of the sickest facets of American life—this year has come in for some harsh denunciation by both Protestant and Catholic churches. One Protestant church leader has proposed that the churches of his denomination "not bother to decorate . . . but leave the trees, wreaths and poinsettas for the world." There would be a service of holy communion Sunday midnight with similar service Christmas morning.

The Vatican newspaper warned that the commercialization of Christmas was transforming "the birthday of Christ into a pagan bacchanal."

But these current denunciations are but new links in a long chain of controversies that have beset the Holy Day.

First off, the exact date of Christ's birth is unknown and the confusion over his anniversary dates back to the early Christians. They remembered the day simply as the holiest of days and many of them considered Sept. 29 as the true anniversary.

OTHERS SAID Christ actually was born on Jan. 6, or March 29, or April 20, or May 20 and each of these dates has served as Christmas in its turn. One authority says that at some time in history Christmas has been celebrated in every month of the year.

So Junior, don't tell mommy and daddy, but Christmas actually may have slipped past already this year. Fact is, St. Nicholas Day was Dec. 6. He was the original Santa Claus.

The general adoption of Dec. 25 as Christmas dates from the 5th century. And curiously, the date coincided with the birthday of an Egyptian god which the people of the Nile had been celebrating for at least 1,500 years before Christ was born. They said their sun god was born on Dec. 25 and observed the day accordingly.

According to some historians, the celebration of the Lord's birth was established by Pope Julius as early as the 4th century but by the 17th century, the holiday had lost much of its religious significance.

In Britain, "wandering minstrels sang — not carols and hymns at Christmastide but ribald tunes" and "Britons danced around Yule logs like revelers at a pagan rite."

It was a "merry" Christmas—one long period of feasting, drinking and merry-making. The feudal castles were the great centers for the festivities which lasted 12 days or longer and as many as 1,000 guests attended.

A servant was appointed to rule over these celebrations as the "lord of misrule." He gave orders to masters and serfs alike and the masters often waited on their own servants.

WHEN Oliver Cromwell overthrew the English throne and came to power he declared such feasting and merry-making were wicked, especially at Christmas and on Christmas eve in 1652 his Puritan Parliament passed a law abolishing Christmas entirely.

At this same time, Puritans migrating from England to the New England colonies, brought with them the same spirit of opposition to these shores.

By 1659 the general court of Massachusetts had passed a law imposing a five-shilling fine for relaxing or feasting on Christmas.

The Connecticut laws went even further. They prohibited the observance of Christmas in any form, including the reading of the Common Prayer or making of mince pies.

It is recorded that Gov. William Bradford, when he saw some Bostonians playing games in the street on Christmas, rebuked them with: "My conscience is offended that you should play through a day meant for labor." He admonished them: "Work or go to jail."

It wasn't until 1856, just before the Civil War, that Massachusetts finally made the holiday legal. Until then even schools in the Bay State had remained open on Christmas day.

As late as 1882 there still was little attention paid to Christmas as a religious holiday. A newspaper of that day headlined a front page story. "Christmas Celebrated by a Murder in Chicago."

HOWEVER BY 1911, church observances of Christmas were fairly common and newspapers were devoting columns of type to announcements of "special numbers by the choirs, cantatas, recitations by children and special addresses by pastors.

The merchants that year were complaining that "the new slogan, Do Your Christmas Shopping Early, had availed almost nothing. Shopping was later than ever."

Banks were reporting a shortage of crisp, new paper money for Christmas giving.

That Christmas has survived in any form nearly 20 centuries of travail is no minor achievement in itself. That the spirit of the Holy Day hasn't been debased or corroded by the many forces of corruption which have prevailed against it, is the true miracle of Christmas.

While there may be some justification for the complaint that commercialization of Christmas has been overdone the celebration of the day is not now and never will be the property of the business world unless the church, itself, closes its doors and surrenders itself to the gods of trade.

Christmas is big enough for all to share and with its commercial message, the business world cannot escape also spreading the Christ message.

THE GREATEST shadow hanging over the Christian world today isn't the commercialization of Christmas but the ever-present danger of a nuclear war and the rapid spread of an aggressive atheistic power.

And the greatest hope for Christianity is the most determined drive for Christian unity that the world has ever known.

This unity drive has been demonstrated by mergers of a number of Protestant churches. Discussions of other mergers are under way.

Perhaps it is the menace of Communism to our religious life, perhaps it is the spread of a new understanding, perhaps it is Divine grace.

Whatever the reason, humanity today is making progress toward the greatest of Christian goals: The brotherhood of man, under the fatherhood of God . . . . and that would not be possible without the miracle of Christmas.

Letter To Editor

East Liverpool is driving people away. Why? Because when you drive to town and see tickets on cars for overtime parking at this time of year when people are doing their Christmas shopping and the stores are crowded and you can't get back out in time before they hang a ticket on your car, well, it is time to shop some place else.

East Palestine for a week now has had sacks with Merry Christmas covering their meters. You don't see this in East Liverpool.

If they would give people a ticket for taking up two parking spaces people could find a parking place. The other day I saw on one street three cars taking up two places. If they can't park they should not drive.

Three cheers for East Palestine.

Navy Band Seen Entering Politics

Amid all the serious words of politics and public affairs, and the recent outcries about "muzzling" the military, it may be a relief to resort to a lighter vein and report what the United States Navy Band did the other day.

David Lawrence

The occasion was the ceremony bidding farewell to John B. Connally, who had just resigned as secretary of the Navy to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Now, an integral part of the United States Navy is its band, whose members are enlisted just as are other members of the armed services. Presumably, the band is subject to the same rules and regulations as to what it may say in public through its trumpets as are the colonels and generals in what they may say through the microphones to an audience.

So, when the U.S. Navy Band played "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" and everybody smiled at this musical tribute last week to Mr. Connally's candidacy, the question arises, more or less seriously, whether the Navy band violated regulations.

It might be argued vehemently that the Navy band's duty is to play good music and that the song is part of the folklore of the "Lone Star State."

It might even be said that the song happened to be one of several in the book and just came along in natural sequence. But ll this satisfy the critics? Or will it give comfort to the so-called extremists who think that an Army officer shouldn't lose his right of free speech when he wants to converse with his fellow soldiers about what's going on in the world — even abstract politics?

Freedom of music, presumably, is analgous to freedom of speech.

CERTAINLY Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who found himself in effect, compelled to resign from the Army because they wouldn't let him make speeches warning about the Communist menace — and thereby inspire his soldiers to stand up to the enemy if ever captured in war — can smile a bit now. For maybe things aren't as dark as they may have seemed to him.

Possibly the Navy band has, by its little touch of politics, proved how ridiculous the whole business of "muzzling" the military can be at times. For when there is a big election back home, how can a sergeant be compelled to remain silent if a buddy asks him how he is going to VOTE?

Gen. Walker has been accused of trying to exert a political influence on his troops just because he told them where in the library they could enlighten themselves on the voting records of their congressmen and senators.

Being a man of conservative tendencies himself, he referred them to the "Americans for Constitutional Action," and probably his only mistake was in not referring them also to the "Americans for Democratic Action," who take the opposite viewpoint.

Being honest with himself, Gen. Walker probably thought that he should tell his men at least how he himself felt.

Being intelligent persons, his listeners presumably knew they didn't have to agree with him and that no disciplinary measures were contemplated if they disregarded his advice. Voting, fortunately, is a secret operation, and many a voter disregards what his boss or his labor-union leader tells him to do.

THE WHOLE FUSS about Gen. Walker seems to be that he expressed himself forthrightly, even though informally, to soldiers. Incidentally, civilians in government are not forbidden to attend political meetings.

It's strange how the rights of the individual are differently interpreted, depending upon what particular cause is being espoused.

Thus, a Communist is supposed to be immune from prosecution if he makes a speech explaining his belief in the party doctrine and tries to persuade others to accept his views. He gets in trouble with the law—as the Supreme Court of the United States interprets his rights — only if he says he wants to overthrow the government of the United States by force or incites other people to use force.

If he wants to overthrow the govthat is, through political actions — the court says he doesn't lose his right of free speech or free advocacy of such ideas.

But when a major general, who has dedicated himself to the service of his country for 30 years and has filled an important command in Korea during that war, talks about broad issues without any mention of political parties, he is reprimanded, removed from his post and given a minor job which virtually compelled him, in self-respect, to resign.

SO THE BEST advice that one can give to Maj. Gen. Walker these days is to enjoy a good smile when he reads that the U.S. Navy Band can engage in politics even though he couldn't.

Perhaps he would conclude that he, too, should have run for governor in his native state of Texas, as was once rumored. Then he might have merited at the Pentagon the same farewell ceremony that John B. Connally got—and perhaps enjoyed the U.S. Army Band's rendition of "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

'Yes, Virginia . . .!'

Sixty-one years ago an 8-year old girl posed a question to the editorial staff of the New York Sun. The newspaper's answer has become one of the Christmas season's classics. The little girl wanted to know simply, "Is there a Santa Claus?" The answer is reprinted here, as it appeared in The Sun.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

YES, VIRGINIA, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy.

Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus.

The most real things in the world are those that neither children or men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

YOU TEAR apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus? Thank God! He lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

The port of Calcutta, India, is one of the busiest in the world, and has been equipped with the most modern of loading and unloading machinery and equipment. From Calcutta, jute is exported in various forms to most nations of the world, especially to Great Britain and the United States.

Forget Most Of Your Troubles

Let there be no talk of Christmas being celebrated this year in a time of unusual trouble. Trouble, yes. Unusual trouble, no.

Men should forget most of their troubles at Christmas, especially those they have taken on their shoulders as voluntary burdens.

The first Christmas was a time of trouble, and things have not changed. Human being still can be summoned to pay taxes. Travelers still can beg for a place to rest. Mary was not the first woman to bear a child unattended in a lonely place and certainly was not the last.

THE PREACHING of Jesus and the wisdom that underlay his words were to show men how to endure trouble. It ill behooves Christians to take unusual credit for bearing their troubles bravely.

There are no unprecedented troubles.

Anyone going through the endless list of troubles that have existed at Christmas time must be convinced before he has gone beyond a century that men have been endlessly brave to put up with so much anguish. But if he has understood the legacy of Jesus Christ to mankind, he can see it was an inspired formula for bearing trouble.

THERE IS nothing unusual about the breadth, depth, variety or the intensity of trouble this Christmas.

Peace on earth is what it always has been — a wish, not a condition.

There will be peace on earth only when there is peace in men's minds.

There can be no peace in men's minds until they understand the philosophy of Jesus.

Few who are familiar with the words of the Great Teacher have shown real understanding of the surpassing love that prompted his teaching. This is still a world bristling with hate.

It has grown neither worse nor better in the instant of time the Christian era represents in the span of the earth's existence.

NO ONE can claim special credit for sustaining courage under any extraordinary hardship in 1961. No one whose senses are balanced can justify a deeper than usual solemnity when looking forward to 1962.

It is the same earth and the same people.

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed . . . And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city."

The same earth and the same people . . .

Men still hate and love one another. They bear both false and true witness. They must be forgiven for doing what they don't know they do as well as for doing what they do with malicious intent.

THERE IS need for wisdom that can see things whole.

There is need for tolerance, for hope, for faith, for charity, as there has been all through years past.

These are the rewards of Christian faith for those who want to share them.

There is trouble but no unusual trouble, only the kind of trouble that the Man of Galilee taught his followers to deal with as part of the routine of Christian living.

The Power Of Faith

by Howard Brodie

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Nehru Never Will Be The Same

India's Prime Minister Nehru never will be the same after his strong-arm routing of Portugese colonialism. The man of peace — the great neutralist — acted out of character.

His character has been lined out for him by others. His personal acts were something else. In them he was capable of being utterly harsh and ruthless, as he was in his handling of the trouble with Pakistan.

He was capable of being coldly realistic, as he was in his timing of the showdown on Portugese colonialism to make the maximum impact on voters before the February election. India wanted Portugal to be routed. Diplomatic relations had been ruptured by the quarrel five years ago.

Nehru was the hard-bitten statesman who could exploit his reputation as a neutralist by playing off the United States against the Soviet Union and vice versa. He was the urbane visitor who could drop in on Peiping, Cairo, Moscow, London, Washington and Tokyo and feel at home in each place.

It would be helpful for other would-be heads of government to know how a man confronted with so many chances to shatter his public image as an ascetic walking in the footsteps of Mohandas H. Gandhi managed to preserve the image while being something else entirely.

But he did, and when he finally shattered the illusion the disenchantment was as great as it was when Anthony Eden, Briton's "thinking machine" who had been prepared for a lifetime to supply the right answer when the right button was pushed, spewed out the wrong answer about Suez.

The shock of seeing the always poised and polished protege of Winston Churchill puffing and blowing like Col. Blimp was so incongrous Eden never since has been taken seriously. Yet in fact Anthony Eden was as much in character leading a military attack to the liking of his Conservative backers as he ever had been as a bright understudy who had learned his lessons so well he couldn't act like Col. Blimp.

Prime Minister Nehru's neutralism is a dead talking point; he killed it.

From this time on, he will be talked to as a practicalist, which is how he should have been talked to all along.

All The Cards On The Table

Sometimes the net effect of free speech is like the net effect of the individual who tells too much that's too personal.

It would be better left unsaid.

The U.S. Army's "Why Me?" pamphlet, issued to offset complaints by reservists and national guardsmen called to active duty, comes to grips with this uncomfortable problem.

It explains that hostile behavior by the Sino-Soviet bloc made it necessary for the United States to demonstrate its determination to resist aggression against any part of the free world.

It explains that the idea was to prevent war, not to fight one. It tells how the call-up of U.S. reservists and guardsmen stiffened the backbones of our allies.

It makes clear the Army didn't have time to recruit a new force; that this was a chance to get back something on money spent on a standby military force.

It points out who is exempt and why. It points out who is subject to duty and why. The overall impact of the pamphlet is like the overall impact of a parent's explanation to a child of the necessity of brushing its teeth.

No explanation was owed. No explanation should have been necessary.

At a time when everything is worried about for its possible effect on the great struggle with the dark forces of Communism, bitter complaints about standby military duty should be given second thought.

What the people on the other side of the struggle can do with evidence of sagging morale in called-up fighting men shouldn't happen to Yankee Doodle. And when they get their copies of the Army pamphlet issued to undo the damage, they will be tempted to wonder what they're waiting for. Does the U.S. Army have to explain itself to its own people?

Letter To Editor

East Liverpool is driving people away. Why? Because when you drive to town and see tickets on cars for overtime parking at this time of year when people are doing their Christmas shopping and the stores are crowded and you can't get back out in time before they hang a ticket on your car, well, it is time to shop some place else.

East Palestine for a week now has had sacks with Merry Christmas covering their meters. You don't see this in East Liverpool.

If they would give people a ticket for taking up two parking spaces people could find a parking place. The other day I saw on one street three cars taking up two places. If they can't park they should not drive.

Three cheers for East Palestine.

Navy Band Seen Entering Politics

Amid all the serious words of politics and public affairs, and the recent outcries about "muzzling" the military, it may be a relief to resort to a lighter vein and report what the United States Navy Band did the other day.

David Lawrence

The occasion was the ceremony bidding farewell to John B. Connally, who had just resigned as secretary of the Navy to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Now, an integral part of the United States Navy is its band, whose members are enlisted just as are other members of the armed services. Presumably, the band is subject to the same rules and regulations as to what it may say in public through its trumpets as are the colonels and generals in what they may say through the microphones to an audience.

So, when the U.S. Navy Band played "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" and everybody smiled at this musical tribute last week to Mr. Connally's candidacy, the question arises, more or less seriously, whether the Navy band violated regulations.

It might be argued vehemently that the Navy band's duty is to play good music and that the song is part of the folklore of the "Lone Star State."

It might even be said that the song happened to be one of several in the book and just came along in natural sequence. But ll this satisfy the critics? Or will it give comfort to the so-called extremists who think that an Army officer shouldn't lose his right of free speech when he wants to converse with his fellow soldiers about what's going on in the world — even abstract politics?

Freedom of music, presumably, is analgous to freedom of speech.

CERTAINLY Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who found himself in effect, compelled to resign from the Army because they wouldn't let him make speeches warning about the Communist menace — and thereby inspire his soldiers to stand up to the enemy if ever captured in war — can smile a bit now. For maybe things aren't as dark as they may have seemed to him.

Possibly the Navy band has, by its little touch of politics, proved how ridiculous the whole business of "muzzling" the military can be at times. For when there is a big election back home, how can a sergeant be compelled to remain silent if a buddy asks him how he is going to VOTE?

Gen. Walker has been accused of trying to exert a political influence on his troops just because he told them where in the library they could enlighten themselves on the voting records of their congressmen and senators.

Being a man of conservative tendencies himself, he referred them to the "Americans for Constitutional Action," and probably his only mistake was in not referring them also to the "Americans for Democratic Action," who take the opposite viewpoint.

Being honest with himself, Gen. Walker probably thought that he should tell his men at least how he himself felt.

Being intelligent persons, his listeners presumably knew they didn't have to agree with him and that no disciplinary measures were contemplated if they disregarded his advice. Voting, fortunately, is a secret operation, and many a voter disregards what his boss or his labor-union leader tells him to do.

THE WHOLE FUSS about Gen. Walker seems to be that he expressed himself forthrightly, even though informally, to soldiers. Incidentally, civilians in government are not forbidden to attend political meetings.

It's strange how the rights of the individual are differently interpreted, depending upon what particular cause is being espoused.

Thus, a Communist is supposed to be immune from prosecution if he makes a speech explaining his belief in the party doctrine and tries to persuade others to accept his views. He gets in trouble with the law—as the Supreme Court of the United States interprets his rights — only if he says he wants to overthrow the government of the United States by force or incites other people to use force.

If he wants to overthrow the gov- that is, through political actions — the court says he doesn't lose his right of free speech or free advocacy of such ideas.

But when a major general, who has dedicated himself to the service of his country for 30 years and has filled an important command in Korea during that war, talks about broad issues without any mention of political parties, he is reprimanded, removed from his post and given a minor job which virtually compelled him, in self-respect, to resign.

SO THE BEST advice that one can give to Maj. Gen. Walker these days is to enjoy a good smile when he reads that the U.S. Navy Band can engage in politics even though he couldn't.

Perhaps he would conclude that he, too, should have run for governor in his native state of Texas, as was once rumored. Then he might have merited at the Pentagon the same farewell ceremony that John B. Connally got—and perhaps enjoyed the U.S. Army Band's rendition of "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

'Yes, Virginia . . .!'

Sixty-one years ago an 8-year old girl posed a question to the editorial staff of the New York Sun. The newspaper's answer has become one of the Christmas season's classics. The little girl wanted to know simply, "Is there a Santa Claus?" The answer is reprinted here, as it appeared in The Sun.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

YES, VIRGINIA, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy.

Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus.

The most real things in the world are those that neither children or men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

YOU TEAR apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus? Thank God! He lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

GAO Discloses Cases

Local And State Abuse Of CD Funds Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Widespread abuse by state and local governments in the use of federal Civil Defense funds has been reported by the General Accounting Office.

In one case the GAO found the government spent nearly $70,000 toward a Civil Defense training center that actually was used for dances, dinners and entertainments.

The congressional watchdog agency said federal matching funds were also used, among other things, for:

Helicopters, supposedly for Civil Defense purposes, but used by a state forest service for profit-making spraying operations.

Communications equipment for police, fire and other local services, supposedly to meet abnormal emergency requirements, but actually planned for before application was made for federal funds.

Emergency electric power generators for hospitals that were used to meet day-to-day needs. In one case, the GAO found the government paid twice for its share of a generator through two agencies.

A duplicating machine acquired by a county solely for Civil Defense operations but used in the normal operations of the county library.

The GAO survey covered the federal contributions program of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. From 1951 to 1960, Congress appropriated $116.2 million for the program. It provided for federal funds—to be matched by states and local governments—for up to 50 per cent of the cost of certain equipment.

The program was taken from the OCDM this year and put under the Defense Department.

The GAO recommended that the secretary of defense suspend most of the federal contributions for Civil Defense projects until adequate safeguards can be established.

The GAO survey touched on a small percentage of contributions under the program. The government share for these was $8.4 million. The GOA found that about $5.2 million was used primarily for items not over and above normal requirements of state or local governments.

The report criticized OCDM for relying on applications from the local and state governments without checking their validity or establishing above - normal - need standards.

Rejoice, He is born in Bethlehem. We wish you and yours great peace and joy.

Youth Killed, 3 Injured In 4-Car Crash

OBERLIN, Ohi o(AP)—A Pennsylvania youth was killed and three other persons were injured in a four - car collision Friday about a mile west of nearby Brighton Village.

Lester K. Schnader, 18, of Denver, Pa., driver of one of the cars, died in Allen Memorial Hospital here an hour and a half after the accident.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Schnader and Miss Audrey Usner, 18, of Ephrata, Pa., were en route home from college in Minneapolis, Minn. Th egirl was admitted to the hospital with cuts on the face and possible internal injuries.

Lloyd E. Goodwin, 36, of Wakeman, another driver, was hospitalized with bruises of the leg, hip and head. Florence Roose of Norwalk was treated for lacerations and released from the hospital.

Patrolmen said the cars driven by Schnader and Goodwin,going in opposite directions on Ohio 18, collided and then Goodwin's car crashed into an auto driven by George J. Temple, 59, of Milan, who was behind Schnader. A car driven by the Norwalk woman also hit Temple's car, officers said. Temple was not injured.

Last Winners List Expense, Beat Deadline

Fewer than 20 Nov. 7 office-seekers, all of them unsuccessful, failed to file the required sworn statements of campaign expenditures with the County Election Board before the deadline passed Friday afternoon at 4.

The lone winner who had not filed yesterday morning submitted his report in mid-afternoon, which meant the board was able to issue a certificate of election to every official - elect named in the county's cities, villages, townships and school districts. Last to file was an East Palestine man.

But the law says the 20 who failed to report expenses—even though they were unsuccessful—will be barred from seeking public office again for five years. The reports also are required from committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue at the general election.

In a last - minute rush yesterday afternoon, more than a dozen of the reports were filed.

They included Wayne J. Rose, defeated candidate for mayor of Wellsville, who said his expenses totaled $24.83.

Three committees and clubs submitted the reports.

The East Palestine Democrat Club spent $432, according to a report signed by Robert G. Wichert, president.

The Leetonia Republican Club spent nothing, although it had receipts of $25, according to a report filed by Orrin Deffenbaugh. Deffenbaugh described himself as an officer of the club, but did not say what position he holds.

The Leetonia Democratic Central Committee spent $182.55, according to a report from Daniel Cullinan, chairman.

The deadline for the reports falls 45 days after the election. They are required under the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending.

City Man's Trip Interrupted By Too Much Cheer

An East Liverpool man bound for Columbus had a brief stopover in Steubenville Thursday where the city meted out some Yuletide cheer to help him on his way.

The 45-year-old city resident appeared in Municipal Court barefoot on a charge of intoxication.

He offered little explanation for his appearance, except that he had awakened in Steubenville jail minus his shoes, coat and bus ticket to the state capital.

Believing that he had been rolled, Municipal Judge Lawrence M. Sedgwick fined him $10 and costs but suspended the penalty on the condition that the police department could outfit him with some shoes and a coat.

Police and the Franciscan Sisters of the Poor got together and the sisters donated a Navy peacoat and a pair of black shoes.

The barefoot defendant then donned his new clothing, collected what personal possesions he had left, ($6, a comb and watch) and was released from custody to continue his trip.

Tests At Painesville Plant To Be Factor In Space Plan

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Missille propellant tests being conducted at a Cryogenics Laboratory east of here will determine in great part the success of one phase of the U.S. space program.

Engineers are at work inside the tightly-guarded five - acre enclosure perfecting liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen turbo booster pumps that are designed to help flash Centaur space vehicles around the moon, earth and other plants.

Cryogenics is the study of refrigeration and extrmely low temperatures.

The Pesco Products Division of Borg - Warner Corp. launched the $5 million Lake County research and development project three years ago. Work at the laboratory is conducted under simulated space conditions.

"We're pushing to the very limit of available scientific knowledge," said Duane A. Burgeson of Painesville, laboratory supervisor. "What we are doing here will have a great effect in the Cryogenics field."

The two liquid gases never before have been used in combination as a missile fuel in this country.

The laboratory is in a remote area in Perry Township. Until now few persons outside the industry knew of the experiments there in pumping liquid hydrogen and oxygen under space conditions at temperatures as low as minus 423 degrees.

At the other extreme, exhaust temperatures approach 1,200 degrees.

Disputed High Court Ban

Texas Judge In School Segregation Case Dies

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—District Court Judge William H. Atwell, 92, who unsuccessfully disputed the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation, died Friday night.

He had served on the federal bench since 1923 and wrote countless opinions that were widely quoted because of their pungent phrasing.

In sharp contrast to the dignity of the white-haired jurist's courtroom appearance, he was known by Dallas residents as a former city zoo commissioner who liked to take the lions for a Sunday afternoon drive in his car.

In challenging the Supreme Court, Atwell held it had erred in deciding segregation of public schools was unconstitutional. He contended the tribunal based its decision not on the law but on sociological considerations.

"If there is such a thing as civil rights," he once told a group of Negroes seeking admission to crowded Dallas schools, "there are civil wrongs. It would be unthinkable and unbearably wrong to make white students get out of Dallas schools so as to let in colored students."

Atwell disagreed even after appellate courts set aside his findings, but complied with their directives. Dallas schools started grade-a-year integration last fall.

During the New York trial of a prohibition case in the 1920s, the blunt-spoken jurist told a defendant that Negroes and whites should not live together. Because of the remark, the Brooklyn Bar Association accused him of racial bias.

President Warren Harding appointed Atwell, then a Dallas lawyer, to the district court bench in 1923. Although eligible to retire in 1939, he stayed until Dec. 31, 1954, and since had been designated to preside in court at frequent intervals.

He remained active on the bench almost until he suffered a mild stroke Dec. 11 and entered Baylor Hospital, where he died.

White Christmas In Most Areas

First Major Snowfall Of Season Sweeping Ohio

By The Associated Press

The first major snowfall of the season was moving across Ohio today causing hazardous driving conditions but providing a white background for the Christmas holiday season in most areas.

Highways are generally snow-covered and slippery, particularly in the western half of the state.

The center of a low pressure moved into the state from the west, bringing in the snow which weather forecasters estimate will average two to four inches.

Early morning traffic in many cities was slowed by the snowfall which began falling in the west-central counties before dawn. There were snow flurries in the extreme northwest and some rain in the southwestern area was changing to snow as daylight came.

At least two inches of snow had accumulated in Columbus by daybreak. The snow started falling in Cleveland abouf 7 a.m., had accumulated to about a half inch by 8 a.m., and another one to three inches are expected in the Cleveland area during the day.

Colder and cloudy weather, with some more snow flurries, are predicted for Saturday night and Sunday.

In Cincinnati at 9 a.m. the skies were overcast, and the light drizzle which fell during the night and early morning is expected to change to snow flurries as the temperature drops. There is a forecast of a 1-2 inch accumulation of snow in the Cincinnati area.

The Ohio Department of Highways reported in the day's first weather bulletin that primary and secondary roads are partly snow covered to snow covered and slippery over the western areas of the state. Where little snow has fallen the roadways are wet.

The Ohio Turnpike is wet to slippery over the western areas of the state. Where little snow has fallen the roadways are wet.

The Ohio Turnpike is wet to slippery in spots west of Fremont, with the balance near normal. Temperatures during the morning ranged from 20 to 34 degrees.

County Inheritance Taxes Total $131,957

State Auditor James Rhodes said at Columbus Columbiana County reported $131,957 in inheritance and estate taxes during 1961.

This is compared to $165,547 last year. Jefferson County received $164,911 this year. Statewide, the settlements totaled $24,206,860 — a new record for one year.

A recent survey showed that Mexican men who came to the United States before they were 27 and stayed in this country at least two years, were taller than their kinsmen who remained in Mexico.

5 District Firms Wait Ware Show

The five major dinnerware manufacturers in the East Liverpool area will be among 75 domestic and foreign concerns exhibiting new lines to wholesale buyers at the fourth annual Atlantic City China & Glass Show Jan. 7-12.

The firms are: Homer Laughlin China Co., Edwin M. Knowles China Co., Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker Pottery Co. and Hall China Co.

The show will be held in the huge Convention Hall. The local firms' exhibits all will be on the boardwalk level.

An advance list of exhibitors was issued today by the show management, George Little, Inc., of New York City.

The firm said the exhibits also will include nine lines of American fine china, 16 manufacturers of U. S. handmade glass, 11 plastics molders, more than 70 displays of decorated, machine made and imported glassware and 90 firms showing table accessories, including serving pieces, flatware and art pottery.

A buyers' cocktail party is set Jan. 7 at the Shelburne Hotel. A dinner dance will be held Jan. 10 at the Claridge Hotel.

$8 Million Bypass Plans Are Disclosed

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Plans for an $8 million bypass around Lebanon were disclosed Friday by Division 8 state highway officials.

L. W. Gamble, the division's design and location engineer, said a hearing on the project probably will be held in late January.

The project will unite Ohio 48 and U.S. 42 in a four-lane Lebanon bypass running to proposed Interstate 71. Ohio 48 and U.S. 42 now cross at Lebanon.

Ohio 48 will be made four-lane from Ohio 73, north of Lebanon, down to an Ohio 48 junction with U.S. 42 just outside Lebanon. The two highways then will run together to bypass the east side of Lebanon and connect with proposed Interstate 71 at south Lebanon.

Menon Says A-Tests 'Bad For The World'

NEW YORK (AP)—Indian Defense Minister V.K. Krishna Menon says it doesn't make any difference who does it — "nuclear testing would be bad for the whole world. . ."

Menon commented Friday night after the announcement that President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Macmillan had agreed they should prepare for resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

Menon, departing for home, said: "I hope it is not the beginning of a chain of tests."

Syria Regime Seen Middle-Road Coalition

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's first constitutional government since its break with the United Arab Republic shaped up today as a middle-road coalition embracing independents and all of the nation's moderate rightist blocs.

Dr. Maroud Dawalibi, 54, a political veteran who was tapped by President Dr. Nazem El Kudsi to form the new government replacing the provisional regime, named his 16-man cabinet Friday night after two days of talks with parliamentary groups.

A decree issued by the president gave Dawalibi both the premiership and the post of foreign minister. Kudsi took office last week following general elections called by the interim government.

Disputed High Court Ban

Texas Judge In School Segregation Case Dies

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—District Court Judge William H. Atwell, 92, who unsuccessfully disputed the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation, died Friday night.

He had served on the federal bench since 1923 and wrote countless opinions that were widely quoted because of their pungent phrasing.

In sharp contrast to the dignity of the white-haired jurist's courtroom appearance, he was known by Dallas residents as a former city zoo commissioner who liked to take the lions for a Sunday afternoon drive in his car.

In challenging the Supreme Court, Atwell held it had erred in deciding segregation of public schools was unconstitutional. He contended the tribunal based its decision not on the law but on sociological considerations.

"If there is such a thing as civil rights," he once told a group of Negroes seeking admission to crowded Dallas schools, "there are civil wrongs. It would be unthinkable and unbearably wrong to make white students get out of Dallas schools so as to let in colored students."

Atwell disagreed even after appellate courts set aside his findings, but complied with their directives. Dallas schools started grade-a-year integration last fall.

During the New York trial of a prohibition case in the 1920s, the blunt-spoken jurist told a defendant that Negroes and whites should not live together. Because of the remark, the Brooklyn Bar Association accused him of racial bias.

President Warren Harding appointed Atwell, then a Dallas lawyer, to the district court bench in 1923. Although eligible to retire in 1939, he stayed until Dec. 31, 1954, and since had been designated to preside in court at frequent intervals.

He remained active on the bench almost until he suffered a mild stroke Dec. 11 and entered Baylor Hospital, where he died.

White Christmas In Most Areas

First Major Snowfall Of Season Sweeping Ohio

By The Associated Press

The first major snowfall of the season was moving across Ohio today causing hazardous driving conditions but providing a white background for the Christmas holiday season in most areas.

Highways are generally snow-covered and slippery, particularly in the western half of the state.

The center of a low pressure moved into the state from the west, bringing in the snow which weather forecasters estimate will average two to four inches.

Early morning traffic in many cities was slowed by the snowfall which began falling in the west-central counties before dawn. There were snow flurries in the extreme northwest and some rain in the southwestern area was changing to snow as daylight came.

At least two inches of snow had accumulated in Columbus by daybreak. The snow started falling in Cleveland about 7 a.m., had accumulated to about a half inch by 8 a.m., and another one to three inches are expected in the Cleveland area during the day.

Colder and cloudy weather, with some more snow flurries, are predicted for Saturday night and Sunday.

In Cincinnati at 9 a.m. the skies were overcast, and the light drizzle which fell during the night and early morning is expected to change to snow flurries as the temperature drops. There is a forecast of a 1-2 inch accumulation of snow in the Cincinnati area.

The Ohio Department of Highways reported in the day's first weather bulletin that primary and secondary roads are partly snow covered to snow covered and slippery over the western areas of the state. Where little snow has fallen the roadways are wet.

The Ohio Turnpike is wet to slippery over the western areas of the state. Where little snow has fallen the roadways are wet.

The Ohio Turnpike is wet to slippery in spots west of Fremont, with the balance near normal. Temperatures during the morning ranged from 20 to 34 degrees.

County Inheritance Taxes Total $131,957

State Auditor James Rhodes said at Columbus Columbiana County reported $131,957 in inheritance and estate taxes during 1961.

This is compared to $165,547 last year. Jefferson County received $164,911 this year. Statewide, the settlements totaled $24,206,860 — a new record for one year.

A recent survey showed that Mexican men who came to the United States before they were 27 and stayed in this country at least two years, were taller than their kinsmen who remained in Mexico.

5 District Firms Wait Ware Show

The five major dinnerware manufacturers in the East Liverpool area will be among 75 domestic and foreign concerns exhibiting new lines to wholesale buyers at the fourth annual Atlantic City China & Glass Show Jan. 7-12.

The firms are: Homer Laughlin China Co., Edwin M. Knowles China Co., Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker Pottery Co. and Hall China Co.

The show will be held in the huge Convention Hall. The local firms' exhibits all will be on the boardwalk level.

An advance list of exhibitors was issued today by the show management, George Little, Inc., of New York City.

The firm said the exhibits also will include nine lines of American fine china, 16 manufacturers of U. S. handmade glass, 11 plastics molders, more than 70 displays of decorated, machine made and imported glassware and 90 firms showing table accessories, including serving pieces, flatware and art pottery.

A buyers' cocktail party is set Jan. 7 at the Shelburne Hotel. A dinner dance will be held Jan. 10 at the Claridge Hotel.

$8 Million Bypass Plans Are Disclosed

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Plans for an $8 million bypass around Lebanon were disclosed Friday by Division 8 state highway officials.

L. W. Gamble, the division's design and location engineer, said a hearing on the project probably will be held in late January.

The project will unite Ohio 48 and U.S. 42 in a four-lane Lebanon bypass running to proposed Interstate 71. Ohio 48 and U.S. 42 now cross at Lebanon.

Ohio 48 will be made four-lane from Ohio 73, north of Lebanon, down to an Ohio 48 junction with U.S. 42 just outside Lebanon. The two highways then will run together to bypass the east side of Lebanon and connect with proposed Interstate 71 at south Lebanon.

HOLDUP VICTIMS. They're happy and smiling now but for three minutes Friday night these six employes were frightened badly during the holdup of the New Waterford Bank by two armed gunmen wearing slitted hoods. The gunmen forced the bank employes and seven customers to lie prone on the floor while they rifled the cash drawers of $25,000. From the left, are Miss Marge Rupert, Mrs. Shirley Custer, Les McConville, Charles Brooks, Mrs. Betty Robb and Miss Mary Louise Grappo. The bandits vanished in a get-away car parked nearby after leaving through the front door shortly after they entered at 7:29, a minute before closing time.

in the front of the bank at the time and also was ordered to lie prone on the floor.

Miss Ruth Baker and Miss Mary Quaresimo, bookkeepers, watched the robbery from a room in the rear of the bank.

The bank manager was conversing with a customer near his desk when the bandits entered through the front door. He recalled they "threatened to start shooting if any alarm was sounded."

Customers in the bank at the time were George Schreckengost of East Palestine, Harry Hokanson and Rick Hokanson, the latter his teen-age son, of Columbiana, Richard S. Mason, J. V. Mackall of Rogers, Thomas Nentwick of Leetonia and Carl Dutch of New Waterford.

After obtaining the day's receipts, the robbers left the way they had entered the building, warning that no alarms were to be sounded or they would return.

They fled to an auto which was parked across the railroad tracks in front of the bank, near an old hotel.

Koch commended the sheriff's office for arriving at the scene promptly. He and Miss Parker were employed at the bank during the Thanksgiving holiday holdup seven years ago.

The bank celebrated its 55th anniversary Dec. 11.

Koch said the robbery lasted about three minutes. The sheriff's office, State Highway Patrol and area police departments set up road blocks and searched area highways for the men.

The sheriff's office said the two were wearing gray pants and blue hooded sweaters. Holes had been cut for the mouth and eyes. The one carrying a shotgun was estimated to be about 25, standing 5 feet 9 and weighing 165. The other was believed about the same age, 5 feet 8, and weighing 175.

Five sheriff's cruisers were immediately dispatched to the area.

In the 1954 holdup, $16,500 was taken. Police arrested four men in Youngstown less than two months later for that holdup. Three are serving jail sentences and the fourth is out on parole.

Funds

$44,999, $54,676, $37,476; coroner — $7,891, $8,586, $4,613; Municipal Court — $7,141, $7,558, $5,654; Board of Elections — $82,842, $94,932, $68,807; Courthouse and jail — $63,028, $74,150, $56,880; sheriff — $90,209, $101,340, $54,101; recorder — $36,021, $38,170, $23,271; agriculture — $29,903, $36,508, $30,385; registrar of vital statistics — $1,052, $1,052, $1,200; hydrophobia — $1,000, $1,000 (in other fund in 1954); County Home — $97,910, $113,960, $65,800; blind relief — $2,000, $2,000, $2,000; soldiers and sailors — $83,968, $98,785, $51,970.

Engineer — $7,945, $8,510, $11,570; insurance — $21,700, $16,700, $10,200; pensions — $55,000, $55,000, $25,000; miscellaneous — $4,000, $4,000, $1,600; soil conservation — $2,975, $3,500 (none), and unanticipated emergencies — $11,812, $11,812, $10,542.

Commissioners also authorized closing of the Kyes Memorial Home in East Palestine, a receiving home for children.

Hunston and Greenisen, the two Republicans, said they can save $7,800 a year by suspending operations of the home and placing the children in welfare homes. Wilson was against closing of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Patzsch, superintendent and matron of the home, have been told by Welfare Director Robert Bycroft that the home will be closed Jan. 1 and their services would no longer be needed.

The home was donated to the county as a memorial of Atty. L. M. Kyes and his wife's estate and the county had to fix it up to pass state inspection at a cost of $11,000. The funds came from the sale of the Fairmount Children's Home to Stark County.

Most of the department heads will now have to go over their budgets and make the necessary distribution of their funds they received to stay within their allocations.

Several of the officeholders said they "hated to take the 15 per cent cut, but were glad the commissioners cut all the department the same percentage."

County Due $129,169 In Extra Road Funds

LISBON — Some $129,169 in extra highway funds will be going into the coffers of the county government in 1962 — as a result of the legislative shift of road money approved this year — but the additional cash will not help the budget problem apparently.

The Ohio Legislature approved grants of $15 million in auto license money from the Department of Highway Safety to local governments.

But the money due the county government will be used only for improvement of roads and streets, and cannot be diverted to the general fund, commissioners pointed out.

Under the new law, East Liverpool will get an additional $10,804 for streets and Wellsville $2,723.

2 Hurt In 2 Auto Wrecks

A Wellsville woman and a Columbiana man were injured in two separate accidents Friday afternoon and night, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Officers were investigating another accident which occurred about 10 a. m. on Route 39 near Wellsville. A car reportedly plunged over the steep hillside. No one was reported injured, officers said.

A car driven by Charles France, 33, of Wellsville R. D. 1 struck the rear of another driven by Loretta Maley, 40, of 1510 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, Friday at 5:25 p. m. on Route 7 near the city limits.

Officers said the woman had slowed for traffic in front of her. She suffered a whiplash of the neck and was treated by a Wellsville physician.

France was cited for reckless operation.

A car driven by Harold Burbick, 20, of Columbiana R. D. 1 plunged into a ditch on Route 14 just west of Route 7 Friday night at 9:15.

Burbick told officers he came up behind a truck which slowed down and he swerved to avoid a rear-end collision. He was treated at Salem Central Clinic for a laceration of the chin.

School Group Gives Children's Home Fete

A Christmas program for children at the Hancock County Children's Home at Pughtown was presented Wednesday night by the Future Homemakers Club of South Side High School.

The program included two plays, a pantomime and songs by the FHA chorus.

Gifts were presented the children and the club served refreshments. Mrs. Ruth W. Smith is club sponsor.

In 1952 a sudden surge of air pressure sent three walls of water about five feet high over the banks of Lake Hurron, capsizing boats, washing away bathhouses and flooding basements.

White Yule Likely But Drivers Warned

Children may be pleased to know that prospects are good for a White Christmas but the Ohio weatherman's forecast for a light snow was coupled with a warning to motorists.

Hazardous driving conditions were expected to develop with the arrival of the snowstorm this afternoon. The snow will continue tonight. The mercury will drop to 23 to 29 tonight and Sunday will be colder with snow flurries. Lower temperatures tomorrow are expected to preserve the snow for the holiday.

GLORY TO THE NEWBORN KING! Shepherds and the Three Wise Men bearing gifts surround the Holy Infant, Mary and Joseph in this Nativity scene at the outdoor Christmas pageant of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville. The scene illustrates the birth of Christ in a lowly stable in Bethlehem, for which Christians around the world joyously celebrate Monday. Traditional Yuletide music and narration are part of the pageant which will be presented for the third time Christmas Eve at 7:30 and 8:30. Seats have been placed on Riverside Ave. for the public. Special lighting, live animals and occasional snowflakes give the pageant a realistic, colorful touch.

Man Experiences Really Bad Day

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Think you've had a tough day?

Draftsman Don Tabor went hunting on New River Mesa near Phoenix. He lost his footing and dropped his rifle. The weapon accidentally discharged, wounding Tabor in the forearm.

His friends started to haul him to camp on a cross-country scooter. A wheel on the vehicle twisted and Tabor was tossed into a pile of rocks. He injured his knee.

Then a pickup truck sped him toward town. A car ahead stopped. The pickup slammed into the rear of the car. Tabor was pitched into the dashboard, shattering his glasses and reopening the gunshot wound.

By now Tabor needed an ambulance. One was called. On the way to a hospital a motorist got in the way of the ambulance. The ambulance driver swerved his vehicle violently and narrowly avoided a crash. Tabor was bounced around and frightened but not further injured.

Double Knowledge

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — If you think school was tough in your day, pity the poor scholar of five years hence.

Dr. A. Richard Baldwin, research director of a farm products firm (Cargill, Inc.) estimates that man's accumulation of knowledge will double between 1960 and 1967.

Postal Crew Begins Cleanup Of Yule Mail

"If the parcels arrive, we'll get them out," Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today as postal employes began cleaning up the last of the pre-Christmas rush.

Brown explained employes will deliver special delivery and perishable items and any parcels marked "Christmas gift" Sunday and Monday if necessary. However, no other mail will be delivered, he added.

The postmaster said lots of specials and perishables are arriving, causing a problem to have trucks available to deliver the packages and still make deliveries on the mounted routes.

"We should be in fair shape this afternoon," he added.

The office closed at noon today but normal home deliveries were made.

Special lighting, live animals and occasional snowflakes give the pageant a realistic, colorful touch.

Class At Georgetown Has Coverdish Dinner

A coverdish dinner and Christmas party featured the meeting of the Variety Class at the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church at Georgetown Tuesday evening. Mrs. Dean Laughlin is teacher.

Carols were sung with Mrs. Laughlin pianist. Games were played.

Seasonal decorations were used on the refreshment table.

Next meeting is Jan. 9.

Candlelight Rite Set

A candlelight Christmas Eve service will be conducted Sunday at 11 at the Wellsville First Methodist Church. Special music will be presented by the Church Choir and the congregation will join in carols.

Mr. And Mrs. Enoch Jones To Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Jones of Park Pl. Ave., LaCroft, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with open house Tuesday evening.

They were married Dec. 26, 1911, by the Rev. A. F. Stahl at the Christian Church of Steubenville. Mrs. Jones, was the former Laura Shamp, born in Steubenville to David and Sarah Moneygold Shamp. Her husband was born in Salineville, son of Enoch and Elizabeth Jones.

They are members of the First Church of the Nazarene. Jones retired from the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. in October 1958 and is an honorary member of the BOP.

They are in good health.

They have a son, Norman Mount of Hartsdale, N. Y., and two daughters, Mrs. Raymond (Gilda) Beaver of Rialto, Calif., and Mrs. Sarah Dickey of Ravine St. There are six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Man Experiences Really Bad Day

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Think you've had a tough day?

Draftsman Don Tabor went hunting on New River Mesa near Phoenix. He lost his footing and dropped his rifle. The weapon accidentally discharged, wounding Tabor in the forearm.

His friends started to haul him to camp on a cross-country scooter. A wheel on the vehicle twisted and Tabor was tossed into a pile of rocks. He injured his knee.

Then a pickup truck sped him toward town. A car ahead stopped. The pickup slammed into the rear of the car. Tabor was pitched into the dashboard, shattering his glasses and reopening the gunshot wound.

By now Tabor needed an ambulance. One was called. On the way to a hospital a motorist got in the way of the ambulance. The ambulance driver swerved his vehicle violently and narrowly avoided a crash. Tabor was bounced around and frightened but not further injured.

Double Knowledge

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — If you think school was tough in your day, pity the poor scholar of five years hence.

Dr. A. Richard Baldwin, research director of a farm products firm (Cargill, Inc.) estimates that man's accumulation of knowledge will double between 1960 and 1967.

Churches To Join In Midland Rites

The Methodist Church and the First Presbyterian Church of Midland will hold joint Christmas Eve service Sunday at 11 at the Methodist Church.

The service will be under the direction of the Christian Youth Fellowship of young people from both churches.

Holy Communion will be administered by Dr. Leroy S. Cass of the host church and the Rev. George H. Bohlender of the Presbyterian Church.

Postal Crew Begins Cleanup Of Yule Mail

"If the parcels arrive, we'll get them out," Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today as postal employes began cleaning up the last of the pre-Christmas rush.

Brown explained employes will deliver special delivery and perishable items and any parcels marked "Christmas gift" Sunday and Monday if necessary. However, no other mail will be delivered, he added.

The postmaster said lots of specials and perishables are arriving, causing a problem to have trucks available to deliver the packages and still make deliveries on the mounted routes.

"We should be in fair shape this afternoon," he added.

The office closed at noon today but normal home deliveries were made.

Silver Dollar Awards Slated In Georgetown

Fifteen members of St. Luke's Episcopal Church at Georgetown will receive silver dollars for perfect attendance Sunday at the 10:30 a. m. service.

Mrs. Charles Finley will be organist for carol singing. The Christmas Eve service will be tonight at 9. The Rev. Russell Turner, pastor, will administer Holy Communion.

Milton Dixon of Hyattsville, Md., will sing a carol with Mrs. Finley at the organ.

Hookstown Church To Hear Aliquippan

Roy Smith of Aliquippa will be guest speaker at the Christmas Eve service Sunday at 7:30 at the Hookstown Free Methodist Church.

He will give a chalk talk and illustrate with pictures.

Carols will be sung with Mrs. Milo Smith, co-pastor, at the piano.

Events Set In Churches Of District

The Christmas service Sunday morning at 9:30 at the Highlandtown Methodist Church near Wellsville will feature Scripture, prayer, songs and recitations by the young people.

The Beaver Valley United Presbyterian Larger Parish will hold its Christmas Communion service Sunday at 8 p. m. at the West Beaver church at West Point.

A Christmas Eve candlelight service will be conducted Sunday at 8 at the New Cumberland First United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Jennie Eckert of East Liverpool will be the worker for services at the First Spiritualist Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. No services will be held Monday evening.

The choir and young people of the Fairview Reformed Presbyterian Church in Ohio Township will present a Christmas pageant, "The Nativity", Sunday night at 7:30. Several readings and musical selections will be included. The Rev. George Stannard is pastor.

Nativity Scene Will Be Lighted

HAMMONDSVILLE — A life-size Nativity scene, featuring the stable, star and Magi, will be lighted Christmas night at the Nativity of Our Lord Mission.

The scene will be on display along Route 213 until Jan. 8, Fr. George J. Adams, pastor, announced. The public is invited to visit the scene at the church property.

Sunday's worship will include Mass at 10 a. m. Masses on Christmas include a sung Mass at midnight, and a Low Mass at 10 a. m.

Mass on Dec. 31 is scheduled at 10 a. m. and at the same hour on New Year's Day.

Minister At Dormont Will Head Presbytery

PITTSBURGH — The Rev. James Thompson Orr, pastor of the Dormont Presbyterian Church, has been elected moderator of the Pittsburgh Presbytery for 1962.

He succeeds the Rev. LeRoy Patrick, pastor of the Bethesda United Presbyterian Church, East Liberty.

Rev. Orr has appointed three vice moderators to assist in the work within the 221 churches of the Presbytery.

They are Dr. J. Hubert Henderson, pastor of the J. M. Wallace Memorial United Presbyterian Church, Green Tree, first vice moderator, Dr. James M. Barrett, pastor of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church, second vice moderator, and Dr. Walter R. Young, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, Wilkinsburg, third moderator.

Ohio View Lutherans Plan Candle Services

Two candlelight services will be celebrated Sunday in the Ohio View Lutheran Church.

One will be at 6 p.m. for families with young children and the other at 11 p.m. will include several selections by the choir.

The Luther League met Thursday night to decorate the church.

The annual congregational meeting will be held Jan. 14 following morning devotions. New councilmen for 1962 will be elected.

The earliest child's toy may have been a miniature version of the caveman's club.

Music 'Festival' Awaited Sunday For Georgetown

The annual Christmas festival of music will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Georgetown Methodist Church, with the Green Valley Methodist Church Choir presenting two anthems. Harold Stewart will be organist.

Donald Campbell, guest organist, will present the offertory.

A selection will be presented by a quartet comprised of Mrs. Paul Mackall, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. Dick McHaffie and Mrs. Glenn Mackall. The Rev. David Dayen, pastor, will conduct a candlelight service.

A program including a Christmas quiz, carols, Scripture lesson, poems, a dialogue and Christmas customs will be presented by the Church School Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

Participating will be classes of Mrs. John Nash, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. Gilbert McHaffie, Mrs. Erma Mackall and Mrs. Homer Thompson. Christmas carols will be sung.

Candy treats will be given to the members.

Program Set Sunday At New Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — The annual Christmas program of the Church of the Nazarene will be held Sunday evening and will feature a pageant, "Strangers In Bethlehem" (Graeff).

The annual Christmas treat will be distributed during morning worship Sunday.

Children's Event Set At Church In Newell

The annual children's Christmas program of the Newell First Church of the Nazarene will be held Sunday at 10:15 a. m.

It will include a vocal duet, accordion solo, and recitations. Treats will be distributed.

Mrs. Fred Glendenning and Miss Betty Grimes are in charge.

Air Force Puts Up Satellite-Silent On Data

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force says it launched a satellite Friday—but won't disclose any details.

It was launched at the Point Arguello naval missile facility, adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The Air Force recently has been close-mouthed about launchings of so-called sky-spy satellites, designed to orbit over Russia and detect missile launchings and photograph military bases.

The satellite launched Friday is presumed to be a military spacecraft.

The Air Force's terse announcement said only that: "A satellite employing an Atlas Agena B booster combination was launched by the Air Force today at Point Arguello.

"It is carrying a number of classified test components."

Beaver Pianist To Give Concert At Boyce Church

Miss Lucymae Stewart of Beaver, former entertainer converted under the ministry of Grady Wilson of the Billy Graham Association in 1958, will present a sacred concert Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Boyce Methodist Church. She is a pianist and vocalist.

She was in the show business for 20 years before her conversion.

She was educated at Houghton (N.Y.) College and the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J.

Disabled Must Ask For Benefits

Approximately 860,000 disabled workers, their wives, and their children are now receiving monthly Social Security payments, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District Office of the Social Security Administration, said today.

Many other disabled workers and their families, however, are not receiving payments because an application has not been filed with the Social Security office by the disabled person or by someone on his behalf. McCauley pointed out that one possible reason for disabled persons not filing for cash payments is a lack of understanding of the Social Security Law.

Before November 1960, a disabled worker and his family could not receive monthly benefits unless the worker was 50 years of age or older. McCauley hastened to add that the law was changed last year and that this requirement for payments was removed from the law. Disabled workers under 50 and their families have been receiving disability benefits since November 1960 under the new law.

McCauley also said that applications for benefits can only go back as far as 12 months from the month of filing. He urged all disabled workers to contact the Social Security office immediately, especially those who have been disabled for more than one year, to avoid the loss of payments which may be due. The office for this area is located at 35 Central Square, Youngstown. The phone number is 744-8961.

80 At Yule Fete For Cub Scouts

Eighty attended the Christmas party of Cub Pack 36 Friday night at the Calcutta fire station.

Christmas carols were sung and explanations given by the cubs of Christmas articles they had made.

Glenn Morris, cubmaster, presented a bear badge to John Lyons; wolf badge to Steve Cross and a silver arrow to Jim Cross. Allen Kirkland received a one-year service pin.

Robert Gray, Cherokee District field executive, discussed the growth of scouting in this area.

Gifts were presented to children and parents by Santa and refreshments were served by the den mothers.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

While Others Slept

In the first hours after the birth of Jesus three kinds of people, typifying different ways of life, were mysteriously guided into His presence. First there were the shepherds They were men of simple life, close to nature. In a general way they may be taken to represent the workers of the world. Night workers they were. Their responsibility for the safety of their sheep required them to be watchfully awake while others slept.

DR. PEALE

I have personally visited a cave in the side of a little hill near Bethlehem where it is thought the local shepherds, from very ancient days up through the time of Jesus, used to take shelter on cold nights and warm themselves around a fire. Only recently has this cave been rediscovered.

From just inside the entrance looking out, I could see Bethlehem on its hill and the long shadows of evening falling across the mountains of Judea. I stood there trying to imagine the awesome experience that came upon certain shepherds in those fields on that momentous night nearly 20 centuries ago.

THE BIBLE tells us that suddenly "the glory of the Lord shone round about them." Then they heard an angel telling them not to be afraid, for he brought good news, supremely joyous news: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior . . . ." And they were given to understand that if they wanted proof they would find the swaddled Infant lying in a manger.

Was the message conveyed to them in audible words? Or were they momentarily lifted up into a state where "silent skies are full of speech for who hath ears to hear?" Whichever it was, they were deeply stirred. And they said to each other, "Let's go to Bethlehem and see." They went; they saw for themselves; they returned full of gratitude and wonder.

Then there came certain wise men from the East. They were thinkers, men of science, seeking to probe the mysteries of the universe by study and observation. They had made a long journey because of a star they had seen. Was it a star in the actual sky? Or was it a point of insight in the wise men's minds? Who knows? And how did they discern a connection between a star and a King to be born in Judea?

The Huron Indians of the 18th century had an engagingly simple explanation — and perhaps theirs is as good as any. Having been converted to Christianity by French missionary priests, the Hurons composed a Christmas carol. In this carol there are "three chiefs" who see a star, and we are told:

"Then Jesus suggested to them the idea that they should come to see Him.

And put into their minds the thought that the star would lead them to Him;

And thereupon they decided that they would journey toward the star."

So the wise men found their way to Him, worshipped Him and presented gifts.

THIRDLY, there were two persons of religious calling who approached and worshiped the Infant Jesus when Joseph and Mary took him up to Jerusalem for the customary presentation at the temple. One of them was a man named Simeon, of whom we are told that he was "just and devout" and that "the Holy Ghost was upon him." The other was Anna, an aged prophetess abiding in prayer "night and day."

These two came to Jesus by those strange providences which come into operation in response to deep, persistent prayer — both mysteriously arriving at the temple at just the right time to encounter the Holy Child. And when they had seen Him, they gave thanks to God for having shown them the salvation of all people.

The good tidings, then, were for people of all types and classes — workers, thinkers, devottees alike. And the big thing to realize is that experiences no less wonderful than those vouchsafed to the shepherds and the wise men, Simeon and Anna, still occur in human life today.

My work brings me many letters from men and women moved to tell of how through Jesus they have obtained regeneration, healing, guidance, new strength or whatever it was they needed for more abundant life. Having heard there was a Saviour, they did something about it. Like the shepherds, they sought him — at church, in the Bible, in earnest prayer — and so found Him.

LIKE THE wise men, they made offerings, often in the form of actions they knew He would approve; acts of kindness, courage or faith. Like Simeon and Anna, they developed a genuine concern for humanity.

Quite recently Mrs. Bessie Price Owen of Chicago wrote to tell me of her recovery from a terrible illness. The text, "Renew a right spirit within me" has been, she says, her guiding light and has "paid off in contentment, freedom from fear and a desire really to live by the Golden Rule."

In anticipation of this season she wrote a poem urging that we "pray our way through problems," persistently, for "God is listening . . . we never walk alone." And, especially this Christmas:

"If only the world of nations
All united would humbly pray
To Him, the master of the sky,
His star would light the way . . ."

Closing Of VA Offices Will Not Affect Hospitals

Closing of Veterans Administration contact offices in Steubenville, Youngstown and Canton will not interfere in any way with the medical care and hospitalization of veterans, William Holsinger, manager of the Regional Office in Cleveland, said today.

Admission to a VA hospital, Holsinger explained, is usually made at the request of the personal physician of the eligible veteran direct to the hospital rather than through a contact office.

Veterans who have been treated in VA hospitals are familiar with the process of admission. Physicians who are treating service-connected veterans in the VA hometown medical program are required to contact the VA hospital and advise the admitting physician if the veteran should need hospitalization.

Once in the hospital, the veteran is assured of immediate assistance on all other VA benefits and services to which he may be entitled, Holsinger explained.

Contact offices will continue to function at the Cleveland and Brecksville VA hospitals as well as in Toledo and Akron. Regulations require that each new hospital patient be contacted by a VA contact representative with medical condition permits.

Holsinger also said that itinerant VA contact service to Steubenville, Youngstown and Canton will begin immediately after Jan. 1. This once-a-week service will include assistance on medical benefits.

Ohio Man, 22, Killed As Train Rams Car

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP) — Miles King, 22, of Miamisburg, was killed today when his automobile was struck by a New York Central passenger train at the Orchard Hill Street crossing in Miamisburg.

Deputy sheriffs reported that the train was traveling about 70 m.p.h. when it struck the auto. The engineer of the southbound train, Albert Haft, told deputies he saw the automobile approaching the crossing at about 10 m.p.h.

80 Attend Yule Party Of 2 Lisbon Classes

LISBON — Eighty attended the annual Christmas party when the Christian Home Builders Class entertained the Lamplighters Class of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ Friday evening.

Group singing was lead by Homer Ferguson with Mrs. Vivian Tullis pianist.

Devotions were lead by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sitler with Mrs. Mary Schneider singing several songs.

Santa distributed presents and gifts were brought for welfare children. Lunch was served.

"As busy as a bee" has lots of foundation. Most bees are required to fly more than 50,000 miles to produce just one pound of honey.

Wellsville Has 2 Car Crashes On Main St.

Wellsville police reported two auto accidents on Main St. near 5th St. Friday.

The first was at 4:30 p. m. A parked car owned by Lee Cain Jr. of Irondale R. D. 1 was struck by another driven by William Russell, 331 3rd St., Wellsville.

Russell halted briefly and then left, police said. No charges have been filed.

A car driven by Jim Bare of Fairview, W. Va., struck the rear of another driven by Kenny Long 1757 Maple Ave., in the second crash at 6:40 p. m.

Officially graded cheddar cheese is now available. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's AA shield, used for butter, is now also used for cheese that measures up to certain standards for flavor, body and texture, finish and appearance, and color.

Bees of different species sometimes join in battle as each side seeks to carry off the honey of the other. The battleground is strewn with dead and dying bees, including opponents locked together in death grips.

Air Force Puts Up Satellite-Silent On Data

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force says it launched a satellite Friday—but won't disclose any details.

It was launched at the Point Arguello naval missile facility, adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The Air Force recently has been close-mouthed about launchings of so-called sky-spy satellites, designed to orbit over Russia and detect missile launchings and photograph military bases.

The satellite launched Friday is presumed to be a military spacecraft.

The Air Force's terse announcement said only that: "A satellite employing an Atlas Agena B booster combination was launched by the Air Force today at Point Arguello.

"It is carrying a number of classified test components."

She was educated at Houghton (N.Y.) College and the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J.

Disabled Must Ask For Benefits

Approximately 860,000 disabled workers, their wives, and their children are now receiving monthly Social Security payments, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District Office of the Social Security Administration, said today.

Many other disabled workers and their families, however, are not receiving payments because an application has not been filed with the Social Security office by the disabled person or by someone on his behalf. McCauley pointed out that one possible reason for disabled persons not filing for cash payments is a lack of understanding of the Social Security Law.

Before November 1960, a disabled worker and his family could not receive monthly benefits unless the worker was 50 years of age or older. McCauley hastened to add that the law was changed last year and that this requirement for payments was removed from the law. Disabled workers under 50 and their families have been receiving disability benefits since November 1960 under the new law.

McCauley also said that applications for benefits can only go back as far as 12 months from the month of filing. He urged all disabled workers to contact the Social Security office immediately, especially those who have been disabled for more than one year, to avoid the loss of payments which may be due. The office for this area is located at 35 Central Square, Youngstown. The phone number is 744-8961.

80 At Yule Fete For Cub Scouts

Eighty attended the Christmas party of Cub Pack 36 Friday night at the Calcutta fire station.

Christmas carols were sung and explanations given by the cubs of Christmas articles they had made.

Glenn Morris, cubmaster, presented a bear badge to John Lyons; wolf badge to Steve Cross and a silver arrow to Jim Cross. Allen Kirkland received a one-year service pin.

Robert Gray, Cherokee District field executive, discussed the growth of scouting in this area.

Gifts were presented to children and parents by Santa and refreshments were served by the den mothers.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

While Others Slept

In the first hours after the birth of Jesus three kinds of people, typifying different ways of life, were mysteriously guided into His presence. First there were the shepherds They were men of simple life, close to nature. In a general way they may be taken to represent the workers of the world. Night workers they were. Their responsibility for the safety of their sheep required them to be watchfully awake while others slept.

DR. PEALE

I have personally visited a cave in the side of a little hill near Bethlehem where it is thought the local shepherds, from very ancient days up through the time of Jesus, used to take shelter on cold nights and warm themselves around a fire. Only recently has this cave been rediscovered.

From just inside the entrance looking out, I could see Bethlehem on its hill and the long shadows of evening falling across the mountains of Judea. I stood there trying to imagine the awesome experience that came upon certain shepherds in those fields on that momentous night nearly 20 centuries ago.

THE BIBLE tells us that suddenly "the glory of the Lord shone round about them." Then they heard an angel telling them not to be afraid, for he brought good news, supremely joyous news: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior . . . ." And they were given to understand that if they wanted proof they would find the swaddled Infant lying in a manger.

Was the message conveyed to them in audible words? Or were they momentarily lifted up into a state where "silent skies are full of speech for who hath ears to hear?" Whichever it was, they were deeply stirred. And they said to each other, "Let's go to Bethlehem and see." They went; they saw for themselves; they returned full of gratitude and wonder.

Then there came certain wise men from the East. They were thinkers, men of science, seeking to probe the mysteries of the universe by study and observation. They had made a long journey because of a star they had seen. Was it a star in the actual sky? Or was it a point of insight in the wise men's minds? Who knows? And how did they discern a connection between a star and a King to be born in Judea?

The Huron Indians of the 18th century had an engagingly simple explanation — and perhaps theirs is as good as any. Having been converted to Christianity by French missionary priests, the Hurons composed a Christmas carol. In this carol there are "three chiefs" who see a star, and we are told:

"Then Jesus suggested to them the idea that they should come to see Him.

And put into their minds the thought that the star would lead them to Him;

And thereupon they decided that they would journey toward the star."

So the wise men found their way to Him, worshipped Him and presented gifts.

THIRDLY, there were two persons of religious calling who approached and worshiped the Infant Jesus when Joseph and Mary took him up to Jerusalem for the customary presentation at the temple. One of them was a man named Simeon, of whom we are told that he was "just and devout" and that "the Holy Ghost was upon him." The other was Anna, an aged prophetess abiding in prayer "night and day."

These two came to Jesus by those strange providences which come into operation in response to deep, persistent prayer — both mysteriously arriving at the temple at just the right time to encounter the Holy Child. And when they had seen Him, they gave thanks to God for having shown them the salvation of all people.

The good tidings, then, were for people of all types and classes — workers, thinkers, devottees alike. And the big thing to realize is that experiences no less wonderful than those vouchsafed to the shepherds and the wise men, Simeon and Anna, still occur in human life today.

My work brings me many letters from men and women moved to tell of how through Jesus they have obtained regeneration, healing, guidance, new strength or whatever it was they needed for more abundant life. Having heard there was a Saviour, they did something about it. Like the shepherds, they sought him — at church, in the Bible, in earnest prayer — and so found Him.

LIKE THE wise men, they made offerings, often in the form of actions they knew He would approve; acts of kindness, courage or faith. Like Simeon and Anna, they developed a genuine concern for humanity.

Quite recently Mrs. Bessie Price Owen of Chicago wrote to tell me of her recovery from a terrible illness. The text, "Renew a right spirit within me" has been, she says, her guiding light and has "paid off in contentment, freedom from fear and a desire really to live by the Golden Rule."

In anticipation of this season she wrote a poem urging that we "pray our way through problems," persistently, for "God is listening . . . we never walk alone." And, especially this Christmas:

"If only the world of nations
All united would humbly pray
To Him, the master of the sky,
His star would light the way . . ."

Closing Of VA Offices Will Not Affect Hospitals

Closing of Veterans Administration contact offices in Steubenville, Youngstown and Canton will not interfere in any way with the medical care and hospitalization of veterans, William Holsinger, manager of the Regional Office in Cleveland, said today.

Admission to a VA hospital, Holsinger explained, is usually made at the request of the personal physician of the eligible veteran direct to the hospital rather than through a contact office.

Veterans who have been treated in VA hospitals are familiar with the process of admission. Physicians who are treating service-connected veterans in the VA hometown medical program are required to contact the VA hospital and advise the admitting physician if the veteran should need hospitalization.

Once in the hospital, the veteran is assured of immediate assistance on all other VA benefits and services to which he may be entitled, Holsinger explained.

Contact offices will continue to function at the Cleveland and Brecksville VA hospitals as well as in Toledo and Akron. Regulations require that each new hospital patient be contacted by a VA contact representative with medical condition permits.

Holsinger also said that itinerant VA contact service to Steubenville, Youngstown and Canton will begin immediately after Jan. 1. This once-a-week service will include assistance on medical benefits.

Ohio Man, 22, Killed As Train Rams Car

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP) — Miles King, 22, of Miamisburg, was killed today when his automobile was struck by a New York Central passenger train at the Orchard Hill Street crossing in Miamisburg.

Deputy sheriffs reported that the train was traveling about 70 m.p.h. when it struck the auto. The engineer of the southbound train, Albert Haft, told deputies he saw the automobile approaching the crossing at about 10 m.p.h.

80 Attend Yule Party Of 2 Lisbon Classes

LISBON — Eighty attended the annual Christmas party when the Christian Home Builders Class entertained the Lamplighters Class of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ Friday evening.

Group singing was lead by Homer Ferguson with Mrs. Vivian Tullis pianist.

Devotions were lead by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sitler with Mrs. Mary Schneider singing several songs.

Santa distributed presents and gifts were brought for welfare children. Lunch was served.

"As busy as a bee" has lots of foundation. Most bees are required to fly more than 50,000 miles to produce just one pound of honey.

Wellsville Has 2 Car Crashes On Main St.

Wellsville police reported two auto accidents on Main St. near 5th St. Friday.

The first was at 4:30 p. m. A parked car owned by Lee Cain Jr. of Irondale R. D. 1 was struck by another driven by William Russell, 331 3rd St., Wellsville.

Russell halted briefly and then left, police said. No charges have been filed.

A car driven by Jim Bare of Fairview, W. Va., struck the rear of another driven by Kenny Long 1757 Maple Ave., in the second crash at 6:40 p. m.

Officially graded cheddar cheese is now available. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's AA shield, used for butter, is now also used for cheese that measures up to certain standards for flavor, body and texture, finish and appearance, and color.

Bees of different species sometimes join in battle as each side seeks to carry off the honey of the other. The battleground is strewn with dead and dying bees, including opponents locked together in death grips.

U.S. Head In Berlin Cancels Call On Reds

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, today canceled an appointment at Soviet headquarters in East Berlin because of "a calculated afront on the part of the Soviets," a U.S. spokesman announced.

Watson canceled his call after refusing to bow to a demand by East German border guards that three civilian aides accompanying him identify themselves.

The incident occurred at Friedrichstrasse, the only crossing point for the Allies into East Berlin.

It was the second such incident this week. The U.S. political adviser, Howard Trivers, was refused entry to East Berlin Thursday when he refused to identify himself. He and two other officials were on their way to an appointment at Soviet headquarters.

Area Missionary Backs Tshombe

By CHARLES CRONIN

Declaring that the United Nations "has no business" in The Congo, Miss Jane Crooks of Hammondsville says the world governing body has added to the turmoil in Africa by sending troops into secessionist Katanga Province.

Miss Crooks is home for a rest leave after three and a half years in strife - torn Elizabethville, capital city of the rich province, where Katanga armed resistance has crumbled after a two - week battle with U.N. troops.

AN ACQUAINTANCE of Moishe Tshombe, she says the Katanga president is fighting Communist elements in Congo's central government in addition of independence.

"I think he is a good leader and is trying to do what is best for his people," Miss Crooks declared of the Katanga president, who often attends one of the churches at her Methodist mission in Elizabethville.

"I stand with Tshombe, I believe he is fighting against Communist domination," she asserted.

Miss Crooks added: "I'm not saying that secession is the answer at all, I don't think there will be any real settlement until Katanga returns to The Congo."

TSHOMBE declared his secession and defiance of the Leopoldville government in mid - July 1960, just after The Congo was granted independence by Belgium. He later built up his own regime, coined his own currency, and formed a powerful police force led by white mercenaries from abroad.

Tshombe has agreed to end the secession of his wealthy province in an eight - point declaration, but has been warned to honor the unity commitment by Wednesday or face more trouble.

The reunification hopes suffered a setback Friday when the Katanga cabinet refused to approve Tshombe's agreement to end the secession.

Commenting on the agreement, Miss Crooks said, "I'm afraid Tshombe may not take seriously the agreement between him and Premier Cyrille Adoula; he may try to pull out."

Miss Crooks denounced the U. N.'s action of sending troops to aid the Leopoldville government's war against Tshombe and his Katanga province.

—:—

"I THINK the U.N. has no business there. They have caused a revolution and added greatly to the turmoil," she declared.

Miss Crook added the natives are now anti-American because of the U.N. action, as they know the U.S. supports the world governing body.

Miss Crooks asserted that Tshombe "is a good leader, not a radical, and is trying to do what's best for his people." Tshombe is aware of Communist elements in the Leopoldville government and is fighting against their domination, she said.

CURIO FROM AFRICA. Miss Jane Crooks of Hammondsville, back from The Congo after a second tour of duty in the troubled country, displays a native carving of solid ebony acquired during her 3½-year stay in Elizabethville, capital of Katanga Province. She knows Moise Tshombe personally and is critical of U.N. intervention against him.

Miss Crooks feels The Congo will never be peaceful under one ruler because of the many different tribes who are accustomed to following their own leaders.

"I think a combination of loosely federated states is one answer to the Congo problem," she said.

"AFRICA is very tribal," she said. "And this war has set tribe against tribe. With a combination of federated states, each tribe could follow a leader of its own kin, rather than one man," she continued.

Miss Crooks said Tshombe has only a seventh grade education, "but has lots of common sense and wisdom in the ways of Africa."

"I think he could have settled the problem had the U.N. stayed out of the picture," she declared.

The Katanga president has nine children, although the number is not large for an African, she said, adding that "children represent wealth among African families."

Miss Crooks left Elizabethville Nov. 27, shortly before the bitter fighting broke out. She has never been endangered at any time, except from terrorist bands of young natives.

SHE WAS ONE of 55 Americans at the mission in Elizabethville who were forced to flee when war started. She was director of four community centers in the city, teaching recreation and education to both youngsters and adults.

Though the natives speak 280 languages and dialects in the province, Miss Crooks overcame the language barrier by learning Swahili, a medium for church, school and other programs for the natives.

She received word a week ago that the mission's churches had not been ravaged in the war, although they have been abandoned.

Miss Crooks said the native women and children are "terrified" of the general situation. "They disappear into their homes at the first rumor of fighting," she said.

—:—

MISS CROOKS described Elizabethville as "a very modern city, more European than American, with the majority of the whites Belgian, Greek and Jewish."

She recalled that Elizabethville once listed 15,000 whites and 180,000 natives, but at last report had less than 4,000 caucasians.

"Wives and children have left the province, with only the men staying behind to protect their businesses and homes," she said.

All American missionaries were evacuated from the province because of the U. S. stand with the United Nations in sending troops to the aid of the Leopoldville government, she said.

Miss Crooks is spending her first Christmas at home since 1957. She left here in 1958 and studied in Brussels, Belgium for a year before returning to The Congo for a second tour of duty. Her first visit was from 1953 to 1957.

MISS CROOKS said she hopes to return to The Congo later to continue her work in helping to teach Christianity to the natives. "I wouldn't have come home now unless I had to," she said.

An Irondale High School graduate, she is the daughter of McKinley Crook of Hammondsville. She is presently visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoobler of Chestnut Grove, Irondale.

Communist Signs, Symbols Dominate Havana Christmas

HAVANA (AP)—The red star with hammer and sickle, and signs saying "Merry Socialist Christmas" are the dominating symbols for this year's Christmas in Havana.

All week long throngs of shoppers crowded the colonnaded sidewalks of downtown Havana. They seemed to have plenty of money. The government ordered Christmas bonuses for all workers.

The shoppers were in a free-spending mood despite repeated pleas over the government radio not to buy more than necessary so others would not go without.

Many Roman Catholic churches made no mention of holding the traditional Christmas Eve midnight mass.

Despite the socialist trimmings some traditional customs were preserved.

Old world carols could be heard daily on the radio and on one morning this week Christmas chimes sounded clearly on the telephone between rings.

A few dealers offered Christmas pine trees for sale, but business was slack. Cubans were told instead to use palm leaves for decorations.

Strangely enough, however, one huge decorated tree stood in front of a new government housing development across the bay in Havana East.

Realtors, National Consultant Meet Here

A general discussion on real estate practices was held Thursday between local realtors and a regional representative of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

John J. Cronin of Chicago conferred with W. F. McWhorter, incoming president of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors; Merl McSwegin, vice president; Jack Davies, secretary - treasurer; George Bright, state trustee, and Glenn Wilson, retiring president, in Wilson's office.

Cronin stressed methods by which the board can aid in the development of the city, some of which the local group expects to begin in the coming year.

The first licensed woman airplane pilot was Baroness Raymonde de la Roche, of France, who in 1910 received "Ticket No. 10" from her government.

heading for a Yuletide in the sun and the snow.

France's state-owned railways made up special trains to move an estimated 900,000 holiday vacationers to the Riviera, ski resorts and to family reunions in the provinces.

In London, the cause of Christmas spirit suffered what male workers at a camera factory interpreted as a mortal blow. They donned black ties for their last day on the job prior to the holidays in protest against a company ban on office parties. Black crepe decorated the premises and a coffin appeared—in it resting an empty gin bottle labeled the "dead spirit of Christmas."

On the Gaza Strip, Danes, Norwegians and Swedes serving with a U.N. military unit guarding the armistice demarcation line on the Arab-Israeli border were not forgotten. Christmas trees and a bounty of Scandinavian delicacies arrived in time for festivities.

Challenging Statement

'Big 2' Flip 2-Fisted Wallop At Mr. K's Way

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A challenging statement from the Anglo-American summit in Bermuda threw a two fisted wallop in the direction of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

It extended an olive branch on two fronts—the nuclear testing issue and the Berlin situation—but it pinned on him any blame for failure to find a way out, and labeled him responsible for the decision to resume testing in the atmosphere.

Probably these were the most important results of the two days of calm, frank conversation between Presidnt Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

But there was one aspect of the meeting that leaves little for the West to cheer about. That is: While the two statesmen spoke of Allied unity, the conference had the effect, in a sense, of spotlighting disunity.

French President Charles de Gaulle was highly conspicuous by his absence here. U.S. and British spokesmen of course insisted there had never been any intention to have anything but a two-way Anglo-American parley.

That however is beside the point. Conversations here clearly underscored De Gaulle's stony opposition to any approach to Khrushchev on the Berlin issue, smacking of outright negotiations.

Kennedy and Macmillan propose that the U.S. ambassador do some more probing in Moscow to determine whether there is any basis for fruitful negotiations.

De Gaulle is represented in Paris as feeling strongly that there is nothing to negotiate regarding Berlin.

There is a growing body of opinion on both sides of the Atlantic that the Communists' open avowals of the intention to dominate the world should be taken seriously and that this rules out any idea of fruitful negotiations.

There had been a fair degree of unity in British and American views before the Bermuda meetings and the conference served to emphasize this to the rest of the world. The two leaders also can consider they have effectively told the world the West has done and still is doing all that could reasonably be considered possible to restrain themselves in the face of massive Soviet nuclear tests.

Red Infiltration From Cuba

Inter-American System Faces Test On Jan. 21

WASHINGTON (AP) — The inter-American system's ability to deal with such difficult political issues as what to do about Cuba will be put to the test next month at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

Foreign ministers of the 21 American republics will meet there Jan. 22 to discuss—and perhaps to take measures against—Communist infiltration from Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Castro, who has proclaimed himself a Marxist-Leninist on at least two occasions, still has a following in many Latin-American countries. Some governments, anxious to avoid internal strife, are careful to maintain a neutral attitude toward him.

This is reflected in part by the voting Dec. 4 when the foreign ministers' conference was approved by the Council of the Organization of American States.

Cuba, of course, voted against the proposal, which was introduced by Colombia.

Mexico also voted against the proposal—on what it said were juridical grounds. However, most diplomats here concede — though certainly not the Mexicans themselves—that Mexico would have been happier if the question had never come up.

Five other nations, all with deep internal political and economic problems, abstained from the voting — Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador.

At Punta del Este next January the line-up could reasonably be expected to be the same.

If 14 countries—the required two-thirds majority—vote in favor of sanctions against Cuba, such as a break in diplomatic relations, the question then is: Will all the countries go along?

Under the Inter-American Treaty of Reciprocal Assistance, which is the basis for the conference, a two-thirds vote makes it mandatory for all countries to follow the majority decision.

Should any nation not go along—and diplomats here shudder at the thought—it would jar the delicate system of international relations the American nations have built over the years.

One Killed, 6 Are Hurt In 2-Car Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two automobiles collided at the Alum Creek Drive and Refugee Road intersection early today, killing a Circleville man and leaving six other persons injured.

Michael E. Pharr, 24, of Circleville, employe of the Ohio Department of Health, died of head injuries a half hour after being taken to Mercy Hospital.

Of the six injured, four are assigned to Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Homer E. Blair, 21, of Route 2, Baltimore, was the driver of one of the cars and among those injured. His passenger, Harriett Paulsen, 63, of Columbus, suffered leg fractures and head injuries.

Pharr was the driver of the other car involved. It hit a utility pole after the crash. Wade Doyle, 23; William Kiley, 21; Earl McClintock, 20, and Marhsall Strauss 21, all of Lockbourne AFB, were riding with Pharr and all were hurt. They were taken to the air base hospital for treatment. Blair and his passenger were taken to Grant Hospital.

Christmas Music, Stories Given For Literary Group

Christmas music and stories highlighted the party of the Bible Literary Club Wednesday afternoon with Miss Maude Baum of W. 7th St. Twenty-nine were present.

Mrs. Ronald Mason sang "Go Tell It On a Mountain," "Lullabye for Christmas" and "No Place Like Home for the Holidays," accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Vodrey. Mrs. Albert Neiser, music chairman, introduced the guests.

Mrs. Albert Millward, president, extended the welcome and read a poem, "A Feel In the Christmas Air."

Mrs. O. V. Doak conducted roll call to "Spiritual Inspirations." Mrs. W. A. Wolfe read a paper prepared by Mrs. Floyd Kerr on "The Spirit of Christmas." It included sketches of two stories, "A String of Blue Beads" and "A Cobler and His Guest."

Mrs. Mason accompanied carols. Mrs. Howard Tice was program chairman. The group repeated the "Thought for the Day" for closing. A card was signed for Mrs. G. A. Race, a patient at the Holzer Hospital at Gallipolis.

Mrs. H. E. Taylor and Mrs. Tice were in charge of the gift exchange.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fred Plant and Mrs. H. T. Logan, co-hostesses, and Miss Margaret Baum, another guest, and Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Millward poured at the silver tea service on the buffet table decorated with holly wreaths and candles. The home was also decorated with holiday trimmings.

Next meeting is Jan. 17 in the social rooms of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. W. A. Betz, Mrs. W. O. McDonald and Mrs. Logan will have the program. Mrs. Aaron Eaton, Mrs. Carl McCutcheon and Mrs. Gail Richmond are hostesses.

3 Boys, 2 Men In Rescue Bid Pulled To Safety

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three small boys who fell through ice on which they were playing and two men dunked in the icy water while trying to rescue them were pulled to safety from Ridgewood Lake in suburban Parma Friday afternoon.

The boys, all from Parma, were Richard Klima, 9, Mark Slodic, 10, and Laurence Johnson, 9. They were released after treatment and a change into warm clothing at Parma Community Hospital.

Richard Walsh, 22, a second lieutenant in the Marines who is home on leave, and Arthur P. Dimitruk, one of the first firemen on the scene, broke through the ice while trying to reach the boys. They were rescued by firemen using a small aluminum boat.

The boys were pulled to safety with the use of long straps and ladders extended to them over the ice.

Auto Carrier Strikes Halted Convertible

The left side of a 1960 Thunderbird convertible was damaged early Firday afternoon when struck by an auto carrier at E. 5th St. and Broadway, police reported.

Jacqueline Coleman, 30, of R. D. 3 had stopped because of traffic when hit by a tractor-trailer rig of the Complete Auto Transit, Inc., of Flint, Mich., operated by Daniel Bruce Ogilvie, 29, of Fenton, Mich.

Ogilvie told police he was headed west and was manuvering the rig into the right lane when he struck the halted car.

The British are the most avid newspaper readers in the world, as evidenced by their newspaper circulation in relation to its population — 573 copies per 1,000 persons. Sweden is second with 464, and Luxumbourg third with 429. Eight other countries rank ahead of the United States, which has 327 copies per thousand persons.

Monthly Payrolls In State Offices Up By $50,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Monthly payrolls of 11 state offices, as tabulated by the Columbus Dispatch from state auditor's records, on Dec. 15 were up nearly $50,000 from Nov. 1.

The survey showed 173 promotions, 357 hirings and removal of 162 from payrolls in the month and a half period. While there were small decreases in the attorney general's and auditor's offices and the personnel department.

Because of the state's tight financial situation, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has said he would order cutbacks in all salary increases this year that were not required by statute. He and Finance Director James Maloon reminded department heads of a directive last March urging careful consideration of work loads before any vacancies are filled.

Officials attributed the payroll climb to promotions under the job reclassification law along with some new hiring.

Woman Wrecks Car In Eluding Motorist

LISBON — Mrs. Delores M. Baker, 38, of 262 Sherman St. was cited early this morning after her car struck a storage building owned by the Dorrance Furniture Co. Police reported she said she was being followed by another car.

Mrs. Baker was driving on S. Beaver St. and turned into an alley, hitting the building on the corner.

Mrs. Baker told officers she was trying to get away from the other car that was following her. She was cited for reckless operation.

Her car had to be towed away by a wrecker but only minor damage was reported to the building.

$2 Fine Suspended

LISBON — Gene E. Tullis, 34, of Salem received a suspended $2 fine at a hearing Friday before County Judge James L. MacDonald when he pleaded guilty to speeding. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Slavery was abolished in Trinidad in 1834.

City Autoist Injured In Crash At Brilliant

A city man and a Mingo Junction girl were injured slightly in a spectacular accident Friday night at 8 on Route 7 just over a mile north of Brilliant, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said a car driven north by James T. Herring, 37, of W. 9th St. went off the right side of the highway and struck a guardrail. The vehicle then rammed a bridge abutment and flipped over.

After landing on the top, the car skidded along the highway and crossed over to the left side and struck another car driven by William H. Edwards, 49, of Mingo Junction.

Officers said Herring escaped any serious injury. He was cited for unsafe operation.

Karen Lee Edwards, 16, a passenger in her father's car, suffered a back injury.

Challenging Statement

'Big 2' Flip 2-Fisted Wallop At Mr. K's Way

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A challenging statement from the Anglo-American summit in Bermuda threw a two fisted wallop in the direction of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

It extended an olive branch on two fronts—the nuclear testing issue and the Berlin situation—but it pinned on him any blame for failure to find a way out, and labeled him responsible for the decision to resume testing in the atmosphere.

Probably these were the most important results of the two days of calm, frank conversation between Presidnt Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

But there was one aspect of the meeting that leaves little for the West to cheer about. That is: While the two statesmen spoke of Allied unity, the conference had the effect, in a sense, of spotlighting disunity.

French President Charles de Gaulle was highly conspicuous by his absence here. U.S. and British spokesmen of course insisted there had never been any intention to have anything but a two-way Anglo-American parley.

That however is beside the point. Conversations here clearly underscored De Gaulle's stony opposition to any approach to Khrushchev on the Berlin issue, smacking of outright negotiations.

Kennedy and Macmillan propose that the U.S. ambassador do some more probing in Moscow to determine whether there is any basis for fruitful negotiations.

De Gaulle is represented in Paris as feeling strongly that there is nothing to negotiate regarding Berlin.

There is a growing body of opinion on both sides of the Atlantic that the Communists' open avowals of the intention to dominate the world should be taken seriously and that this rules out any idea of fruitful negotiations.

There had been a fair degree of unity in British and American views before the Bermuda meetings and the conference served to emphasize this to the rest of the world. The two leaders also can consider they have effectively told the world the West has done and still is doing all that could reasonably be considered possible to restrain themselves in the face of massive Soviet nuclear tests.

Red Infiltration From Cuba

Inter-American System Faces Test On Jan. 21

WASHINGTON (AP) — The inter-American system's ability to deal with such difficult political issues as what to do about Cuba will be put to the test next month at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

Foreign ministers of the 21 American republics will meet there Jan. 22 to discuss—and perhaps to take measures against—Communist infiltration from Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Castro, who has proclaimed himself a Marxist-Leninist on at least two occasions, still has a following in many Latin-American countries. Some governments, anxious to avoid internal strife, are careful to maintain a neutral attitude toward him.

This is reflected in part by the voting Dec. 4 when the foreign ministers' conference was approved by the Council of the Organization of American States.

Cuba, of course, voted against the proposal, which was introduced by Colombia.

Mexico also voted against the proposal—on what it said were juridical grounds. However, most diplomats here concede — though certainly not the Mexicans themselves—that Mexico would have been happier if the question had never come up.

Five other nations, all with deep internal political and economic problems, abstained from the voting — Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador.

His Christmas Wish

'Just A Job, Any Job,' Pleads Jobless Father

By GERRY WHITE
Cincinnati Enquirer Reporter

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Thomas Landrum shifted under the thin blankets on the bed and whispered his Christmas wish.

"Just a job, mister, just any job at all," he said.

He watched his wife and six children move in the two crowded rooms of their Bellevue home. He said, "Digging ditches, washing dishes, scrubbing floors, just a job. That's all I need."

His wish, if granted, would feed his family, would cloth them, would put shoes uponcold feet, more blankets on the two beds in the room, and some meat on the Christmas table.

"Last year, we had chicken for dinner, down in Alabama," he said, trying to gain some warmth under the ragged blankets. "I saw this guy carrying these baby chickens to the dump and he was going to kill them and bury them so I took them and raised them till they was grown, till they was big."

"They got real big, seven pounds some of them," Mrs. Landrum said. "They were good. I remember, they were real good."

Their barefoot children watched them. Tommy, 15, James 12, Richard 11, Betty 7, Rose, 6, and Debbie, 3—they hopped and ran and looked at their parents.

"We've been up here a week and we don't get anything from anybody, I know that, I don't want nothing, nothing but a job," he said. "I got a couple maybes over in Cincinnati. But nothing definite. Nothing until after Christmas, maybe. Not a thing."

He shoved worn hands through his long hair. He frowned as he watched the children shuffling across the cold floor.

"I had a good job up in the state of Washington," he said. "But I had to give it up because my mother got awful sick down in Alabama and I had to sell everything to go down there. And nothing turned out right down there. Nothing.

"Got to sharecropping. Only got seven bales of cotton to five acres so I had to move along. Just wasn't a darn thing else to do."

A radio choir chanted "Joy To The World" somewhere in the building. A bell tinkled. Landrum listened and looked at four faded Christmas cards tacked on the religious picture near the two beds.

"This is all the room we got, just this room and that one over there," he said. "So we all sleep in here. I'm in bed now because there's nothing else to do. Nothing to do but think about things. But we got a nice, dry place here. That's something to be thankful for."

"Okay, kids, come here, I gotta brush your hair, got to get you ready for bed," Mrs. Landrum shouted. She shooed them into the kitchen.

"We had a little money when we came here," Landrum said. "But we spent it for something for the kids. You know, you got to have something for the kids this time of year. They don't get much and that's a shame. You hate to disappoint the kids at this time of the year."

He sat up and his children ran into the room.

"Kids, kids, they're the ones who get hurt the most," he said. "But we'll have something at Christmas. Out there, out there in the kitchen, we got some canned goods, canned them down in Alabama and brought them all the way. A big dish of green beans, maybe some corn, that's a whole lot better than nothing on Christmas day."

He tugged again at the thin, patched blankets.

"You know, maybe I should have stayed in the Army, 12 years in the service, mess sergent, ain't that something," he said, wrinkling his forehead. "You heard of anybody needs a former serviceman for any spare job, you let me know.

"Just a job, mister, just any job at all."

Only 14,000 Ballots Expected

Texas Voters To Elect Successor To Rayburn

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Voters in the late Sam Rayburn's congressional district sought to elect his successor today.

Political observers expect last-minute Christmas chores to keep many away from the polls. As few as 14,000 ballots are expected.

Only 18,461 of about 45,000 eligible voters in the 4th District cast ballots earlier this year in a special U.S. Senate election.

The seven-county 4th District is the sixth least-populous in the nation with 216,371 residents. Rayburn for years persuaded the legislature to keep the district intact. He died Nov. 16 of cancer.

Running for his seat are three conservatives and four men pledged to carry on the tradition of Rayburn, who held the seat 48 years.

The conservatives are Conner Harrington, 36, and Plano Farmer, a Republican. Jack Finney, 45, a Greenville real estate operator calls himself a conservative Democrat.

The other four are Democrats who say their political views are close to those of Rayburn, who was considered a moderate-liberal in this state.

They are R. C. Slagle Jr., 51, a Sherman attorney who was the speaker's county campaign manager; Roy G. Baker, 47, a Sherman attorney who received two federal appointments through Rayburn; State Sen. Ray Roberts, 48, of McKinney, at one time the speaker's secretary; and David Brown, 41, a Sherman attorney who ran against Rayburn 13 years ago but who supported him after that.

If no candidate receives a majority over all others, a runoff must be held before Feb. 12 between the two top men. Politicians say a runoff is likely.

Polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Law forbids election officials to reveal results until the voting ends.

Lisbon Club Has Dinner Then Meets At Member's Home

A Christmas party was held by club 45 of Lisbon Thursday night with dinner at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana, followed by a social period at the home of Mrs. Richard Hooper for a gift exchange and cards.

The home was decorated in the holiday motif.

Next meeting is Jan. 10 with the place to be announced.

Christmas Party Held

The Thursday Night Bridge Club held its Christmas party with dinner at the Salem Golf Club and a gift exchange and social at the home of Mrs. George Porter of W. Lincoln Way.

The home was decorated with a twinkling tree, wreaths and other Yule trim.

Next meeting is Jan. 18 with Mrs. Charles Pike of Prospect St.

The Christmas meeting of the Bide-A-Wee Club was held Thursday night with Mrs. Seth Phelps of the Lisbon-Leetonia Rd.

Gifts were exchanged during a social.

Group Served Lunch

Lunch was served buffet style and guests were seated at three tables laid in a Christmas motif. The home was decorated.

Next meeting is Jan. 11 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Smith of W. Pine St.

Pride of Center Council 190, Daughters of America, met Thursday evening at the lodge hall with Mrs. Lydia Bennett, councilor, presiding.

Thirty-two members exchanged gifts during the party that followed. Honored for birthday anniversaries were Mrs. Ollie Carnes, Mrs. Lela Stock, Mrs. Marjorie Mitchell, Mrs. Virginia Williams and Mrs. Betty Stark.

Mrs. Olive Ogle and Mrs. Stark won prizes at games.

The social committee consisted of Mrs. Mary Spadero, Miss Laura McKee, Mrs. Lillian Ward and Mrs. Agnes Gray.

Next meeting is Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Husbands were guests at the Welcome Wagon Club's Christmas party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Bruce Black of Sunset Dr.

Seventeen were present. A coverdish dinner was served buffet style. The table was centered with a miniature Christmas tree in white and trimmed with gold and red baubles and candles. Members received Christmas corsages and the men boutonnieres.

Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi, president, conducted brief business when officers were elected.

Mrs. William Hackett will be president for 1962; Mrs. Black, vice president; Mrs. R. D. Young, secretary, and Mrs. James Horger, treasurer.

Games and carol singing followed.

Next meeting is Jan. 25.

Wellsville Cubs Get Awards At Yule Fete

Awards were presented to five boys of Cub Scout Pack 22 at the first annual Christmas meeting Tuesday night in the social rooms of the First Christian Church in Wellsville.

Don Hutchison, committee chairman, made the presentations to Jay Call, wolf badge; Craig Wilson, gold and silver arrow under the wolf; William Long, golden arrow under bear and Robert Long, golden arrow under wolf. Tommy Morrow received a den chief braid from his den mother, Mrs. Margie Kinzel.

Den 4 won attendance flag and Mrs. Alice Mackall led the group in carols. Den 1 was in charge of the bake sale. Santa Claus gave presents to all. Mrs. Carl Drummond, Cub Scout mother, gave a narration on the Nativity as she screened slides. Some 70 attended.

Suspect Nabbed In Shooting Of Man And Woman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A man and woman were shot to death late Friday night as they sat in a car at a west side intersection waiting for the traffic light to change. The suspected assailant was taken into custody.

Police identified the dead as Roosevelt Walters, 27, and Mrs. Ollie Mae Casey, 25, both Dayton Negroes.

The suspect was not immediately identified. Police said he was still at the scene of the shooting when they arrived, and that they confiscated two pistols from him.

A motive for the slayings was not disclosed.

Mrs. Casey was found lying next to the car after she either fell out or attempted to flee. Walters was still inside the car when police arrived. He had been shot in the head and chest.

Board To Cut Expense For Special Vote

The Columbiana County Election Board expects to exercise its prerogative under state law and use the so-called "economy plan" of smaller precinct staffs at lower rates of compensation for a special election Feb. 13 in the Southern Local School District, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, indicated today.

In the case of such a special election, the law allows the board to staff each polling place with four judges and clerks instead of the usual six and fix their day's pay at $12 instead of $16, O'Hanlon explained.

The election cost, most of which will be charged against the subdivision, is expected to total $1,200 to $1,400.

The district will vote on a controversial question whether the Franklin Township area should be permitted to merge with school districts in Carroll County. The Franklin Township area formerly was an autonomous school district known as Franklin Local. It was merged with Southern Local in action by the County Board of Education.

A long-drawn-out dispute before the school board and in Common Pleas Court resulted in a decision that the entire district will vote on the proposal to allow the Franklin Township segment to merge with the Fox, Augusta and East districts in Carroll County.

O'Hanlon said the board has taken all the necessary steps to prepare for the special election. It has obtained excerpts from the opinions of Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who held that Southern Local is a "legal district" and that the entire district has a right to vote on the transfer question, O'Hanlon said.

The district has 13 precincts, all in Columbiana County except the Brush Creek Precinct of Jefferson County.

Earlier, the board called for job-printers' bids on furnishing ballots for the special election. The bids will be received until Jan. 4 at 2 p.m.

Post Card Turns Up

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A post card addressed to Al Yancey of White, Ga., was found in the Post Office here. It was dated 1913 and signed "Sam." It said: "Hear the Kaiser is acting up. Hope there won't be trouble."

Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province, followed a planned development. It has neat houses, flower beds, shady streets and invitingly placed shops.

His Christmas Wish

'Just A Job, Any Job,' Pleads Jobless Father

By GERRY WHITE
Cincinnati Enquirer Reporter

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Thomas Landrum shifted under the thin blankets on the bed and whispered his Christmas wish.

"Just a job, mister, just any job at all," he said.

He watched his wife and six children move in the two crowded rooms of their Bellevue home. He said, "Digging ditches, washing dishes, scrubbing floors, just a job. That's all I need."

His wish, if granted, would feed his family, would cloth them, would put shoes uponcold feet, more blankets on the two beds in the room, and some meat on the Christmas table.

"Last year, we had chicken for dinner, down in Alabama," he said, trying to gain some warmth under the ragged blankets. "I saw this guy carrying these baby chickens to the dump and he was going to kill them and bury them so I took them and raised them till they was grown, till they was big."

"They got real big, seven pounds some of them," Mrs. Landrum said. "They were good. I remember, they were real good."

Their barefoot children watched them. Tommy, 15, James 12, Richard 11, Betty 7, Rose, 6, and Debbie, 3—they hopped and ran and looked at their parents.

"We've been up here a week and we don't get anything from anybody, I know that, I don't want nothing, nothing but a job," he said. "I got a couple maybes over in Cincinnati. But nothing definite. Nothing until after Christmas, maybe. Not a thing."

He shoved worn hands through his long hair. He frowned as he watched the children shuffling across the cold floor.

"I had a good job up in the state of Washington," he said. "But I had to give it up because my mother got awful sick down in Alabama and I had to sell everything to go down there. And nothing turned out right down there. Nothing.

"Got to sharecropping. Only got seven bales of cotton to five acres so I had to move along. Just wasn't a darn thing else to do."

A radio choir chanted "Joy To The World" somewhere in the building. A bell tinkled. Landrum listened and looked at four faded Christmas cards tacked on the religious picture near the two beds.

"This is all the room we got, just this room and that one over there," he said. "So we all sleep in here. I'm in bed now because there's nothing else to do. Nothing to do but think about things. But we got a nice, dry place here. That's something to be thankful for."

"Okay, kids, come here, I gotta brush your hair, got to get you ready for bed," Mrs. Landrum shouted. She shooed them into the kitchen.

"We had a little money when we came here," Landrum said. "But we spent it for something for the kids. You know, you got to have something for the kids this time of year. They don't get much and that's a shame. You hate to disappoint the kids at this time of the year."

He sat up and his children ran into the room.

"Kids, kids, they're the ones who get hurt the most," he said. "But we'll have something at Christmas. Out there, out there in the kitchen, we got some canned goods, canned them down in Alabama and brought them all the way. A big dish of green beans, maybe some corn, that's a whole lot better than nothing on Christmas day."

He tugged again at the thin, patched blankets.

"You know, maybe I should have stayed in the Army, 12 years in the service, mess sergent, ain't that something," he said, wrinkling his forehead. "You heard of anybody needs a former serviceman for any spare job, you let me know.

"Just a job, mister, just any job at all."

Wellsville Cubs Get Awards At Yule Fete

Awards were presented to five boys of Cub Scout Pack 22 at the first annual Christmas meeting Tuesday night in the social rooms of the First Christian Church in Wellsville.

Don Hutchison, committee chairman, made the presentations to Jay Call, wolf badge; Craig Wilson, gold and silver arrow under the wolf; William Long, golden arrow under bear and Robert Long, golden arrow under wolf. Tommy Morrow received a den chief braid from his den mother, Mrs. Margie Kinzel.

Den 4 won attendance flag and Mrs. Alice Mackall led the group in carols. Den 1 was in charge of the bake sale. Santa Claus gave presents to all. Mrs. Carl Drummond, Cub Scout mother, gave a narration on the Nativity as she screened slides. Some 70 attended.

Only 14,000 Ballots Expected

Texas Voters To Elect Successor To Rayburn

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Voters in the late Sam Rayburn's congressional district sought to elect his successor today.

Political observers expect last-minute Christmas chores to keep many away from the polls. As few as 14,000 ballots are expected.

Only 18,461 of about 45,000 eligible voters in the 4th District cast ballots earlier this year in a special U.S. Senate election.

The seven-county 4th District is the sixth least-populous in the nation with 216,371 residents. Rayburn for years persuaded the legislature to keep the district intact. He died Nov. 16 of cancer.

Running for his seat are three conservatives and four men pledged to carry on the tradition of Rayburn, who held the seat 48 years.

The conservatives are Conner Harrington, 36, and Plano Farmer, a Republican. Jack Finney, 45, a Greenville real estate operator calls himself a conservative Democrat.

The other four are Democrats who say their political views are close to those of Rayburn, who was considered a moderate-liberal in this state.

They are R. C. Slagle Jr., 51, a Sherman attorney who was the speaker's county campaign manager; Roy G. Baker, 47, a Sherman attorney who received two federal appointments through Rayburn; State Sen. Ray Roberts, 48, of McKinney, at one time the speaker's secretary; and David Brown, 41, a Sherman attorney who ran against Rayburn 13 years ago but who supported him after that.

If no candidate receives a majority over all others, a runoff must be held before Feb. 12 between the two top men. Politicians say a runoff is likely.

Polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Law forbids election officials to reveal results until the voting ends.

Lisbon Club Has Dinner Then Meets At Member's Home

A Christmas party was held by club 45 of Lisbon Thursday night with dinner at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana, followed by a social period at the home of Mrs. Richard Hooper for a gift exchange and cards.

The home was decorated in the holiday motif.

Next meeting is Jan. 10 with the place to be announced.

Christmas Party Held

The Thursday Night Bridge Club held its Christmas party with dinner at the Salem Golf Club and a gift exchange and social at the home of Mrs. George Porter of W. Lincoln Way.

The home was decorated with a twinkling tree, wreaths and other Yule trim.

Next meeting is Jan. 18 with Mrs. Charles Pike of Prospect St.

The Christmas meeting of the Bide-A-Wee Club was held Thursday night with Mrs. Seth Phelps of the Lisbon-Leetonia Rd.

Gifts were exchanged during a social.

Group Served Lunch

Lunch was served buffet style and guests were seated at three tables laid in a Christmas motif. The home was decorated.

Next meeting is Jan. 11 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Smith of W. Pine St.

Pride of Center Council 190, Daughters of America, met Thursday evening at the lodge hall with Mrs. Lydia Bennett, councilor, presiding.

Thirty-two members exchanged gifts during the party that followed. Honored for birthday anniversaries were Mrs. Ollie Carnes, Mrs. Lela Stock, Mrs. Marjorie Mitchell, Mrs. Virginia Williams and Mrs. Betty Stark.

Mrs. Olive Ogle and Mrs. Stark won prizes at games.

The social committee consisted of Mrs. Mary Spadero, Miss Laura McKee, Mrs. Lillian Ward and Mrs. Agnes Gray.

Next meeting is Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Husbands were guests at the Welcome Wagon Club's Christmas party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Bruce Black of Sunset Dr.

Seventeen were present. A coverdish dinner was served buffet style. The table was centered with a miniature Christmas tree in white and trimmed with gold and red baubles and candles. Members received Christmas corsages and the men boutonnieres.

Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi, president, conducted brief business when officers were elected.

Mrs. William Hackett will be president for 1962; Mrs. Black, vice president; Mrs. R. D. Young, secretary, and Mrs. James Horger, treasurer.

Games and carol singing followed.

Next meeting is Jan. 25.

Suspect Nabbed In Shooting Of Man And Woman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A man and woman were shot to death late Friday night as they sat in a car at a west side intersection waiting for the traffic light to change. The suspected assailant was taken into custody.

Police identified the dead as Roosevelt Walters, 27, and Mrs. Ollie Mae Casey, 25, both Dayton Negroes.

The suspect was not immediately identified. Police said he was still at the scene of the shooting when they arrived, and that they confiscated two pistols from him.

A motive for the slayings was not disclosed.

Mrs. Casey was found lying next to the car after she either fell out or attempted to flee. Walters was still inside the car when police arrived. He had been shot in the head and chest.

Board To Cut Expense For Special Vote

The Columbiana County Election Board expects to exercise its prerogative under state law and use the so-called "economy plan" of smaller precinct staffs at lower rates of compensation for a special election Feb. 13 in the Southern Local School District, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, indicated today.

In the case of such a special election, the law allows the board to staff each polling place with four judges and clerks instead of the usual six and fix their day's pay at $12 instead of $16, O'Hanlon explained.

The election cost, most of which will be charged against the subdivision, is expected to total $1,200 to $1,400.

The district will vote on a controversial question whether the Franklin Township area should be permitted to merge with school districts in Carroll County. The Franklin Township area formerly was an autonomous school district known as Franklin Local. It was merged with Southern Local in action by the County Board of Education.

A long-drawn-out dispute before the school board and in Common Pleas Court resulted in a decision that the entire district will vote on the proposal to allow the Franklin Township segment to merge with the Fox, Augusta and East districts in Carroll County.

O'Hanlon said the board has taken all the necessary steps to prepare for the special election. It has obtained excerpts from the opinions of Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who held that Southern Local is a "legal district" and that the entire district has a right to vote on the transfer question, O'Hanlon said.

The district has 13 precincts, all in Columbiana County except the Brush Creek Precinct of Jefferson County.

Earlier, the board called for job-printers' bids on furnishing ballots for the special election. The bids will be received until Jan. 4 at 2 p.m.

Construction Finished On Launch Pads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of the first 10 underground launch pads for Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles has been completed, Air Force sources said today.

Completion of this work on the 80-foot-deep, concrete-lined silos and a launch control center near Malmstrom Air Force Base in Montana opens the way for the year-long job of installing and checking out the system's complex electronic equipment.

The Air Force hopes it can get the first flight of 6,300-mile-range Minutemen ready for combat by late 1962.

The missile itself is expected to become operational about the middle of next year.

Earlier this week, the Minuteman scored its second straight successful test flight out over the Atlantic from a pit at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The fixed-base Minuteman program is being broadened in next year's military budget from 600 to a reported 800 long-range, solid-fuel missiles, which will be placed underground for maximum protection.

The Kennedy administration has dropped a plan to mount Minutemen on moving trains.

Air Force experts said the Minuteman base-building program is moving ahead with relatively few hitches.

Group Has Fete After Caroling

Carol singing at the City and Osteopathic Hospitals preceded the Christmas party of the Sweet Adelines Friday night in the Community Room of the Potters & Savings Loan Co. annex. Thirty-five attended.

Readings given were Mrs. Betty Damaska, "Christmas Spirit In Florida;" Mrs. Marie Stull, "Take Time to Think," and Mrs. Jan Dietz, "Give Me a Friend." Glenn Woods, director, led singing.

Winners at games and contests were Mrs. Vallie Mostoller, Mrs. Damaska and Mrs. Florence Gloeckner. Mrs. Madalyn Mack conducted the gift exchange and presented Mr. and Mrs. Woods with a gift from the chorus. Mrs. June Morgan was program chairman.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table set with holly and a Christmas centerpiece. Mrs. Marjorie Stover presided at the crystal punch bowl. Dolls dressed in holiday costumes were placed on another table.

Mrs. Ruth Rinehart was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Mary Tarbuck, Mrs. Lorida Harvey and Mrs. Mack.

There will be no meeting next Friday and the next is Jan. 5.

Youngstown Firebug Is On Loose Again

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown's firebug is on the loose again, starting another fire near the South Side area Friday night.

A rag was used to set fire to a car in a theater parking lot, burning the front seat. Actually, the site was in suburban Boardman just across the street from the Youngstown city line.

Fire officials said the car blaze was similar and followed the pattern of 25 other fires in the past two weeks. The peak outbreak was a 6-hour period Wednesday night and early Thursday when a dozen fires were set.

Soon after the car fire in Boardman, a young man wearing a leather jacket and cap threw a screwdriver at a man who spotted him trying to break into the rear of a tavern. The young man was carrying what appeared to be a tank of propane gas, police were told.

Holiday Traffic May Snuff Out 44 Lives On Ohio Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Christmas and New Year holiday traffic accidents may snuff out 44 lives on Ohio highways.

Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keyes made the estimate Friday at Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's weekly cabinet meeting.

He said 22 fatalities were expected between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday during the Christmas period count. Another 22 are expected during a similar tally for the New Year holiday period.

The count was 11 for the Christmas period last year and 15 for the New Year period for a total of 26. Heavy snow and severe cold cut driving during the previous holidays, officials recalled.

Keys has asked motorists to turn on their headlights in the daytime during this year's holidays as careful driving reminder.

Including holiday estimates, this year's Ohio highway fatality toll will reach 1,680, Keys figured. But he said that total should be 227 below the 1,907 fatalities last year and 173 under the 1,853 total in 1959.

Keys estimated the economic cost of highway traffic accidents this year at $280 million, compared with $320 million last year and $300 million in 1959. The estimates included $53.4 million for property damage in accidents this year, $58.8 million last year and $56.1 million in 1959.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston said his department has concentrated on improvements at accident - prone locations in an effort to cut the toll.

DiSalle suggested that Preston and Keys cooperate in making surveys to determine locations and conditions that might contribute to accidents. The governor said top priority should be given to correcting those conditions to prevent accidents.

Bond Is Set At $150,000 In Swindling

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Bond has been set at $150,000 for the man police call the ringleader of a group of truck drivers accused of swindling a Maumee grain firm of an estimated $350,000.

The bond was set Friday for Huie E. Krana, 27, of Davenport, Iowa, after he pleaded innocent to charges of larceny by trick, giving false grain weight and obtaining signatures by false pretenses.

The plea was entered before Judge John McCabe on indictments returned by the Lucas County Grand Jury. An additional bond of $25,000 was set on a fugitive warrant for Krana issued at Attala County, Miss.

Harry Friberg, Lucas County prosecutor, said Krana was on probation in Attala County for his part in a similar operation.

Authorities said the truck drivers, who were arrested after a trap was set for them at The Andersons Grain Elevator Dec. 6, tampered with scales at the elevator to make it appear that their truckloads of grain weighed more than they actually did.

The six named in the indictments with Krana are to be arraigned next Tuesday. They are free on bonds ranging from $10,000 to $15,000.

Claimed By Cancer

NORTON, Kan. (AP) — Dr. C. F. Taylor, 70, superintendent since 1930 of the Norton State Tuberculosis Sanatorium and a pioneer in the development of chest surgery for the treatment of tuberculosis, died Friday of cancer.

In parts of northern New England and eastern Canada the world's increasingly warmer weather has killed birch trees and spruce and balsam have suffered.

Kennedy's Greetings Given County Scouts

LISBON — Howard Firestone of Salem, president of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, today conveyed to county units President Kennedy's Christmas message to the Boy Scouts of America.

The message, received by Bennet D. Taylor of Lisbon, executive director of the council, said in part "you are all to be commended for your many contributions to the nation in 1961 as you carried forward many thousand programs under the theme, 'To Build, Serve and Achieve'."

200,000 Want DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Bi-Partisan Committee for Good State Government estimates that so far about 200,000 Ohio residents have signed petitions urging Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to change his mind and run for re-election.

Construction Finished On Launch Pads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of the first 10 underground launch pads for Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles has been completed, Air Force sources said today.

Completion of this work on the 80-foot-deep, concrete-lined silos and a launch control center near Malmstrom Air Force Base in Montana opens the way for the year-long job of installing and checking out the system's complex electronic equipment.

The Air Force hopes it can get the first flight of 6,300-mile-range Minutemen ready for combat by late 1962.

The missile itself is expected to become operational about the middle of next year.

Earlier this week, the Minuteman scored its second straight successful test flight out over the Atlantic from a pit at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The fixed-base Minuteman program is being broadened in next year's military budget from 600 to a reported 800 long-range, solid-fuel missiles, which will be placed underground for maximum protection.

The Kennedy administration has dropped a plan to mount Minutemen on moving trains.

Air Force experts said the Minuteman base-building program is moving ahead with relatively few hitches.

Group Has Fete After Caroling

Carol singing at the City and Osteopathic Hospitals preceded the Christmas party of the Sweet Adelines Friday night in the Community Room of the Potters & Savings Loan Co. annex. Thirty-five attended.

Readings given were Mrs. Betty Damaska, "Christmas Spirit In Florida;" Mrs. Marie Stull, "Take Time to Think," and Mrs. Jan Dietz, "Give Me a Friend." Glenn Woods, director, led singing.

Winners at games and contests were Mrs. Vallie Mostoller, Mrs. Damaska and Mrs. Florence Gloeckner. Mrs. Madalyn Mack conducted the gift exchange and presented Mr. and Mrs. Woods with a gift from the chorus. Mrs. June Morgan was program chairman.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table set with holly and a Christmas centerpiece. Mrs. Marjorie Stover presided at the crystal punch bowl. Dolls dressed in holiday costumes were placed on another table.

Mrs. Ruth Rinehart was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Mary Tarbuck, Mrs. Lorida Harvey and Mrs. Mack.

There will be no meeting next Friday and the next is Jan. 5.

Youngstown Firebug Is On Loose Again

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown's firebug is on the loose again, starting another fire near the South Side area Friday night.

A rag was used to set fire to a car in a theater parking lot, burning the front seat. Actually, the site was in suburban Boardman just across the street from the Youngstown city line.

Fire officials said the car blaze was similar and followed the pattern of 25 other fires in the past two weeks. The peak outbreak was a 6-hour period Wednesday night and early Thursday when a dozen fires were set.

Soon after the car fire in Boardman, a young man wearing a leather jacket and cap threw a screwdriver at a man who spotted him trying to break into the rear of a tavern. The young man was carrying what appeared to be a tank of propane gas, police were told.

Holiday Traffic May Snuff Out 44 Lives On Ohio Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Christmas and New Year holiday traffic accidents may snuff out 44 lives on Ohio highways.

Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keyes made the estimate Friday at Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's weekly cabinet meeting.

He said 22 fatalities were expected between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday during the Christmas period count. Another 22 are expected during a similar tally for the New Year holiday period.

The count was 11 for the Christmas period last year and 15 for the New Year period for a total of 26. Heavy snow and severe cold cut driving during the previous holidays, officials recalled.

Keys has asked motorists to turn on their headlights in the daytime during this year's holidays as careful driving reminder.

Including holiday estimates, this year's Ohio highway fatality toll will reach 1,680, Keys figured. But he said that total should be 227 below the 1,907 fatalities last year and 173 under the 1,853 total in 1959.

Keys estimated the economic cost of highway traffic accidents this year at $280 million, compared with $320 million last year and $300 million in 1959. The estimates included $53.4 million for property damage in accidents this year, $58.8 million last year and $56.1 million in 1959.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston said his department has concentrated on improvements at accident - prone locations in an effort to cut the toll.

DiSalle suggested that Preston and Keys cooperate in making surveys to determine locations and conditions that might contribute to accidents. The governor said top priority should be given to correcting those conditions to prevent accidents.

Bond Is Set At $150,000 In Swindling

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Bond has been set at $150,000 for the man police call the ringleader of a group of truck drivers accused of swindling a Maumee grain firm of an estimated $350,000.

The bond was set Friday for Huie E. Krana, 27, of Davenport, Iowa, after he pleaded innocent to charges of larceny by trick, giving false grain weight and obtaining signatures by false pretenses.

The plea was entered before Judge John McCabe on indictments returned by the Lucas County Grand Jury. An additional bond of $25,000 was set on a fugitive warrant for Krana issued at Attala County, Miss.

Harry Friberg, Lucas County prosecutor, said Krana was on probation in Attala County for his part in a similar operation.

Authorities said the truck drivers, who were arrested after a trap was set for them at The Andersons Grain Elevator Dec. 6, tampered with scales at the elevator to make it appear that their truckloads of grain weighed more than they actually did.

The six named in the indictments with Krana are to be arraigned next Tuesday. They are free on bonds ranging from $10,000 to $15,000.

Businessmen's Christmas Stockings To Be 'Fatter'

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen will find fatter Christmas stockings this year than they did a year ago.

They will, that is, if they have been smart boys and pushed sales and cut costs.

Economically, Christmas 1961 is in sharp contrast to Christmas 1960. A year ago the country was slipping close to the bottom of the recession. Now the economy is on an uptrend which most forecasters believe will glide well into next year.

Most segments of business in recent months have shown marked improvement which accelerated in November and December. The big remaining sore spot is unemployment. The profit squeeze produced by high operating costs has been a year-long headache.

Some good news came out during the week to add to the yule jollity in the business community.

Christmas buying continued to roll along at a good clip in most areas. This prompted Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges to say that his forecast that Christmas shopping may be 4 to 5 per cent above the record level of a year ago may be too low.

The Commerce Department also reported:

American personal incomes climbed $4 billion in November to an annual rate of $429 billion.

Corporate profits in the third quarter reached an annual rate of $47 billion, up from $45.2 billion in the second quarter, and prospects are for a $50 billion rate in the fourth quarter.

Sales of durable goods rose 3 per cent in November and new orders at factories increased 1 per cent. Both were at record levels.

Factory shipments showed an increase of about 16 per cent over a year ago. Biggest gains were made by automobile and metalworking plants.

Hodges called the gains "a part of the total picture of greater confidence on the part of individuals and the business community in the economy and in the administration's policies."

The National Electrical Manufacturers Association estimated that shipments of appliances this year will increase 1.4 per cent over 1960.

The Federal Housing Administration reported the rate of applications for insurance of new home mortgages in November inched to the highest point in nearly two years. Applications were received at an annual rate of 275,000, up from 274,000 in October.

Housing starts declined 6 per cent in November from the October level. But the government continued to predict that starts for 1961 will total 1.3 million, compared with 1.24 million in 1960.

Stock sales during the week totaled 17,716,070 shares, down from the 21,990,435 shares of the previous week and below the 18,425,281 shares for the comparable week a year ago. Bond sales also were down at $30,642,000 par value for the week as compared with $35,495,000 for the previous week and $32,213,500 for the comparable 1960 week.

Steel production last week hit a 19-month high for the third week in a row. Output totaled 2.2 million tons, a gain of almost 2 per cent over the 2,158,000 tons of the previous week. Mills were operating at an average of 75 per cent of capacity.

Steel orders have picked up to such an extent that producers have fallen behind in filling them. An industry publication, Iron Age, said many steel products are on a virtual allocation through the first quarter of next year.

Automobile production tapered off during the week to an estimated 148,000 passenger cars from 165,237 last week. The reason was that all plants eliminated Saturday overtime for the beginning of the holiday period.

The week's output brought production for the year to 5,411,561, about 18 per cent below the 6,598,755 assembled in the like period of this year. Production was curtailed in the first half of this year.

The specter of a strike—this time on a smaller scale—again hung over the auto industry. The United Auto Workers union expressed dissatisfaction with a contract offer by Studebaker-Packard.

U.S. Seeks Injunction Against GE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — The federal government has asked an all-inclusive permanent injunction banning the General Electric company from conspiring to fix prices or rig bids on any item it manufactures.

The request for the injunction, filed Friday in U.S. District Court, covers a range from a small household light bulb to a part for a guided missile—so long as someone else manufactures the same item.

The action was taken, the Justice Department said, because of GE's "proclivity for persistent and frequent involvement in antitrust violations," and because the public "is entitled to comprehensive equitable relief — without waiting for it (GE) to engage in additional conspiracies."

Laurence I. Wood, GE vice president and general counsel, commented in New York that the action was "unfair, unreasonable and unnecessary." He said it "seeks orders to prevent the company from doing what it has no intention of doing."

The action was filed with the same court where GE was fined heavily early this year for antitrust violations. It adds to and consolidates 18 such court orders sought against GE in heavy electrical equipment fields.

The heavy electrical equipment complaints stem from fines of $437,550 against GE and jail terms for three of its executives for participating in what the government has termed the nation's largest antitrust conspiracy. Twenty-eight other companies and 45 of their executives were involved. Judge J. Cullen Ganey levied fines totalling $1.9 million and sent seven individuals to jail.

The amended complaint noted 39 separate antitrust actions against General Electric, 36 since 1941. In 29 of these, the company was convicted, the complaint stated.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the government's move against General Electric did not involve any of the 28 other companies convicted in federal court, and against which civil actions are pending asking millions of dollars in damages.

The government is seeking to have these other defendants sign consent judgments in which they would pledge not to conspire to fix prices.

Wood said GE stood its ground because it believed it was legally correct and consistent with national policy of "maintaining fair and vigorous competition."

Girl, 14, Back After Attending Russian School

NEW YORK (AP)—14-year-old Hulda Clark, the Negro girl who went to school in the Soviet Union as a protest against discrimination in the United States, has returned to spend Christmas with her family.

"The Soviet people wish you happiness, peace and a happy new year," she told newsmen after conferring with her father on arrival Friday night at Idlewild Airport.

Her father, William Clark of Newark, N. J., declined to let Hulda answer reporters' questions. However, he said he gave "the highest thanks to Nikita Khrushchev for helping her to escape Jim Crowism."

"Thanks also," he added, "to Nina Khrushchev, who personally supervised my child's visit back to the United States."

In a prepared statement read to newsmen, he added: "This is crystal-clear proof that a person can return from the Soviet Union. In the case of little Emmett Till, who went to Mississippi, U.S.A., little Emmett was unable to return home."

Emmett Till was lynched in Mississippi.

Key Factor In '61 Recovery

Federal Spending To Give Business Big Boost In '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government spending, a key factor in the economic recovery of 1961, will give business another big lift in the coming year.

Federal purchases of goods and services are expected to total at least $62 billion, up sharply from a 1961 level of $56.9 billion. That would be the biggest year-to-year advance since the 1953 military buildup associated with the Korean war.

There is a fair chance that the spending boom will carry even farther. Some experts here think the level of purchases may go as high as $63 billion.

The greatest upward thrust will come during the first half of the year if the spending pattern develops as forecast. The rate of increase should begin to taper off by summer because of Kennedy administration efforts to produce a balanced budget. Even so, federal outlays will increase throughout 1962.

Federal purchases of goods and services directly reflect the government's contribution to the gross national product—the GNP—the most comprehensive economic indicator. The GNP measures total output of goods and services.

Here is how the government's share of the GNP increased in 1961, with all figures at seasonally adjusted annual rates:

January-March $54.7 billion; April-June, $56.6 billion; July-September, $57.4 billion, and October-December, $59.1 billion.

For 1962, here is an unofficial projection based on talks with economists at several agencies:

January-March, $60.8 billion; April-June, $61.7 billion; July-September, $62.4 billion, and October-December, $63.1 billion.

One major factor behind the rising trend was President Kennedy's decision to bolster conventional military forces. Although missiles and other sophisticated weapons for nuclear war are fantastically expensive, added funds for conventional forces are spent more quickly.

A marked step up in the arming of conventional forces could add new millions to the projection of 1962 federal purchases. This appears to be the likeliest area for further expansion.

Stronger Aid Programs

Agricultural Situation Showed Gains During '61

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's agriculture saw its economic situation improved somewhat in 1961 as the federal government embarked anew on stronger farm-aid programs.

Net income of farm operators was expected by the Agriculture Department to total around one billion dollars more than the $11.7 billion earned in 1960.

Much of this increase reflected policies and programs of the Kennedy administration which sought to reverse those of the Eisenhower administration reducing the federal role in agriculture.

The new programs included higher farm product price supports and a plan under which feed grain producers were paid slightly more than three-quarters of a billion dollars to reduce production of corn and sorghum grains, crops available in oversupply.

The 1961 farm income continued considerably below levels of the late 1940s and early 1950s, and far below the amount the Kennedy administration considered necessary to provide farmers a fair share of the national income. By comparison, farm operators earned a record $17.8 billion in 1948 and $135 billion as late as 1958.

Improved economic conditions were not general throughout agriculture. In several sections the situation deteriorated because of lower prices for such products as poultry and eggs, beef cattle, potatoes and some lesser crops. Too, the northern Great Plains suffered from a severe summer drought.

Where the Eisenhower administration had taken the stand that farm markets and production unhampered by government controls and regulation offered an eventual solution to farm income problems, the new administration took a position that it was essential that government embark upon a farm commodity supply control program.

The Kennedy administration did not get from Congress all the power and authority it needed to carry out its policies. As a consequence, both it and agriculture face a number of problems that may prevent any further upturn in farm earnings in 1962.

To make its policies work effectively, the administration would need power to control production of most crops and livestock products so that supplies could be brought into balance with commercial market needs and supplies donated under welfare and foreign aid programs.

The new year is expected to see the administration press Congress for additional authority to carry out its policies. This would be done in a political atmosphere because most lawmakers will be looking ahead to the November congressional elections.

As has been the case for a number of years, agriculture—as represented by its private organizations—continued to be divided sharply over what government should do. The influential American Farm Bureau Federation continued to fight for less government in agriculture, but the National Farmers' Union and the National Grange largely backed the policies of the Kennedy regime. This division is expected to continue in 1962.

Total farm production in 1961 was about the same as the record high set in 1960. Crop volume was down under influence of crop control programs, but production of livestock and livestock prices was up. Next year's operations are expected to match this year's, unless, of course, adverse weather conditions should interfere.

Current Events Report Made Too Realistic

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The eighth grader from Mogadore wound up in custody of juvenile court authorities Friday because he made his current events report a little too realistic.

The 14-year-old boy wrote about a break-in at a Mogadore hardware store in which a .22-caliber rifle and 2,000 rounds of ammunition were stolen. The teacher felt the report contained too many details and conveyed an "I was there" touch. She questioned the boy, but his glib answer was that he heard about it on the radio.

Still not satisfied, she told police about the boy's report. Police were interested because they had made no public report of the Dec. 11 burglary and were still investigating.

Questioned by officers, the boy admitted the crime.

Key Factor In '61 Recovery

Federal Spending To Give Business Big Boost In '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government spending, a key factor in the economic recovery of 1961, will give business another big lift in the coming year.

Federal purchases of goods and services are expected to total at least $62 billion, up sharply from a 1961 level of $56.9 billion. That would be the biggest year-to-year advance since the 1953 military buildup associated with the Korean war.

There is a fair chance that the spending boom will carry even farther. Some experts here think the level of purchases may go as high as $63 billion.

The greatest upward thrust will come during the first half of the year if the spending pattern develops as forecast. The rate of increase should begin to taper off by summer because of Kennedy administration efforts to produce a balanced budget. Even so, federal outlays will increase throughout 1962.

Federal purchases of goods and services directly reflect the government's contribution to the gross national product—the GNP—the most comprehensive economic indicator. The GNP measures total output of goods and services.

Here is how the government's share of the GNP increased in 1961, with all figures at seasonally adjusted annual rates:

January-March $54.7 billion; April-June, $56.6 billion; July-September, $57.4 billion, and October-December, $59.1 billion.

For 1962, here is an unofficial projection based on talks with economists at several agencies:

January-March, $60.8 billion; April-June, $61.7 billion; July-September, $62.4 billion, and October-December, $63.1 billion.

One major factor behind the rising trend was President Kennedy's decision to bolster conventional military forces. Although missiles and other sophisticated weapons for nuclear war are fantastically expensive, added funds for conventional forces are spent more quickly.

A marked step up in the arming of conventional forces could add new millions to the projection of 1962 federal purchases. This appears to be the likeliest area for further expansion.

Stronger Aid Programs

Agricultural Situation Showed Gains During '61

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's agriculture saw its economic situation improved somewhat in 1961 as the federal government embarked anew on stronger farm-aid programs.

Net income of farm operators was expected by the Agriculture Department to total around one billion dollars more than the $11.7 billion earned in 1960.

Much of this increase reflected policies and programs of the Kennedy administration which sought to reverse those of the Eisenhower administration reducing the federal role in agriculture.

The new programs included higher farm product price supports and a plan under which feed grain producers were paid slightly more than three-quarters of a billion dollars to reduce production of corn and sorghum grains, crops available in oversupply.

The 1961 farm income continued considerably below levels of the late 1940s and early 1950s, and far below the amount the Kennedy administration considered necessary to provide farmers a fair share of the national income. By comparison, farm operators earned a record $17.8 billion in 1948 and $135 billion as late as 1958.

Improved economic conditions were not general throughout agriculture. In several sections the situation deteriorated because of lower prices for such products as poultry and eggs, beef cattle, potatoes and some lesser crops. Too, the northern Great Plains suffered from a severe summer drought.

Where the Eisenhower administration had taken the stand that farm markets and production unhampered by government controls and regulation offered an eventual solution to farm income problems, the new administration took a position that it was essential that government embark upon a farm commodity supply control program.

The Kennedy administration did not get from Congress all the power and authority it needed to carry out its policies. As a consequence, both it and agriculture face a number of problems that may prevent any further upturn in farm earnings in 1962.

To make its policies work effectively, the administration would need power to control production of most crops and livestock products so that supplies could be brought into balance with commercial market needs and supplies donated under welfare and foreign aid programs.

The new year is expected to see the administration press Congress for additional authority to carry out its policies. This would be done in a political atmosphere because most lawmakers will be looking ahead to the November congressional elections.

As has been the case for a number of years, agriculture—as represented by its private organizations—continued to be divided sharply over what government should do. The influential American Farm Bureau Federation continued to fight for less government in agriculture, but the National Farmers' Union and the National Grange largely backed the policies of the Kennedy regime. This division is expected to continue in 1962.

Total farm production in 1961 was about the same as the record high set in 1960. Crop volume was down under influence of crop control programs, but production of livestock and livestock prices was up. Next year's operations are expected to match this year's, unless, of course, adverse weather conditions should interfere.

Kuzma's Squad Gains 7th Straight; ELHS Travels To Massillon

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A fast-moving Midland team, precisioned in the art of moving a basketball, passed its way around the East Liverpool Potters and to a near rout in a 59-43 victory Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

What will probably be the best crown of the season — 1,600 — looked on, but the Potter fans couldn't believe what they saw since the contest was picked to be a much closer battle.

Hank Kuzma's team wasted little time in starting on its seventh straight victory without a defeat. The issue was pretty well settled in the first quarter.

East Liverpool was dropped from the unbeaten ranks, losing its first game in three contests. The Potters still could give Coach Jim Harris an enjoyable Christmas, however, with a victory tonight at Massillon in a Big 8 Conference battle.

GAME TIME at Massillon will be 8:30 following a reserve contest which will get under way at 7. The Potters are seeking their third straight conference victory.

Midland now turns to its own Holiday tournament next Wednesday and Thursday. The Leopards face Wellsville in the first round.

Harris admitted his Potters were "too slow" against the faster Leopards. East Liverpool's performance was sluggish.

The game was tied at 2-2, but after that it was Midland all the way. The Potters never led in the game.

About the only thing accomplished by the Potters Friday night was the fact that Al Aloi, Midland's top scorer who came into the game with a 22-point average, was held to his season's low.

Gary "Huck" Steffen was mostly responsible, but it also proved costly as he fouled out with 2:28 remaining in the game.

Aloi wound up with 15 points. His previous low was 18 against Aliquippa last Tuesday. His scoring was split up pretty well. Doing much of the damage to the Potters were Midland's inside combination of Bill Sallis, 6-foot-2, and Sam Forester, 6-foot-1½.

Sallis and Forester completely outplayed East Liverpool's Dave Harriel and Ed Prentice. Besides doing most of the rebounding the two cagers scored a total of 23 points, Sallis collecting 10 and Forester 13.

—:—

RICH LAKE, a ball-stealing artist, tallied eight points and substitute Earl Vaughn turned in another good job in relief with nine markers. Harry Petroskey's four points rounded out the scoring.

Other than Jack Deshler, who was booming in some long one-handers, the Potters didn't have much of an offense. Deshler took scoring honors as he finished with 16 points on eight field goals.

Steffen was next in line with 11, his best offensive thrust of the season. Dean Cline fired in nine and Harriel seven. Prentice had one field goal and sat out a good bit of the second half with four personal fouls.

To make matters worse, the Potters didn't get any help from the bench as they had in the season's opening win over Alliance.

Shooting percentages show that Kuzma's squad put the ball through the hoop for 45 percent on 22 field goals in 48 attempts.

The Potters took 61 shots, including many long - distance attempts, and made 19 for a 31 percent shooting average.

Midland went from a 2-2 tie in the first period to an 18-8 lead when the quarter ended. Forester's six points led the early going. In the second period Deshler pumped in eight of the Potters' 11 markers but didn't cut the lead much as Midland took the halftime break with a 28-19 margin.

The Leopards outscored East Liverpool 14-12 in the third quarter and waltzed into the final eight minutes with a 42-31 margin. Vaughn led the fourth - quarter proceedings with seven points.

Browns Sign Brown, Syracuse U. Rookie

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have signed another rookie from Syracuse University.

John Brown, a 6-foot-3, 248-pound tackle, came to the National Football League team a day after all-America halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse let it be known that the Browns were his choice also.

Brown was drafted a year ago as a future choice, and Coach Paul E. Brown calls him "one of the best line prospects in recent years."

The coach thinks the Camden, N. J., boy has the speed and size to do so well in the pro game. Brown is slated either for offensive guard or tackle.

The lineman was drafted also by the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League.

Kansas State Faces Kentucky In Finals

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — As expected, fourth-ranked Kansas State and Kentucky will play for the championship of the annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament tonight, thanks to a couple of one-man shows.

Kansas State's Mike Wroblewski wrecked Xavier's hopes for an upset by leading the undefeated Musketeers from Cincinnati Friday night. And Kentucky's Larry Pursiful set a tournament record for field goals with 17 in the Wildcats' 96-69 triumph over Tennessee.

Potter Subs Nip Midland For 3rd Win

East Liverpool's reserve forces came from far behind to upend Midland in a tight contest, 40-39, Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Trailing 10-2 at the end of the first period and 23-12 at halftime, the Potters came within four points at the end of the third quarter, 29-25, then overtook the young Leopards in the final minutes.

Dave Bowersock paced Coach Frank Chan's Potters to their third straight victory with 10 points while Dave Oliver dropped in nine.

Rod Alston led all scorers for Midland with 11.

Pittsburgh Rens Jolted From Top, To Battle Pipers

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Rens, who got a 24-hour sniff of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League, get another chance to move into the top spot all by themselves tonight when they play the Cleveland Pipers at Cleveland.

The Chicago Majors came from behind in the second half Friday night to whip the Rens, 102-89 at Pittsburgh. The defeat enabled the idle Pipers to climb back into a tie for first place with the Rens.

In the only other game of the night, San Francisco defeated Hawaii, 117-113, in a battle between the tail-enders of the Eastern Division. The victory gave the Saints a sweep of their 5-series with the Chiefs and enabled them to climb within 4½ games of Los Angeles.

3 Records Shattered In Chicago U. Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Three new field house records were broken Friday night as 300 athletes from 35 schools and colleges competed in the 9th annual University of Chicago holiday meet in the University of Chicago field house.

Rimas Vaicaitis of the host school walked the mile in 6:27.9, bettering the previous field house record of 6:51.3.

Tigers' Superior Height Leads To Beavers' Second Defeat

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Wellsville High eased to its first victory of the season Friday night in thumping a young, inexperienced Beaver Local quint, 64-49.

With superior height and shooting power spelling the difference, the tall Tigers seized command early and breezed to an easy triumph before 400 fans at the Beaver Local gym.

Wellsville Coach Jack McDevitt, rebuilding a sectional contender with four juniors and a senior, used his entire varsity roster in readying the squad for a Friday night date with Lisbon and a tough holiday tournament next week.

The Tigers hit 34 per cent in shooting field goals but left a lot to expect in the way of teamwork and all-around finess. Missed opportunities to pass to an open teammate plagued the squad the entire distance.

The Beavers, short on size and experience, flashed plenty of hustle and determination but could attribute their second defeat in three games to inaccuracy from the floor.

Hitting only one field goal in 13 tries for the opening quarter, the Beavers fell behind, 16 - 5, and could never get their long-range bombardment to produce points consistently.

Coach Tom McCall's Beavers, lacking a tall man for an inside scoring threat, were forced to fire from far in the backcourt and managed to hit only 18 of 58 shots.

Beaver forward John Broadbent used his quickness to make several nice steals of stray Wellsville passes to score easy layups. He led his squad with six goals and a pair of fouls for 14 points.

Wellsville's touted center, Steve Baldwin, used his size to help the Tigers control the boards in the early part of the game, also getting them off to a 6-0 lead on two quick field goals and two free throws.

Baldwin got into personal foul difficulties early and saw only limited action. His 16 points on six goals and four foul shots topped the Tiger attack.

McDevitt zipped substitutes in and out of the action throughout, leaving only starter Alvin Thompson, 5-10 junior guard, in the game for any long period.

Thompson came through with his second aggressive performance, playing an alert defensive game and adding 10 points to the Tiger attack.

The starters were Baldwin and Thompson, plus Ed Nelson and Don Welch and Roger Ours, the latter three in the action only for brief periods at a time.

Ours finished with nine points, while Nelson had four and Welch contributed one. John Euill, apparently the sixth man in the lineup, got six points.

Broadbent, 6-0 senior, was the only Beaver to hit in double figures. Guard John Baker, who likes to fire from far to the outside, couldn't zero in on the hoop and finished with four points. He was the game's only foul casualty, checking out at 7:28 of the final period.

Scoring eight points each for the Beavers were George Gaydos, Aliulis and Dave Hawkins.

Wellsville appeared a solid winner from the early moments, rolling to a 12-2 lead before the Beavers could tally.

The Beavers cut the lead to 33-28 early in the third period, but that was the closest they managed to come the rest of the game.

Then it was nearly all Wellsville as the Beavers found themselves falling quickly out of contention with inaccurate shooting.

The Beavers are now 1-2, and Wellsville even at 1-1. The Tigers visit Lisbon Friday night for their third game of the week.

In the preliminary, Coach Chick McMillan's Tiger reserves spurted late to nip the Beaver Local reserves, 42-36, in a well-played game.

The victory was the second in a row for the Tiger reserves, led by Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior, Milton Martin, 6-3 junior, and Jim Powell, 5-8 junior.

Powell led Wellsville with 11 points. Gary Berhar got eight and Gary Shaw, seven, for the losers.

Kansas State Faces Kentucky In Finals

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — As expected, fourth-ranked Kansas State and Kentucky will play for the championship of the annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament tonight, thanks to a couple of one-man shows.

Kansas State's Mike Wroblewski wrecked Xavier's hopes for an upset by leading the undefeated Musketeers from Cincinnati Friday night. And Kentucky's Larry Pursiful set a tournament record for field goals with 17 in the Wildcats' 96-69 triumph over Tennessee.

Potter Subs Nip Midland For 3rd Win

East Liverpool's reserve forces came from far behind to upend Midland in a tight contest, 40-39, Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Trailing 10-2 at the end of the first period and 23-12 at halftime, the Potters came within four points at the end of the third quarter, 29-25, then overtook the young Leopards in the final minutes.

Dave Bowersock paced Coach Frank Chan's Potters to their third straight victory with 10 points while Dave Oliver dropped in nine.

Rod Alston led all scorers for Midland with 11.

Pittsburgh Rens Jolted From Top, To Battle Pipers

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Rens, who got a 24-hour sniff of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League, get another chance to move into the top spot all by themselves tonight when they play the Cleveland Pipers at Cleveland.

The Chicago Majors came from behind in the second half Friday night to whip the Rens, 102-89 at Pittsburgh. The defeat enabled the idle Pipers to climb back into a tie for first place with the Rens.

In the only other game of the night, San Francisco defeated Hawaii, 117-113, in a battle between the tail-enders of the Eastern Division. The victory gave the Saints a sweep of their 5-series with the Chiefs and enabled them to climb within 4½ games of Los Angeles.

3 Records Shattered In Chicago U. Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Three new field house records were broken Friday night as 300 athletes from 35 schools and colleges competed in the 9th annual University of Chicago holiday meet in the University of Chicago field house.

Rimas Vaicaitis of the host school walked the mile in 6:27.9, bettering the previous field house record of 6:51.3.

Tigers' Superior Height Leads To Beavers' Second Defeat

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Wellsville High eased to its first victory of the season Friday night in thumping a young, inexperienced Beaver Local quint, 64-49.

With superior height and shooting power spelling the difference, the tall Tigers seized command early and breezed to an easy triumph before 400 fans at the Beaver Local gym.

Wellsville Coach Jack McDevitt, rebuilding a sectional contender with four juniors and a senior, used his entire varsity roster in readying the squad for a Friday night date with Lisbon and a tough holiday tournament next week.

The Tigers hit 34 per cent in shooting field goals but left a lot to expect in the way of teamwork and all-around finess. Missed opportunities to pass to an open teammate plagued the squad the entire distance.

The Beavers, short on size and experience, flashed plenty of hustle and determination but could attribute their second defeat in three games to inaccuracy from the floor.

Hitting only one field goal in 13 tries for the opening quarter, the Beavers fell behind, 16 - 5, and could never get their long-range bombardment to produce points consistently.

Coach Tom McCall's Beavers, lacking a tall man for an inside scoring threat, were forced to fire from far in the backcourt and managed to hit only 18 of 58 shots.

Beaver forward John Broadbent used his quickness to make several nice steals of stray Wellsville passes to score easy layups. He led his squad with six goals and a pair of fouls for 14 points.

Wellsville's touted center, Steve Baldwin, used his size to help the Tigers control the boards in the early part of the game, also getting them off to a 6-0 lead on two quick field goals and two free throws.

Baldwin got into personal foul difficulties early and saw only limited action. His 16 points on six goals and four foul shots topped the Tiger attack.

McDevitt zipped substitutes in and out of the action throughout, leaving only starter Alvin Thompson, 5-10 junior guard, in the game for any long period.

Thompson came through with his second aggressive performance, playing an alert defensive game and adding 10 points to the Tiger attack.

The starters were Baldwin and Thompson, plus Ed Nelson and Don Welch and Roger Ours, the latter three in the action only for brief periods at a time.

Ours finished with nine points, while Nelson had four and Welch contributed one. John Euill, apparently the sixth man in the lineup, got six points.

Broadbent, 6-0 senior, was the only Beaver to hit in double figures. Guard John Baker, who likes to fire from far to the outside, couldn't zero in on the hoop and finished with four points. He was the game's only foul casualty, checking out at 7:28 of the final period.

Scoring eight points each for the Beavers were George Gaydos, Aliulis and Dave Hawkins.

Wellsville appeared a solid winner from the early moments, rolling to a 12-2 lead before the Beavers could tally.

The Beavers cut the lead to 33-28 early in the third period, but that was the closest they managed to come the rest of the game.

Then it was nearly all Wellsville as the Beavers found themselves falling quickly out of contention with inaccurate shooting.

The Beavers are now 1-2, and Wellsville even at 1-1. The Tigers visit Lisbon Friday night for their third game of the week.

In the preliminary, Coach Chick McMillan's Tiger reserves spurted late to nip the Beaver Local reserves, 42-36, in a well-played game.

The victory was the second in a row for the Tiger reserves, led by Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior, Milton Martin, 6-3 junior, and Jim Powell, 5-8 junior.

Powell led Wellsville with 11 points. Gary Berhar got eight and Gary Shaw, seven, for the losers.

Pre-Tourney Draws Announced For Ohio High School Cage Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio High School Athletic Association announced Friday the pre-tournament draws for the state high school basketball tournament next March.

The Class AA and A championship games will be held at St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus March 23 and 24.

W. J. McConnell, commissioner of the OHSAA, said the decision to determine the draws for the state classic in advance came on the recommendation of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association.

In past years, tournament pairings were picked out of a hat on the Sunday morning following regionals finals.

McConnell said one of the major factors for the new policy was the need for better scouting in certain areas. The commissioner said pairings under the new setup also were determined by drawing from a hat.

In other action, McConnell announced that Angus King, superintendent of interscholastic athletics for Cincinnati public schools, has been elected president of the OHSAA's state Board of Control. R. M. Morrison, of North Robinson, was chosen vice president.

Here is the step by step path to the state high school basketball tournament championship, with dates, sites and pairings:

CLASS AA

Region 1—Kent State University, March 14, 15 and 17. District winners from Eastlake North, Bedford, Kent and Youngstown.

Region 2—Toledo University and Bowling Green State University, March 16 and 17. District winners from Berea, Bowling Green, Marion and Toledo. On March 16, there will be one game at each site and the finals will be held at Toledo University March 17.

Region 3 — Columbus Fairgrounds, March 16 and 17. District winners from Athens, Canton, Columbus and Steubenville.

Region 4—Cincinnati Gardens, March 16 and 17. District winners from Cincinnati, Oxford, Dayton Troy.

CLASS A

Region 5—Canton Field House, March 16 and 17. District winners from Canton (3 teams) and Steubenville.

Region 6—Lima Senior High School, March 16 and 17. District winners from Defiance, Lima, Mansfield and Tiffin.

Region 7 — Ohio University, Athens, March 16 and 17. District winners from Athens (2 teams), New Concord and Columbus.

Region 8—Hobart Arena, Troy, March 16 and 17. District winners from Cincinnati Princeton High School, Dayton, Springfield and Columbus.

The CLASS AA pre-tournament draw results in these pairings:

Region 1—Bedford winner vs. Eastlake North winner; Youngstown winner vs. Kent winner.

Region 2—Toledo vs. Bowling Green (at Bowling Green); Marion vs. Berea (at Toledo University).

Region 3—Canton vs. Athens; Steubenville vs. Columbus.

Region 4—Cincinnati vs. Dayton; Troy vs. Oxford.

The CLASS A pre-tournament draw results in these pairings:

Region 5—Canton bracket No. 2 vs. Steubenville; Canton bracket No. 1 vs. Canton bracket No. 3.

Region 6—Tiffin vs. Mansfield (at Shawnee High School, Lima); Lima vs. Defiance (at Lima Senior High School); finals at Lima Senior High School.

Region 7—Columbus vs. Athens lower bracket; Athens upper bracket vs. New Concord.

Region 8—Springfield vs. Dayton; Columbus vs. Cincinnati Princeton.

The CLASS AA pre-tournament draw for the state high school championship round:

Region No. 1 winner vs. Region No. 2 winner; region No. 4 winner vs. region No. 3 winner.

The CLASS A pre-tournament draw for the state high school championship round:

Region No. 7 winner vs. region No. 5 winner; region No. 6 winner vs. region No. 8 winner.

Portsmouth in Class AA and Ayersville in Class A are the defending champions.

Mighty OSU, USC Face Long-Shot Dark Horses

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and Southern California, two of the nation's best, face a couple of long-shot dark horses tonight in their last outings before the Los Angeles Basketball classic—one of the country's top holiday invitationals.

Their matches, along with the Kentucky-Kansas State clash for the title in the Kentucky Invitational, top a relatively sparse Saturday schedule.

The mighty Buckeyes, unbeaten in six games and No. 1 in the nation are at home to meet Penn State (5-1) while the sixth-ranked Trojans visit unbeaten Utah State (7-0).

Southern Cal, with all letterman back from a team that ranked seventh in the nation in the final Associated Press poll last season, stormed over Wyoming 76-54 Friday night for its sixth victory against a lone defeat, a 66-56 upset at the hands of Oklahoma.

Utah State, while unbeaten, has not played the schedule so far encountered by the Trojans, and hopes to find them looking ahead to next week's tourney.

John Rudometkin, who owns the Southern Cal career scoring record, tossed in 23 more and grabbed 23 rebounds in the victory at Laramie, Wyo. His efforts helped the Trojans to a 22-11 lead midway through the first half and Wyoming wasn't close again.

Kentucky punished Tennessee 96-69 and Kansas State dropped Xavier 75-67 in first round games and gained the finals of the Kentucky tournament, while Utah, paced by Bill McGill, drubbed Arizona State 102-89 in last night's other top games.

McGill, a 6-foot-9 center who owns the country's best collegiate scoring average, 37 points, popped in 47 despite a two- and sometimes three-man defense thrown against him by the slumping Sun Devils.

Arizona State had started the week tied for 10th in the nation, but lost to Indiana and Minnesota before running into Utah on its current tour. Utah's only loss in eight games was 78-76 to the same Arizona State team earlier in the season.

Mike Wroblewski was the big gun as fourth ranked Kansas State remained unbeaten in seven games. He contributed 31 points, 21 in the last half, and including eight straight as the Wildcats pulled out of a 62-62 tie and put it out of reach.

Kentucky, angling for a spot in the national ratings, got 34 points from Larry Pursiful in its relatively easy triumph over winless Tennessee. Pursiful hit for 24 in the first half as Kentucky established a 35-29 lead at intermission and steadily pulled away.

Among the other major results, Texas A&M clipped Auburn 62-50 and Houston punished UCLA 91-65 in a doubleheader at Houston; Alabama edged out Davidson 68-63 on 'Bama's home court; Lafayette's once-beaten team produced a 69-54 decision over Columbia in New York; Detroit humbled Regis 81-58 in Detroit; Pitt nipped Fordham 67-66 on a goal by Cal Sheffield with 20 seconds left; home-standing Memphis State routed Richmond 96-77; California nipped Nebraska 50-49; Stanford took a 71-61 decision over touring St. Louis; Idaho State took Portland 67-54; Oregon outlasted Fresno State 84-72 and Brigham Young edged Pacific 69-67.

Face Chargers Sunday

Oilers Favored In Playoff

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The defending champion Houston Oilers settled down on the battle site today, still favored to defeat the challenging San Diego Chargers for the 1961 American Football League title.

The game between the Eastern and Western Division winners in the hot AFL race goes on Sunday before a capacity house of 34,500 in Balboa Stadium and a national television audience (ABC network).

The Oilers, who must rely on the passing talents of shrewd quarterback George Blanda and the power running of former All-America halfback Billy Cannon, remained a 3-point pick to score a repeat title win.

The Chargers, who surged to 11 straight victories and then hit the downgrade in two of their last three games, apparently must bank on one weapon—the throwing arm of their brash young quarterback, Jack Kemp.

In sharp contrast, Houston got off to a dismal start, switched coaches and then, under Wally Lemm, blazed to nine straight triumphs.

Included was a 33-13 explosion over San Diego in Houston a month ago, which was when the Chargers began to show signs of cracking.

Over-all, the Oilers have a 10-3-1 record and coach Sid Gillman's Chargers are 12-2. The second, and most recent loss a week ago, was a shocking 41-0 affair to the Boston Patriots.

The Boston thing was the first time San Diego fans in person had seen their Warriors lose since they moved here this year from Los Angeles.

Coach Gillman openly predicted San Diego would win this one.

Lemm viewed the prospects with customary caution. He said he looked for a close game and a San Diego team improved over a week ago.

Griffith Set For TV Fight With Logart

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, who plans to fight often until he gets another title shot, takes on veteran Isaac Logart of Cuba in a television bout at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Griffith, a 23-year-old New Yorker via the Virgin Islands was a 3-1 choice to beat the 28-year-old Logart in the TV—ABC, 10 p.m., EST—ten rounder.

Griffith is in line for a rubber bout with welterweight champion Benny Paret of Cuba in March. Emile won the crown last April 1 by knocking out Paret. But Paret regained the 147-pound division crown on a disputed decision on Sept. 30.

Logart, once a dangerous puncher and leading contender, could ruin Griffith's hopes with an upset. But Ike isn't as fast and tough as he used to be a couple of years back when he was ranked. He no longer is in the top ten list.

Griffith, now ranked No. 1, has a 26-3 record, including 10 knockouts. Logart's record is 60-17-8 including 23 kayos.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Pre-Tourney Draws Announced For Ohio High School Cage Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio High School Athletic Association announced Friday the pre-tournament draws for the state high school basketball tournament next March.

The Class AA and A championship games will be held at St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus March 23 and 24.

W. J. McConnell, commissioner of the OHSAA, said the decision to determine the draws for the state classic in advance came on the recommendation of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association.

In past years, tournament pairings were picked out of a hat on the Sunday morning following regionals finals.

McConnell said one of the major factors for the new policy was the need for better scouting in certain areas. The commissioner said pairings under the new setup also were determined by drawing from a hat.

In other action, McConnell announced that Angus King, superintendent of interscholastic athletics for Cincinnati public schools, has been elected president of the OHSAA's state Board of Control. R. M. Morrison, of North Robinson, was chosen vice president.

Here is the step by step path to the state high school basketball tournament championship, with dates, sites and pairings:

CLASS AA

Region 1—Kent State University, March 14, 15 and 17. District winners from Eastlake North, Bedford, Kent and Youngstown.

Region 2—Toledo University and Bowling Green State University, March 16 and 17. District winners from Berea, Bowling Green, Marion and Toledo. On March 16, there will be one game at each site and the finals will be held at Toledo University March 17.

Region 3 — Columbus Fairgrounds, March 16 and 17. District winners from Athens, Canton, Columbus and Steubenville.

Region 4—Cincinnati Gardens, March 16 and 17. District winners from Cincinnati, Oxford, Dayton Troy.

CLASS A

Region 5—Canton Field House, March 16 and 17. District winners from Canton (3 teams) and Steubenville.

Region 6—Lima Senior High School, March 16 and 17. District winners from Defiance, Lima, Mansfield and Tiffin.

Region 7 — Ohio University, Athens, March 16 and 17. District winners from Athens (2 teams), New Concord and Columbus.

Region 8—Hobart Arena, Troy, March 16 and 17. District winners from Cincinnati Princeton High School, Dayton, Springfield and Columbus.

The CLASS AA pre-tournament draw results in these pairings:

Region 1—Bedford winner vs. Eastlake North winner; Youngstown winner vs. Kent winner.

Region 2—Toledo vs. Bowling Green (at Bowling Green); Marion vs. Berea (at Toledo University).

Region 3—Canton vs. Athens; Steubenville vs. Columbus.

Region 4—Cincinnati vs. Dayton; Troy vs. Oxford.

The CLASS A pre-tournament draw results in these pairings:

Region 5—Canton bracket No. 2 vs. Steubenville; Canton bracket No. 1 vs. Canton bracket No. 3.

Region 6—Tiffin vs. Mansfield (at Shawnee High School, Lima); Lima vs. Defiance (at Lima Senior High School); finals at Lima Senior High School.

Region 7—Columbus vs. Athens lower bracket; Athens upper bracket vs. New Concord.

Region 8—Springfield vs. Dayton; Columbus vs. Cincinnati Princeton.

The CLASS AA pre-tournament draw for the state high school championship round:

Region No. 1 winner vs. Region No. 2 winner; region No. 4 winner vs. region No. 3 winner.

The CLASS A pre-tournament draw for the state high school championship round:

Region No. 7 winner vs. region No. 5 winner; region No. 6 winner vs. region No. 8 winner.

Portsmouth in Class AA and Ayersville in Class A are the defending champions.

Mighty OSU, USC Face Long-Shot Dark Horses

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and Southern California, two of the nation's best, face a couple of long-shot dark horses tonight in their last outings before the Los Angeles Basketball classic—one of the country's top holiday invitationals.

Their matches, along with the Kentucky-Kansas State clash for the title in the Kentucky Invitational, top a relatively sparse Saturday schedule.

The mighty Buckeyes, unbeaten in six games and No. 1 in the nation are at home to meet Penn State (5-1) while the sixth-ranked Trojans visit unbeaten Utah State (7-0).

Southern Cal, with all letterman back from a team that ranked seventh in the nation in the final Associated Press poll last season, stormed over Wyoming 76-54 Friday night for its sixth victory against a lone defeat, a 66-56 upset at the hands of Oklahoma.

Utah State, while unbeaten, has not played the schedule so far encountered by the Trojans, and hopes to find them looking ahead to next week's tourney.

John Rudometkin, who owns the Southern Cal career scoring record, tossed in 23 more and grabbed 23 rebounds in the victory at Laramie, Wyo. His efforts helped the Trojans to a 22-11 lead midway through the first half and Wyoming wasn't close again.

Kentucky punished Tennessee 96-69 and Kansas State dropped Xavier 75-67 in first round games and gained the finals of the Kentucky tournament, while Utah, paced by Bill McGill, drubbed Arizona State 102-89 in last night's other top games.

McGill, a 6-foot-9 center who owns the country's best collegiate scoring average, 37 points, popped in 47 despite a two- and sometimes three-man defense thrown against him by the slumping Sun Devils.

Arizona State had started the week tied for 10th in the nation, but lost to Indiana and Minnesota before running into Utah on its current tour. Utah's only loss in eight games was 78-76 to the same Arizona State team earlier in the season.

Mike Wroblewski was the big gun as fourth ranked Kansas State remained unbeaten in seven games. He contributed 31 points, 21 in the last half, and including eight straight as the Wildcats pulled out of a 62-62 tie and put it out of reach.

Kentucky, angling for a spot in the national ratings, got 34 points from Larry Pursiful in its relatively easy triumph over winless Tennessee. Pursiful hit for 24 in the first half as Kentucky established a 35-29 lead at intermission and steadily pulled away.

Among the other major results, Texas A&M clipped Auburn 62-50 and Houston punished UCLA 91-65 in a doubleheader at Houston; Alabama edged out Davidson 68-63 on 'Bama's home court; Lafayette's once-beaten team produced a 69-54 decision over Columbia in New York; Detroit humbled Regis 81-58 in Detroit; Pitt nipped Fordham 67-66 on a goal by Cal Sheffield with 20 seconds left; home-standing Memphis State routed Richmond 96-77; California nipped Nebraska 50-49; Stanford took a 71-61 decision over touring St. Louis; Idaho State took Portland 67-54; Oregon outlasted Fresno State 84-72 and Brigham Young edged Pacific 69-67.

Griffith Set For TV Fight With Logart

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, who plans to fight often until he gets another title shot, takes on veteran Isaac Logart of Cuba in a television bout at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Griffith, a 23-year-old New Yorker via the Virgin Islands was a 3-1 choice to beat the 28-year-old Logart in the TV—ABC, 10 p.m., EST—ten rounder.

Griffith is in line for a rubber bout with welterweight champion Benny Paret of Cuba in March. Emile won the crown last April 1 by knocking out Paret. But Paret regained the 147-pound division crown on a disputed decision on Sept. 30.

Logart, once a dangerous puncher and leading contender, could ruin Griffith's hopes with an upset. But Ike isn't as fast and tough as he used to be a couple of years back when he was ranked. He no longer is in the top ten list.

Griffith, now ranked No. 1, has a 26-3 record, including 10 knockouts. Logart's record is 60-17-8 including 23 kayos.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Face Chargers Sunday

Oilers Favored In Playoff

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The defending champion Houston Oilers settled down on the battle site today, still favored to defeat the challenging San Diego Chargers for the 1961 American Football League title.

The game between the Eastern and Western Division winners in the hot AFL race goes on Sunday before a capacity house of 34,500 in Balboa Stadium and a national television audience (ABC network).

The Oilers, who must rely on the passing talents of shrewd quarterback George Blanda and the power running of former All-America halfback Billy Cannon, remained a 3-point pick to score a repeat title win.

The Chargers, who surged to 11 straight victories and then hit the downgrade in two of their last three games, apparently must bank on one weapon—the throwing arm of their brash young quarterback, Jack Kemp.

In sharp contrast, Houston got off to a dismal start, switched coaches and then, under Wally Lemm, blazed to nine straight triumphs.

Included was a 33-13 explosion over San Diego in Houston a month ago, which was when the Chargers began to show signs of cracking.

Over-all, the Oilers have a 10-3-1 record and coach Sid Gillman's Chargers are 12-2. The second, and most recent loss a week ago, was a shocking 41-0 affair to the Boston Patriots.

The Boston thing was the first time San Diego fans in person had seen their Warriors lose since they moved here this year from Los Angeles.

Coach Gillman openly predicted San Diego would win this one.

Lemm viewed the prospects with customary caution. He said he looked for a close game and a San Diego team improved over a week ago.

Baked Halibut Steak Has Savory Stuffing

A most delicious and attractive way to serve seafood is to bake halibut steaks with a savory stuffing. If the steaks are small, plan on four whole steaks for four servings.

If the steaks are large, you will find four half steaks to be sufficient. An easy rule to remember is that one pound of halibut will serve three. So for the recipe below, buy from one and a quarter to one and a half pounds for serving four.

4 small halibut steaks, or 4 large steak halves, fresh or frozen
6 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram crumbled
¼ teaspoon dried thyme
1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 cups soft bread crumbs
¼ cup finely chopped toasted almonds
¼ cup milk
Paprika

If halibut is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Place two steaks on bottom of a greased shallow ovenware serving dish. Saute onion in butter or margarine. Add herbs, salt, pepper, bread crumbs and almonds.

Mix well and moisten with milk. Spoon part of stuffing over fish and make tiny balls from remaining stuffing to place around fish. Cover fish in dish with remaining fish steaks. Brush tops with lemon butter (2 teaspoons lemon juice in ¼ cup melted butter), retaining some for basting while cooking. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven 375 degrees 30 minutes. Serve garnished with lemon slices and sprigs of parsley; Makes 4 servings.

3 Soviet Bloc Offices Have Paper Subscription Canceled

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Soviet bloc offices in Washington were surprised and mildly indignant upon learning that a Texas newspaper had canceled their subscriptions, Editor & Publisher, the newspaper trade journal, reports.

The cancellation action was taken last week by the Abilene Reporter-News because Dyess Air Force Base is located near Abilene.

The Reporter-News said it did not knowingly print any air base news of security value, but didn't want Communist bloc officials to read anything about the base.

The subscriptions were in the names of August A. Yashin, of the Russian Embassy; Capt. Imre Mozsik, assistant military and air attache for the Hungarian legation; and K. Petrov, a clerk in the Bulgarian legation.

Editor and Publisher said a spokesman at the Hungarian legation said he thought the newspaper was wrong to do what it did, adding that "in Budapest the U.S. military attache is free to subscribe to any newspaper."

Petrov commented that "Texas is something pretty special in the U.S., I guess." He said the legation was interested in news about the Texas oil industry because oil production is just getting under way in Bulgaria.

The woman at the Russian Embassy said this was a "private matter and no concern to the press."

2 Killed, 1 Injured In Head-On Collision

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two men were fatally injured Friday night in a head-on collision of two cars on Route 18, some 13 miles north of here.

Dead are Carl J. Jurysta, 30, of Springboro, Pa., and Dean Kellogg, 38, of Conneaut, Ohio.

Robert Bowen, 38, of Ashtabula, Ohio, was admitted to Meadville City Hospital. He was reported in satisfactory condition.

Police said Jurysta was the driver of one car and that Kellogg and Bowen were riding in the same vehicle.

State police and Conneaut borough police are investigating. Complete details were not immediately available.

Strike Is Settled

CINCINNATI (AP) — Production was scheduled to resume at Mosler Lock Co. in nearby Milford after settlement of the first strike in the firm's history. Ninety union employes voted Friday to accept a new contract. The strike started Nov. 28 over wages and working conditions.

Man, 80, Killed, Wife, 4 Others Hurt In Wreck

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — William J. Court, 80, of Marion, was killed, and his wife, grandson and three other persons were injured Friday in a broadside auto collisio non U.S. 23.

Court and his wife, Leota, 77, were riding in a car driven by their grandson, John W. Elicker, 17, of Marion.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said a southbound auto operated by Henry H. Long, 72, of Prospect, tried to make a left turn into a private driveway when the northbound Elicker vehicle collided with it broadside. It occurred seven miles north of here.

Long, his wife, Nelle, 70, and their granddaughter, Jayne Wilson, 5, of Prospect, also were injured. They were admitted to Jane Case Hospital here along with Mrs. Court and her grandson.

Court lived at 245 Orchard St., and Elicker at 182 Gurley St., in Marion.

Man, 29, In Collision Killed By Third Car

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man who got out of his car after being involved in a collision on the interbelt freeway was hit by a third car and killed Friday night. Police said the driver of the third car did not stop. Dead was Jack Nupp, about 29.

Police said Nupp's car hit the rear of the second car then slammed into a guard rail. As Nupp got out to talk to the other driver he was struck and killed.

3 Hurt In Blast

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — An explosion in a house under construction on the city's west side burned owner - contractor Frank Steffeck, 50, of Rt. 1, Bremen, Friday and slightly injured two plasterers. The house was shattered and an adjoining one suffered about $4,000 damage from fire. Gas from the basement was believed to have caused the blast.

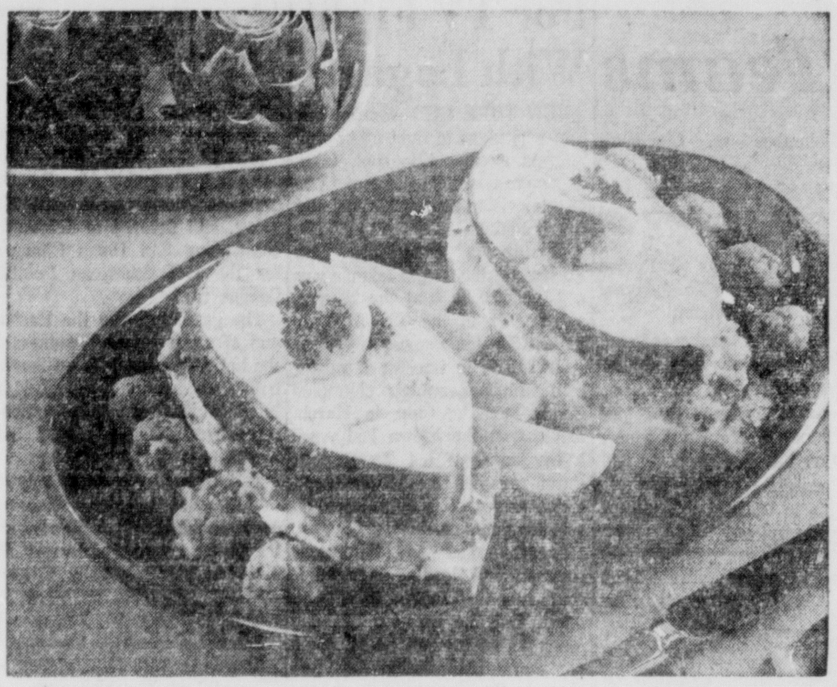
Baked Halibut Steak Has Savory Stuffing



A most delicious and attractive way to serve seafood is to bake halibut steaks with a savory stuffing. If the steaks are small, plan on four whole steaks for four servings.

If the steaks are large, you will find four half steaks to be sufficient. An easy rule to remember is that one pound of halibut will serve three. So for the recipe below, buy from one and a quarter to one and a half pounds for serving four.

4 small halibut steaks, or 4 large steak halves, fresh or frozen
6 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram crumbled
¼ teaspoon dried thyme
1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 cups soft bread crumbs
¼ cup finely chopped toasted almonds
¼ cup milk
Paprika

If halibut is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Place two steaks on bottom of a greased shallow ovenware serving dish. Saute onion in butter or margarine. Add herbs, salt, pepper, bread crumbs and almonds.

Mix well and moisten with milk. Spoon part of stuffing over fish and make tiny balls from remaining stuffing to place around fish. Cover fish in dish with remaining fish steaks. Brush tops with lemon butter (2 teaspoons lemon juice in ¼ cup melted butter), retaining some for basting while cooking. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven 375 degrees 30 minutes. Serve garnished with lemon slices and sprigs of parsley; Makes 4 servings.

3 Soviet Bloc Offices Have Paper Subscription Canceled

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Soviet bloc offices in Washington were surprised and mildly indignant upon learning that a Texas newspaper had canceled their subscriptions, Editor & Publisher, the newspaper trade journal, reports.

The cancellation action was taken last week by the Abilene Reporter-News because Dyess Air Force Base is located near Abilene.

The Reporter-News said it did not knowingly print any air base news of security value, but didn't want Communist bloc officials to read anything about the base.

The subscriptions were in the names of August A. Yashin, of the Russian Embassy; Capt. Imre Mozsik, assistant military and air attache for the Hungarian legation; and K. Petrov, a clerk in the Bulgarian legation.

Editor and Publisher said a spokesman at the Hungarian legation said he thought the newspaper was wrong to do what it did, adding that "in Budapest the U.S. military attache is free to subscribe to any newspaper."

Petrov commented that "Texas is something pretty special in the U.S., I guess." He said the legation was interested in news about the Texas oil industry because oil production is just getting under way in Bulgaria.

The woman at the Russian Embassy said this was a "private matter and no concern to the press."

2 Killed, 1 Injured In Head-On Collision

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two men were fatally injured Friday night in a head-on collision of two cars on Route 18, some 13 miles north of here.

Dead are Carl J. Jurysta, 30, of Springboro, Pa., and Dean Kellogg, 38, of Conneaut, Ohio.

Robert Bowen, 38, of Ashtabula, Ohio, was admitted to Meadville City Hospital. He was reported in satisfactory condition.

Police said Jurysta was the driver of one car and that Kellogg and Bowen were riding in the same vehicle.

State police and Conneaut borough police are investigating. Complete details were not immediately available.

Strike Is Settled

CINCINNATI (AP) — Production was scheduled to resume at Mosler Lock Co. in nearby Milford after settlement of the first strike in the firm's history. Ninety union employes voted Friday to accept a new contract. The strike started Nov. 28 over wages and working conditions.

Man, 80, Killed, Wife, 4 Others Hurt In Wreck

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — William J. Court, 80, of Marion, was killed, and his wife, grandson and three other persons were injured Friday in a broadside auto collisio non U.S. 23.

Court and his wife, Leota, 77, were riding in a car driven by their grandson, John W. Elicker, 17, of Marion.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said a southbound auto operated by Henry H. Long, 72, of Prospect, tried to make a left turn into a private driveway when the northbound Elicker vehicle collided with it broadside. It occurred seven miles north of here.

Long, his wife, Nelle, 70, and their granddaughter, Jayne Wilson, 5, of Prospect, also were injured. They were admitted to Jane Case Hospital here along with Mrs. Court and her grandson.

Court lived at 245 Orchard St., and Elicker at 182 Gurley St., in Marion.

Man, 29, In Collision Killed By Third Car

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man who got out of his car after being involved in a collision on the interbelt freeway was hit by a third car and killed Friday night. Police said the driver of the third car did not stop. Dead was Jack Nupp, about 29.

Police said Nupp's car hit the rear of the second car then slammed into a guard rail. As Nupp got out to talk to the other driver he was struck and killed.

3 Hurt In Blast

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — An explosion in a house under construction on the city's west side burned owner - contractor Frank Steffeck, 50, of Rt. 1, Bremen, Friday and slightly injured two plasterers. The house was shattered and an adjoining one suffered about $4,000 damage from fire. Gas from the basement was believed to have caused the blast.

VISIT FROM ST. NICK

'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the house,
Not a prospect was stirring, not even a mouse.

A sign on our home we had written with care,
In hopes that a buyer soon would be there.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds;
The fact we were selling was not in their heads.

Ma in her kerchief and I in my cap,
Decided that buyers were dreams in a nap.

Then there was a knock and our hearts took a soar,
"Mac" McWhorter, real estate broker, walked in the door.

His talk was assuring, he knew what he was about;
And he listed our home before he went out.

Our worries were over, we can happily say
That he brought 'round a prospect the very next day.

He sold them our home, to our family's delight,
On terms that were fair and a price that was right.

Then I heard him exclaim as he drove out of sight,
"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

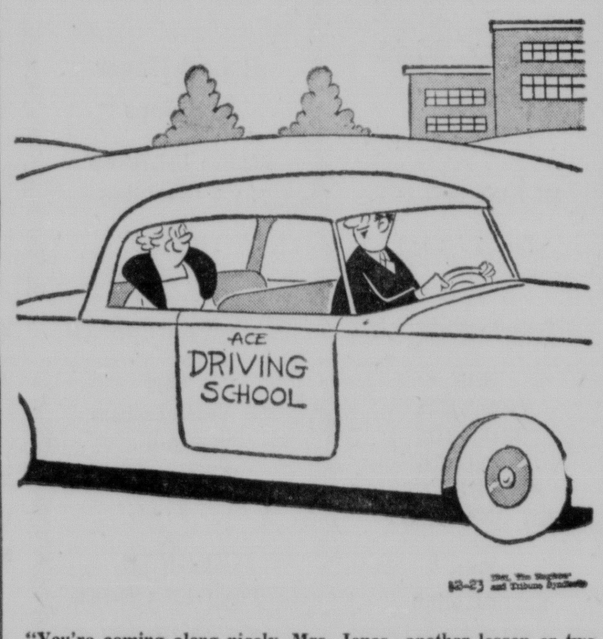
"This is going to be a funny Christmas for you, dad, they can't send anybody to get you out until next Tuesday."

OFF THE RECORD



"You're coming along nicely, Mrs. Jones—another lesson or two and you can sit up front!"

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"Better check all the files after one of these Christmas office parties, Minnie! . . ."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Have you any suggestions for keeping a wide-brimmed hat on the head during windy weather?

A. Try mooring your skimmer by sewing a small comb, teeth upward, inside the front part of the crown. When you put the hat on, the comb goes through your hair without mussing it, and holds the hat securely in place without changing its appearance.

Q. How can I restore some life into a limp tape measure?

A. Place the lifeless tape measure between sheets of waxed paper, and then press over it with a slightly hot iron.

Q. How can I remove the oven-browned stains from some of my pie dishes?

A. By soaking the dishes in a strong solution of borax and water.

Q. How can I improvise a sawhorse when the real thing is not available?

A. An open stepladder, laid on its side, will serve as a good substitute sawhorse. Though this is not so high as a horse and will be a little less convenient to work on, it will be a help when sanding, sawing, or painting. It is especially useful on jobs where you need both a ladder and a sawhorse.

Q. How can I polish and add luster to my ebony toilet articles?

A. By rubbing a little white petroleum jelly into them with a soft cloth. It is necessary to keep rubbing until the wood has absorbed the jelly.

Q. How can I prevent the curdling, scorching, and stringiness that often occurs in foods made with cheese or milk?

A. By being sure to cook these foods at low, low temperatures, and not overcooking.

"Looks like a good Christmas . . . unless all that stuff is just a lot of deceptive packaging!"

Remnants Of A Great Age

Goa, Damao and Diu, the Portuguese possessions invaded by Indian troops, are remnants of the great age of empire building.

In all the world, only a dozen such foreign pockets or enclaves remain within the borders of sovereign states, the National Geographic Society says. The map once was peppered with them — before the rise of nationalism.

India recently absorbed Dadra and Nagar Aveli, two other Portuguese enclaves that declared independence in 1954. Friction over the other Portugese territories dates from 1947 when India itself became sovereign.

Goa, Damao and Diu are patches of land on India's west coast. Together they cover 1,619 square miles and are inhabited by 652,000 people.

Goa, with 1,394 square miles and a population of 560,000, is the largest and most important of the three. It embraces several islands and a hilly, river-cut mainland 250 miles south of Bombay.

Residents of the mainland farm, fish, or mine iron ore and manganese. Mining has boomed in Goa in the past five years. Goa now exports about six million tons of iron and manganese a year.

Most of the iron ore goes to West Germany and Japan; the United States takes some of the manganese. Barges laden with ore stream down the Mandovi and Zuari rivers to Mormugao on the Arabian Sea.

Both the original capital, Old Goa, and the new one, Nova Goa (Pangim), stand on a large island between the mouths of the Mandovi and Zuari. Founded centuries ago by Hindus, Old Goa became a prosperous seaport and a great emporium of the East. Gold, teak, exotic spices, and rich fabrics departed by the shipload. The city had its own army and navy, currency, mercantile laws, and customs officers.

200 Preble Countians Face Question

To File Or Not To File--

By BERNIE GOULD

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—To file or not to file, that is the question.

The question confronted some 200 persons in Preble County who received write-in votes for local offices in last November's election. None are believed to have campaigned for the write-ins.

But the law says you had to file campaign expense statements by 4 p.m. Friday if you ran for public office last November.

If you didn't, according to the law, you're barred from running for an elected office for the next five years.

That puts those 200 people in Preble County in a peculiar position. To illustrate:

Suppose John Doe received two write-in votes for township trustee. Mr. Doe did not seek the position, did not campaign for it, and for all anybody knows, didn't want any part of it.

Why should he be bothered by the inconvenience of having to file with his local election board a campaign statement listing no receipts and no expenses?

This is why:

Three years pass. Mr. Doe has now become interested in politics and decided to run for county commissioner.

His opponent, however, challenges his right to be a candidate. "Your're barred from running for any elected office," says the opponent to Mr. Doe, "because you didn't file a campaign statement three years ago."

"But three years ago," replies Mr. Doe, "I didn't campaign for any office. Can I help it if two people, perhaps as a joke, decided to write in my name on a ballot?"

"You didn't campaign?" asks Mr. Opponent, somewhat sarcastically. "prove it!"

This was the situation faced by the 200 or so Preble County citizens who received write-in votes.

Lester Dunlap, chairman of the Preble County election board, said he advised all 200 to file their statements by Friday's deadline. These people, he said, had received anywhere from one to 25 write-in votes.

He said today he had no exact figures on how many took his advice, but that at least half probably did.

Dunlap himself received two write-in votes for municipal judge of Eaton—a post for which he too had never campaigned. He didn't disclose if he filed a campaign statement.

In neighboring Butler County, there were numerous write - in votes last November for a position on the state board of education. Some of the write-ins—apparently as a joke—named Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and U.S. Rep. Paul Schenck, Dayton Republican.

Now, if DiSalle and Schenck didn't file campaign expense accounts in connection with those ballots — and in all probability they didn't—will they be barred from running for public office in the next five years?

Attorney Douglas R. Trail of Worthington, elections counsel in the office of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, said he doesn't think so.

Trail explained that the crux of the issue is whether persons who receive write - in votes actively campaigned for those write-ins.

If they did, he said, then his opinion is that they would have to file campaign statements or face the penalty.

If, however, they did not actively campaign, Trail said, their lack of filing statements probably would not be held against them if they decided to run for office a few years hence.

But he admitted they might have to prove they did not campaign. Because of this, he said, he advised election official Dunlap to file a statement as a precautionary measure.

Trail explained that the secretary of state has to prove that write in candidates actively campaigned before he can penalize them for not filing statements.

The secretary of state, he added, usually does not bother trying to penalize the no-statement write-in candidates if they failed to receive a substantial number of votes. A substantial vote, however, indicates that the candidate did campaign.

Boy Critical After Fall On Power Line

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ronald Coleman, 16, of Fairport, was in critical condition at University Hospitals today with burns over the upper part of his body suffered when he became entangled in a 33,000-volt line on a Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. tower.

He was trapped about 100 feet from the ground Friday afternoon while he and a companion were climbing the 150 - foot steel tower east of the Grand River at Fairport.

CEI crews summoned by Fairport firemen lowered the youth to the ground with the use of rope and slings. He was taken to Lake County Memorial Hospital in Painesville and later transferred to Cleveland.

Coleman's jacket caught fire when a short circuit resulted as he fell against the power line. His companion, Budd Hood, 16, also of Fairport, beat out the flames and then descended from the tower and started to summon help. Meanwhile, a motorist had seen Coleman's predicament and called firemen.

CEI officials said the short circuit and the cutting of power from another line during the rescue operation left the village of Fairport, the Dasher Rubber Co., the Morton Salt Co. and Mentor Headlands without electricity for about an hour and a half.

Hood, who escaped injury, said he and Coleman had climbed the tower several times previously, but never had gone more than half way to the top.

Boy, 11, Sells Old Paper To Purchase Gifts

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Henry Williams, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of Ashland, netted enough money from the sale of a newspaper Friday for the Christmas gifts he wanted to buy.

He found a section of a Detroit Free Press dated Oct. 5, 1890, packed behind a mirror in his home Wednesday. By selling the newspaper he hoped to get enough to buy gifts for his four sisters, two brothers and parents.

Guy Smetzer, owner of an Ashland store, read about Henry's discovery and Christmas hopes in the Ashland Times-Gazette Thursday. He contacted the boy Friday and bought the Detroit newspaper for $30.

Bob Cat Award Given 8 Chester Cub Scouts

Eight members of Chester Cub Scout Pack 30 have received bob cat awards. They include Tom Huff, Bobby Treleven, Mike Lowers, Mickey Scarrey, Fred Stevens, Dale Weaver and Kenneth Mansfield.

Scott Beck and Robbie Aken have received gold and silver arrow awards, and Huff, Lowers and Dean Dippolito dinner stripes. Michael Manley and Paul Dippolito are den chiefs.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 1,500 fair managers and others associated with Ohio expositions will gather here Jan. 9-11 for an Ohio Fair Managers Association meeting.

Faces Federal Count

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Medosch, 36, faces a federal charge of accepting bets without registering and paying government tax. Mrs. Medosch, owner of the Oakley Hotel, posted $1,000 bond Friday for a Jan. 5 hearing. The action grew out of a raid at the Oakley Dec. 14 by treasury agents who reported they confiscated racing forms and a scratch sheet. Mrs. Medosch was not taken into custody until Friday, however.

200 Preble Countians Face Question

To File Or Not To File - -

By BERNIE GOULD

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—To file or not to file, that is the question.

The question confronted some 200 persons in Preble County who received write-in votes for local offices in last November's election. None are believed to have campaigned for the write-ins.

But the law says you had to file campaign expense statements by 4 p.m. Friday if you ran for public office last November.

If you didn't, according to the law, you're barred from running for an elected office for the next five years.

That puts those 200 people in Preble County in a peculiar position. To illustrate:

Suppose John Doe received two write-in votes for township trustee. Mr. Doe did not seek the position, did not campaign for it, and for all anybody knows, didn't want any part of it.

Why should he be bothered by the inconvenience of having to file with his local election board a campaign statement listing no receipts and no expenses?

This is why:

Three years pass. Mr. Doe has now become interested in politics and decided to run for county commissioner.

His opponent, however, challenges his right to be a candidate. "Your're barred from running for any elected office," says the opponent to Mr. Doe, "because you didn't file a campaign statement three years ago."

"But three years ago," replies Mr. Doe, "I didn't campaign for any office. Can I help it if two people, perhaps as a joke, decided to write in my name on a ballot?"

"You didn't campaign?" asks Mr. Opponent, somewhat sarcastically, "prove it!"

This was the situation faced by the 200 or so Preble County citizens who received write-in votes.

Lester Dunlap, chairman of the Preble County election board, said he advised all 200 to file their statements by Friday's deadline. These people, he said, had received anywhere from one to 25 write-in votes.

He said today he had no exact figures on how many took his advice, but that at least half probably did.

Dunlap himself received two write-in votes for municipal judge of Eaton—a post for which he too had never campaigned. He didn't disclose if he filed a campaign statement.

In neighboring Butler County, there were numerous write - in votes last November for a position on the state board of education. Some of the write-ins—apparently as a joke—named Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and U.S. Rep. Paul Schenck, Dayton Republican.

Now, if DiSalle and Schenck didn't file campaign expense accounts in connection with those ballots — and in all probability they didn't—will they be barred from running for public office in the next five years?

Attorney Douglas R. Trail of Worthington, elections counsel in the office of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, said he doesn't think so.

Trail explained that the crux of the issue is whether persons who receive write - in votes actively campaigned for those write-ins.

If they did, he said, then his opinion is that they would have to file campaign statements or face the penalty.

If, however, they did not actively campaign, Trail said, their lack of filing statements probably would not be held against them if they decided to run for office a few years hence.

But he admitted they might have to prove they did not campaign. Because of this, he said, he advised election official Dunlap to file a statement as a precautionary measure.

Trail explained that the secretary of state has to prove that write in candidates actively campaigned before he can penalize them for not filing statements.

The secretary of state, he added, usually does not bother trying to penalize the no-statement write-in candidates if they failed to receive a substantial number of votes. A substantial vote, however, indicates that the candidate did campaign.

The Story Behind "Adoration of the Magi"

Botticelli's Christmas scene has inspired the world for more than 400 years; here's how it came from Italy to Russia—to the American people

By JOHN WALKER

Director, National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.

BOTTICELLI'S "ADORATION OF THE MAGI" in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., is one of America's great treasures. And if it had not been for the late Andrew Mellon it might still belong to the Soviet Union.

The picture was probably painted in connection with Botticelli's trip to Rome in 1481-2, where he had been summoned by the Pope to help decorate the Sistine Chapel. The painting may have been commissioned by Cardinal della Rovere, who later became Pope and who commissioned Michelangelo to complete the decoration of the Sistine Chapel.

We know that the painting remained in the possession of "an illustrious Roman family" until the 18th century, when it was bought by the engraver Peralli and taken to France. In 1808, it was acquired in Paris by Czar Alexander I of Russia for the Imperial Hermitage Museum in St. Petersburg. There it remained until 1932, when it was acquired by Mellon, who subsequently gave it to the people of the United States.

The subject of the picture is the three Magi converging with their retinue on the Holy Family, who are sheltered in the ruins of a classical edifice, symbol of the decaying civilization out of which Christianity arose. The participants wear costumes of Botticelli's day, and some may be representations of actual contemporaries, as in his Medici "Adoration" in Florence.

To the left, Melchior, king of Arabia, wearing a crown, brings frankincense; in front of him, the venerable Caspar, king of Tarsus, brings gold; and on the right, young Balthazar, king of Saba, brings myrrh. Beyond, the serpentine roads recall to us the distance they have come. On either side, the crowds stretch back in two great arms that would seem to embrace all humanity.

AN INTENSITY of adoration marks every face, every posture. The picture is alive with movement. The tense complexity of the action at the far right, the piling up of swirling forms in the right-hand group, the zigzag thrust of the figures in the left foreground—everything builds towards the object of adoration, and yet dares not come too close. As our eye draws closer to the Child, the forms grow smaller, simpler, more widely spaced, until we reach Him at the end of two solitary outstretched hands.

I can only wish you were in the National Gallery at this moment, to confront the picture in its original size and color, and to admire a score of details that no reproduction, however faithful, can convey. You would see the glow that radiates from certain forms. And you would follow, in the figures and the draperies, that rhythmic melody of line that was Botticelli's unique achievement.

Stretching beyond the figures, the landscape suggests the Campagna around Rome. It is impossible to let the eye travel into this tranquil scene without feeling some release of the spirit, some sense of refreshment and calm. Here, as in few paintings, Christianity, in its focal period of Christmastide, seems to convey to us, as well as to these awe-struck worshipers, its serene benediction.

Frozen Christmas Pudding

GOOD FOR FREEZING

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN.
TO FREEZE: ABOUT 4 HRS.

- 1½ cups macaroon crumbs (about 14 small macaroons, crushed)
- ½ cup chopped pecans
- ½ cup chopped pitted dates
- ¼ cup chopped candied pineapple
- ¼ cup chopped candied orange peel
- 1¼ teaspoons grated lemon peel
- ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 8 marshmallows, quartered
- ¼ cup orange juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped

1. Mix first 8 ingredients together in a bowl.

2. Heat marshmallows, orange juice, and sugar together in top of double boiler over simmering water until marshmallows are melted, stirring occasionally. Blend into fruit mixture. Carefully fold in whipped cream.

3. Put 10 paper baking cups, 2¼ x1¼ in., into refrigerator trays or muffin-pan wells. Spoon mixture into cups; freeze until firm.

4. When ready to serve, garnish each with a holly spray formed with red cinnamon candies and pieces of green gumdrops. 10 servings

Orange Marmalade Pudding

TO PREPARE: 20 MIN. TO STEAM: 2 HRS.

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 4 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup orange marmalade

1. Thoroughly grease a 2-qt. mold or a 2-lb. coffee can. Set aside.

2. Blend first two ingredients together and set aside.

3. Cream butter until softened. Add sugar gradually, beating until fluffy after each addition. Add eggs in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition. Blend in the orange marmalade.

4. Add dry ingredients in fourths, beating only until blended after each addition. Turn into mold (mold should not be more than ⅔ full). Cover tightly with greased cover or tie on greased aluminum foil, parchment, or waxed paper.

5. Place mold on trivet or rack in a large kettle or steamer. Pour boiling water into kettle to no more than one-half the height of the mold. Cover kettle and bring water to boiling. To steam, reduce heat but keep water boiling. If necessary, add more boiling water during steaming to keep water at same level. Steam for 2 hrs.

6. Remove from steamer and unmold onto warm serving dish. (If necessary, loosen pudding by running tip of knife around edge.) Serve with Vanilla Sauce.

About 8 servings

Vanilla Sauce

TO PREPARE: 15 MIN.

- ¼ cup butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 2 egg whites

1. Cream together first two ingredients until butter is softened. Add confectioners' sugar gradually, beating until well blended.

2. Beat egg whites until rounded peaks are formed; spread over butter-sugar mixture. Fold together until well blended.

About 1½ cups sauce

3. Cream butter until softened. Add sugar gradually, beating until fluffy after each addition. Add eggs in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition. Blend in the orange marmalade.

4. Add dry ingredients in fourths, beating only until blended after each addition. Turn into mold (mold should not be more than ⅔ full). Cover tightly with greased cover or tie on greased aluminum foil, parchment, or waxed paper.

5. Place mold on trivet or rack in a large kettle or steamer. Pour boiling water into kettle to no more than one-half the height of the mold. Cover kettle and bring water to boiling. To steam, reduce heat but keep water boiling. If necessary, add more boiling water during steaming to keep water at same level. Steam for 2 hrs.

6. Remove from steamer and unmold onto warm serving dish. (If necessary, loosen pudding by running tip of knife around edge.) Serve with Vanilla Sauce.

About 8 servings

Vanilla Sauce

TO PREPARE: 15 MIN.

- ¼ cup butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 2 egg whites

1. Cream together first two ingredients until butter is softened. Add confectioners' sugar gradually, beating until well blended.

2. Beat egg whites until rounded peaks are formed; spread over butter-sugar mixture. Fold together until well blended.

About 1½ cups sauce

Chocolate Cherubim

TO PREPARE: 20 MIN. TO BAKE: 40-45 MIN.

- 3 sq. (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
- 2 tablespoons hot water
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup melted butter
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 4 egg yolks, well beaten
- 4 egg whites

1. Heat water for boiling water bath.*
2. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over simmering water. Blend in the hot water. Gradually add a mixture of next three ingredients to chocolate mixture, stirring constantly. Add melted butter and vanilla extract gradually, blending well after each addition. Remove from simmering water. Add the beaten egg yolks gradually, stirring until blended.
3. Beat egg whites until rounded peaks are formed and egg whites do not slide when bowl is partially inverted. Fold beaten egg whites into chocolate mixture. Turn mixture into a well-greased 1-qt. mold.
4. Bake in a boiling water bath at 350°F 40 to 45 min. (avoid scorching), or until a cake tester or wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Allow to cool in mold on cooling rack.
5. When ready to serve, invert onto a serving plate. Serve with Foamy Sauce.

6 to 8 servings

For Boiling Water Bath*—Set a deep pan on oven rack and place the filled mold in the pan. Pour boiling water into pan to level of mixture in mold.

Foamy Sauce (about 3 cups sauce)—Cream together 2 tablespoons butter and ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract until butter is softened. Add ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar; cream until fluffy. Add 1 egg yolk and beat thoroughly. Beating until smooth after each addition, alternately add 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar in thirds and 2 tablespoons milk in halves to creamed mixture. Beat 1 egg white until rounded peaks are formed. Add ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar gradually, beating well. Spread 1 cup chilled whipping cream, whipped, and the beaten egg white over creamed mixture and fold together. Chill until ready to serve.

Jeweled Rice Pudding

TO PREPARE: 45 MIN. TO CHILL: ABOUT 4 HRS.
(allow time for marinating)

- ⅓ cup white grape juice
- 1½ cups diced assorted candied fruit, finely chopped
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ cup uncooked rice
- ½ cup white grape juice
- 1 tablespoon (1 env.) unflavored gelatin
- 4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup milk
- ½ teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped

1. Marinate candied fruit in ⅓ cup white grape juice for at least 1 hr.
2. Lightly oil a 1½-qt. ring mold with salad or cooking oil (not olive oil); set aside to drain well.
3. In a tightly covered saucepan, cook rice in 1½ cups milk over low heat until rice is tender, about 25 min.
4. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over ½ cup white grape juice; let stand 5 min. to soften. Dissolve over hot water.
5. Combine egg yolks, sugar, ½ cup milk, and extract in top of double boiler. Cook over simmering water, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in dissolved gelatin and rice, blending well.
6. Chill until mixture begins to gel (gets slightly thicker). If chilled in refrigerator, stir occasionally; if chilled over ice and water, stir frequently.
7. Fold in 1 cup of the marinated fruit and the whipped cream. Arrange remaining fruit attractively on bottom of mold; spoon rice mixture into mold and chill until firm, about 4 hrs.
8. Unmold onto chilled serving plate. Garnish with currant jelly or sweetened whipped cream rosettes, as desired.

MY MOST INSPIRING MOMENT

By TAYLOR CALDWELL

Author of "A Prologue to Love" and "Dear and Glorious Physician"

WE ALL HAVE "inspiring moments" in our lives, which comfort us when things seem most hopeless and despairing, when we have lost our faith, it seems, in God and man, when we feel the most abandoned and isolated. We often think of these moments as direct gifts of the Grace of God, little golden mementos we can open before our eyes in the dark night of our souls.

My most inspiring moment began, prosaically enough, six months before I reached the very bottom of my despair, when I was in the greatest need of help. Recently divorced, I was in my 20s, had no job, and was on the way downtown in a late spring rain to go the rounds of the employment offices. I had no umbrella, for my old one had fallen apart, and I could not afford another one. I sat down in the streetcar, and there against the seat was a beautiful silk umbrella with a silver handle inlaid with gold and flecks of bright enamel. I had never seen anything so lovely. I examined the handle and saw a name engraved among the golden scrolls. My first impulse was to give the umbrella to the conductor, then for some mysterious reason I decided to take it with me and find the owner, myself. I got off the streetcar in a downpour and thankfully opened the umbrella to protect myself. Then I searched a telephone book for the name on the umbrella, and found it. I then called the number and a lady answered.

Yes, she said in surprise, that was her umbrella, which her parents, now dead, had given her for a birthday present. But, she added, it had been stolen from her locker at school (she was a teacher) more than a year before! She was so excited that I forgot I was looking for a job and went directly to her small house in which she was spending her retirement years. She took the umbrella and her eyes filled with tears.

The teacher wanted to give me a reward, but her joy was sufficient, and though I had but $20 in all the world and desperately needed money, I refused the offer. We talked for a while, and I must have given her my address. I don't remember.

The Bottom of My Despair

The next six months were very wretched. I was able to obtain only temporary employment here and there, for a small salary, though this was what they now call the "Roaring Twenties." But I put aside 25 or 50 cents when I could afford it for my little girl's Christmas presents. (It took me six months to save $8.) My last job ended the day before Christmas, my rent was coming due, and I had only $15, sufficient for food for two weeks. My little girl was home from her convent boarding school and was excitedly looking forward to her gifts next day, which I had already purchased. I had bought her a small tree, and we were going to decorate it that night.

The stormy air was full of the sound of Christmas merriment and excitement as I walked from the streetcar to my small apartment. Bells rang and children shouted in the bitter dusk of the evening, and windows were lighted and everyone was running and laughing. But there would be no Christmas for me, I knew, no gifts, no remembrance whatsoever. As I struggled through the snowdrifts, I just about reached the lowest point in my life. Unless a miracle happened I would be homeless in January, foodless, jobless. I had prayed steadily for weeks, and there had been no answer but this coldness and darkness, this harsh air, this abandonment. God and men had completely forgotten me. I felt old as death, and as lonely. What was to become of us?

I looked in my mailbox. There were only bills in it, a sheaf of them, and two white envelopes which I was sure contained more bills. I went up three dusty flights of stairs, and I cried, shivering in my thin coat. But I made myself smile so I could greet my little daughter with a pretense of happiness. She opened the door for me and threw herself in my arms, screaming joyously and demanding that we decorate the tree immediately.

She was less than six years old, and had been alone all day while I worked. She had set our kitchen table for our evening meal, proudly, and put pans out and the three cans of food which would be our dinner. For some reason, when I looked at those pans and cans, I felt brokenhearted. We would have only hamburgers for our Christmas dinner tomorrow, and gelatin. I stood in the cold little kitchen, and my grief and misery overwhelmed me. For the first time in my life, I doubted the existence of God and His mercy, and the coldness in my heart was colder than ice.

As I climbed the dusty stairs, I couldn't help crying. What was to become of me and my child?

ILLUSTRATIONS BY MAC CONNOR

The doorbell rang, and my little girl ran fleetly to answer it, calling that it must be Santa Claus. Then I heard a man talking heartily to her and went to the door. He was a delivery man and his arms were full of big parcels, and he was laughing at my child's frenzied joy and her dancing. "This is a mistake," I said, but he read the name on the parcels, and they were for me. When he had gone I could only stare at the boxes. Mary and I sat on the floor and opened them. A huge doll, three times the size of the one I had bought for her. Gloves. Candy. A beautiful leather purse! Incredible. I looked for the name of the sender. It was the teacher, who had given her address only as California, where she had apparently moved.

A Sweet Peace Flooded Me

Our dinner that night was the most delicious I had ever eaten. I could only pray in myself, "Thank You, Father." I forgot I had no money for the rent and only $15 in my purse and no job. My child and I ate and laughed together in happiness. Then we decorated the little tree and marveled at it. I put Mary to bed and set up her gifts around the tree, and a sweet peace flooded me like a benediction. I had some hope again. I could even examine the sheaf of bills without cringing. Then I opened the two white envelopes. One contained a check for $30 from a company I had worked for briefly in the summer. It was, said a note, my "Christmas bonus." My rent!

The other envelope was an offer of a permanent position with the government—to begin two days after Christmas. I sat with the letter in my hand and the check on the table before me, and I think that was the most joyful moment of my life up to that time.

The church bells began to ring. I hurriedly looked at my child, who was sleeping blissfully, and ran down to the street. Everywhere people were walking to church to celebrate the birth of the Saviour. I joined the throngs. I was no longer alone. People smiled at me and I smiled back. The storm had stopped, the sky was pure and glittering vividly with stars. I did not know it then, but a great change had taken place in my life, and was waiting just around the corner.

"I Was Never Alone at All"

"The Lord is born!" sang the bells to the crystal night and the laughing darkness. Someone began to sing, "Come, all ye Faithful!" I joined in and sang with the strangers all about me, and we all clasped hands and trooped together into the warm golden light of the church.

"I am not alone at all," I thought, looking at the blazing altar. "I was never alone at all."

And that is the most inspiring thing we can ever learn—that we are never alone. Never alone, not even in the depths of despair and silence and sorrow of our lives, when we appear most friendless, and there seems no answer to our prayers.
